

Subliminal Messages

I don't know if you heard about it yet, but subliminal messages exist in all Disney movies. They are used to indoctrinate the public. These messages are of sexual, or satanic nature. And even though they are hidden and really nothing you would pay attention to (I watched these movies 1000 times and didn't notice), they still make it into your subconsciousness. If you haven't seen it yet, prepare yourself. That's nothing you want to have in your child's brain...

This is the devil's horn. You might know this from rock bands or heavy metal bands. And you could think "that's just what they do." No, it's not "just what they do". It's the sign for Satan. I think we can all agree that metal and rock are not necessarily the most peaceful and quiet music styles out there. Their music is loud, aggressive, and dark (that's at least true for metal). The way metal bands portray themselves is a clear indication of their ideology. If I would picture Satan to making music, that's what it would sound like. That or depressive types of music. He feeds off of negative emotions and aggression.

Anyway, Disney decided obviously that the devil's horn would be a good subliminal message to subconsciously desensitize the world.

Normalizing aggression, violence, and drugs by using a children's favorite, Sesame Street, is a little less subtle, and more of a bold move that could definitely draw some attention. I don't know the public opinion on this, but I know that if I were a mother, my child would not watch Sesame Street again. If you're thinking right now: it's just a show – then you're already indoctrinated enough to view this as normal. Let me tell you – it's not. Because if YOU already think it's normal, then your child will think it's normal. Good luck to future generations.

The little Mermaid – subtle, barely noticeable, and just a short sequence, but nonetheless it's there and already exists in our subconsciousness.

Peter Pan. You could potentially say: That's the shadow of his top. No, it's not. The shape is different, and it is obviously a penis. As the person who drew this, you could just have skipped this part of the shadow because there wouldn't even really be one considering how much higher the tip of that top is. This is intentional. And no, they weren't trying to be funny. This is a movie for children. It's inappropriate and sexualized content.

Another “accident” on the left? I’m sure you’ll start to see a pattern here. But wait, it gets worse...

Now we have breasts in our cartoon. They are clearly not hills. That's, again, intentional.

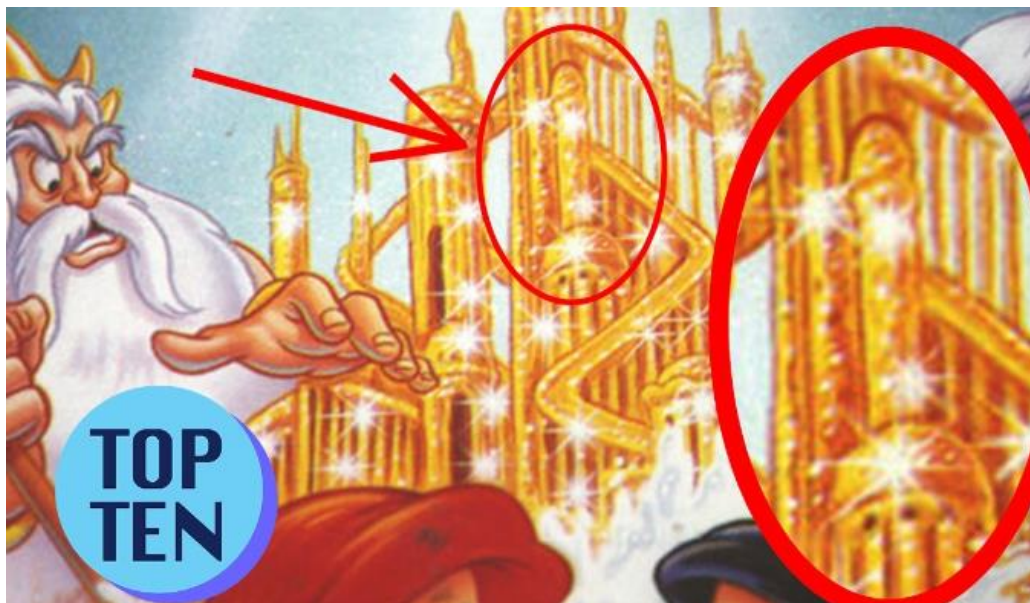

This is one of many cartons, which have the word SEX hidden in some way, shape, or form. I've seen 5 others, but I think this one is enough to illustrate that this is really happening. Please keep in mind that these are not accidents. These illustrations need a human hand to create them.

As Bernard and Bianca fly by the skyscrapers, they pass a window that portrays a naked woman. It's just a split second, but it's there. Do you think this belongs in a cartoon for children?

I don't really have words for this one. I think, this is pretty obvious. After everything you've seen so far, it shouldn't be a question if this could potentially just be a dress. It can't.

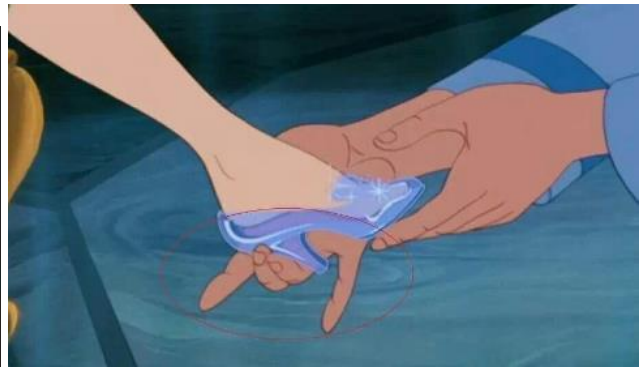

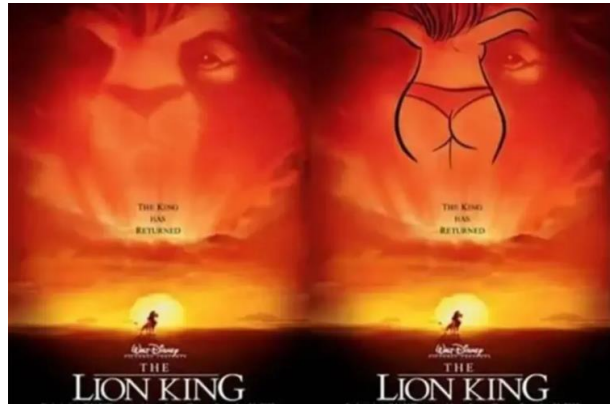

It's literally hidden in plain sight. But once you've seen it, you can't unsee it.

This is not sexualized content. But we all know what that is. You have a swastika in a cartoon for children.
Another normalization of symbols.

I'm just going to drop a couple other ones to make sure you understand that these are no accidents.

Now these are clear signs of the Illuminati. First, it clearly states “The Illuminati” on the chalk board, the poster says, “Ask about Illuminati,” the W, the D and the Y are all written as “6”. 666 is the number for the devil. This is a huge deal in secret societies and also in the Bible. Pluto has the “all-seeing eye” on his skateboard which is another symbol of the Illuminati.

A ride designed by Disney on the left. A blow job and SM on the right. Any more questions?

Disney+ produces a series in which a teenage girl falls in love with Satan and gets pregnant after having a one-night stand with him. It's called "Pauline." It's being produced by a German production company. Disney has openly admitted to its not-so-secret agenda to groom and propagandize our children into the LGBTQ lifestyle as well as grooming children into hatred and division with different shows, such as "Proud Family: Louder and Prouder." Disney's attempt to groom children into the sins of lust and wrath led to parents across the country pulling away from Disney backed projects. The movie "Lightyear" lost $130 million after they tried to promote a lesbian relationship in a kid's film. You might wonder what's wrong with it. You might ask "Shouldn't we all be open and accepting of same-sex-love?" No, we don't have to and shouldn't. This society has lost most of its core values. Homosexuality has never ever been promoted so much as it has in recent years. There is a scheme that the elite have implemented in order to indoctrinate a society, a society which used to have biblical core values and was opposed to homosexuality as based on God's word.

First, we overlook evil.

Then we permit evil.

Then we legalize evil.

Then we promote evil.

Then we celebrate evil.

Then we persecute those who still call it evil.

This is a whole process, and in the end, the people who keep their values, (that everyone had before) and stay true to the word of God, are now the ones that are being persecuted and cursed out for doing what is right and has always been right. To make these people feel even more like outsiders, the elite invent new words to brand these people, like "homophobe," "anti-LGBTQ" or they are being called "problematic" or "hater." Well, if it comes from a Christian, you need to know the following: God created man and woman and they were supposed to become one flesh and to multiply (Genesis 1:28 and Genesis 2:24). Therefore, homosexuality goes against the way God created the world. God also views homosexuality as a sin and it's detestable in His eyes. This is just one of many verses:

1 Corinthians 6:9-10 "Or do you not know that wrongdoers will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived: Neither the sexually immoral nor idolaters nor adulterers nor men who have sex with men nor thieves nor the greedy nor drunkards nor slanderers nor swindlers will inherit the kingdom of God."

So, the stance on homosexuality has nothing to do with homophobia. As Christians, we love all people, good or bad. This is what Jesus taught us before he went to the cross. We love homosexuals as well; we just don't agree with their lifestyle. That's a huge difference. And the reason why we don't agree, is because we stay true to the word of God and follow the Bible, which is the word of God. And we want every soul to be saved. But when you live in sin and don't repent and stop, then you can't be saved. There are people that pretend to believe in God, who agree with this lifestyle. For example, the Pope has changed his view on homosexuality and tries to be inclusive. So, now it is perceived as if all Christians have to do that. You already know that the Catholic Church doesn't have much to do with Christianity. But unfortunately,, because people don't understand that the Pope does not stand for, nor represent all believers, we are being attacked for having a different stance on the topic than the Catholic Church. They do not teach sound biblical doctrines. Therefore, their word is not true to the Bible. The Bible is very clear about homosexuality.

Besides these subliminal messages, look at the messages that are being portrayed, for example, in the little mermaid: Ursula is half human, half animal. Throughout history, humans worshipped gods that where half human half animal. This is Paganism. Many Disney movies are about merging a human being with an animal. This can be traced back to all the pagan gods. And Disney is incorporating this in the movies. Normalizing the sight of it. Making it cute. It's not cute. It's displaying the idols they worship. Believe me, I wish it was about entertaining children, but it's not.

Arielle – a barely dressed fish girl that falls in love with a human. Sea monster Ursula, who is a witch and an octopus, performs dark magic.

The Beauty and the Beast – a woman falls in love with an animal who used to be a man. Barely dressed prostitutes that make satanic hand signs and drooling all over a super masculine, narcissistic male figure (Gaston).

Dumbo – symbolism, pyramids, satanic figures while dumbo is on drugs and has a vivid dream.

And if all of that is not enough to make you think about boycotting them... Do you remember the symbol for “boy lover”? It’s on this Disney DVD of “The Jungle Book.” No, that’s no coincidence. It’s also on these recently produced characters and on trees:

Disney Parks

As a VIP member, you can enter the Disney parks with a hand scanner. They are getting the people ready to accept microchips in their hands, and further down the road, the mark of the beast. Satan uses any opportunity to manipulate and indoctrinate children and their parents. Without noticing it, you start to get used to these scanners. So, when they implement the real deal, the microchips, you won’t have any objections or hesitancy because you’re already used to it, and it’s so convenient and easy. Indoctrination. It’s the same with pride flags all over the parks and schools. When you see it from a young age, it becomes normal as you grow up. They did the same in Nazi Germany.

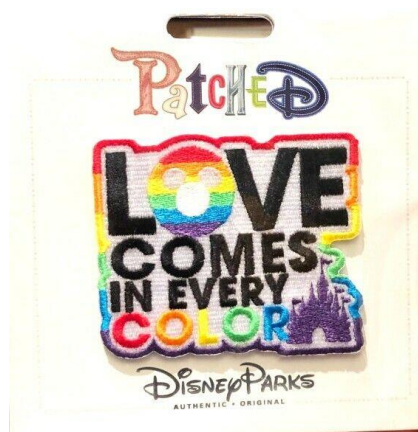

The rainbow is a symbol of God and His covenant with the earth after the flood. The LGBTQ+ community took a biblical symbol and defiled it by misusing it for the representation of their ideology and agenda.

This is despicable, an abomination and a total disgrace to God's creation.

Genesis 9:11-17 "I establish my covenant with you: Never again will all life be destroyed by the waters of a flood; never again will there be a flood to destroy the earth." And God said, "This is the sign of the covenant I am making between me and you and every living creature with you, a covenant for all generations to come: I have set my rainbow in the clouds, and it will be the sign of the covenant between me and the earth. Whenever I bring clouds over the earth and the rainbow appears in the clouds, I will remember my covenant between me and you and all living creatures of every kind. Never again will the waters become a flood to destroy all life. Whenever the rainbow appears in the clouds; I will see it and remember the everlasting covenant between God and all living creatures of every kind on the earth." So, God said to Noah, "This is the sign of the covenant I have established between me and all life on the earth."

It's pride everything. It's excessive and so easy to recognize that there is a major push for this agenda. They say that they want to teach children inclusiveness. But this is not why they are doing it. I really hope you understand this now.

Antichrist – Scenario 2

On page 32 I started to write about the 1st Antichrist scenario. This scenario was tied to everything the elite had planned for this world which I have laid out over the course of the last 173 pages, to the best of my knowledge. And if successful, their plan would pave the way for the one man who will bring about the tribulation period on the day he'll be revealed.

There's something else I haven't talked about yet. I am going to phrase this as a fact, even though there isn't proper proof for it just yet. It's simply easier to write it as facts. The reason why there is no proper proof just yet, is that there is an undercover military operation that has been going on for quite some time. There are signs and some evidence that this is happening, and I'm going to fill you in on what I have learned thus far. I wouldn't talk about it if I didn't believe it to be true. I'm not claiming that I know all the details. Things might be different. I just want to give you an overview about the other potential reality that is out there.

On June 4, 1776, a resolution was introduced in the 2nd Continental Congress, declaring the union with Great Britain was to be dissolved, and one month later, independence was declared, which is known as Independence Day today. In 1789 the United States Constitution took effect and served as the supreme law of the United States. The District of Columbia Organic Act of 1871 repealed the individual charters of the cities of Washington and Georgetown and established a new territorial government for the whole District of Columbia. It was installed as a municipal corporation, which makes the District of Columbia officially a corporation (even though MSM tries to debunk this online). Title 28 U.S. Code § 3002 describes the "United States" as a federal corporation. As such it enslaved the population in its financial system which is built on debt. It's a perpetual bondage of chattel slavery, as it was experienced by African people from 1776 to 1865, and debt slavery, just on a bigger scale. This Machiavellian legislation exists in virtually every United Nations member country in the world. Donald Trump was elected President in 2016. In December 2016, the Law of War manual was updated, including chapters about military occupancy, negotiations etc. In 2016 the Military Justice Act was signed into law and was designed to improve the military justice system with heavy emphasis on Military tribunal terms. In January 2017 Trump became the President of the United States who is also called the CIC (Commander in Chief = the supreme commander of all armed forces of the U.S.). In February 2017, Trump signed Executive Order 13773, which seeks to enforce federal law with respect to transnational criminal organizations and to prevent international trafficking. Here you can see that

Machiavelli

Niccolo Machiavelli was an Italian diplomat, politician, and writer. According to Machiavelli, the ends always justify the means—no matter how cruel, calculating, or immoral those means might be. In "the Prince" he described a successful ruler of a principality as brutal, calculating and, when necessary, utterly immoral. Until Machiavelli's writing, most philosophers of politics had defined a good leader as humble, moral, and honest. Machiavelli shed that notion, saying frankly, "It is better to be feared than loved, if you cannot have both." Moreover, Machiavelli also believed that when leaders are not moral, it's important they pretend they are to keep up appearances. "A prince must always seem to be very moral, even if he is not," he wrote.

In May 2017 Trump took his first trip as president to Saudi Arabi where he received the highest civilian honor, the Collar of Abdulaziz Al Saud Medal.

Trump participated in the dance “Ardah”, which was traditionally performed before a war to display fighting strength and boost morale. King Salman and Trump signed a pledge to “counter violent extremism, disrupt the financing of terrorism and advance defense cooperation. After that meeting, King Salman started to visit major corporations and various people (see documentary on YouTube and Bitchute).

Also in May 2017 Trump met with Pope Francis in the Vatican. The pope didn't look happy at all after the 30-minute meeting. Trump left him with the words: “Thank you, I won't forget what you said.” The pope is a strong supporter of the WEF's “Agenda 30” and puts a lot of emphasis on climate change and the acceptance of migrants of all faiths.

Next stop on his list was Israel where he visited the Western Wall as the first sitting U.S. President. In December of 2017 Trump recognizes Jerusalem as the capital of Israel and announced plans to relocate the US embassy from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem. The status of Jerusalem has been one of the most difficult and sensitive questions in the Israel-Palestinian conflict. The move would cement Israels sovereignty over the city. There were 0 embassies in Jerusalem at that time. Today there are 4. Also in December 2017 by Executive Order 13818, President Trump declared a national emergency with respect to serious human rights abuse and corruption around the world and took steps to deal with the unusual and extraordinary threat to the national security, foreign policy, and economy of the United States. Additionally, this order blocks the property of persons involved in serious human rights abuse or corruption.

In July 2018 Trump visited the Queen. When visiting the Queen, there are certain protocols that need to be followed. Two of them being that no one walks in front of the Queen and people have to bow when meeting her. Trump “violated” both of them and on top of that, he made her wait for him. Does this show disrespect? One might say so, but it is believed that Trump did this to put the Queen in her place, and to demonstrate that he will not show respect to members of the deep state. Trump showed that he is in charge.

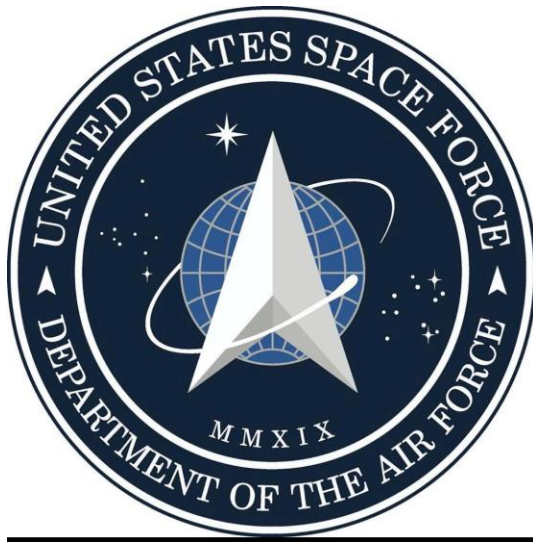

Also in July 2018, Trump and Putin attended a press conference in Helsinki where Putin hands Trump a soccer ball and said “Mr. President I’ll give this ball to you. And now the ball is in your court.” Russia did not host the World Cup that year and the World Cup is not going to be hosted in America until 2026. What did he mean?

In September 2018 by Executive Order 13848, Trump declared a national emergency pursuant to the International Emergency Economic Powers Act (50 U.S.C. 1701 etseq.) to deal with the unusual and extraordinary threat to the national security and foreign policy of the United States constituted by the threat of foreign interference in or undermining public confidence in United States elections. He knew what will happen in the 2020 elections.

In June 2019 Trump makes history when he becomes the first sitting U.S. President to walk into North Korea.

In August 2019 Trump signs Executive Order 13885 enhancing the National Quantum Initiative Advisory Committee). <https://www.whitehouse.gov/briefing-room/presidential-actions/2022/05/04/executive-order-on-enhancing-the-national-quantum-initiative-advisory-committee/> (updated by Biden in 2022)

In December 2019 the Space Force was established as a Military Branch. Until this day, Biden has never been mentioned in connection with Space Force except when they reported that he will not eliminate the Space Force in 2021 and that he's blocking it from moving to Alabama. Considering that he's the alleged leader of the United States and therefore Commander in Chief (CIC), it seems odd that he has nothing to do with this branch at all. Unless he has no part in the U.S. Military simply because Trump is still the CIC.

In March 2020, by proclamation 9994, Trump declared another National Emergency concerning the Coronavirus Disease 2019 Pandemic in which it is mentioned, for the first time, that the virus is a threat, and that it originated from Wuhan, China. MSM and the current democratic government tried to debunk this claim. Anthony Fauci, adviser to Biden and former director of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID), claimed that the US did not fund research in China. But they did give money to an organization that collaborated with the Wuhan Institute of Virology.

<https://www.bbc.com/news/57932699>

Also in March 2020 by Executive Order 13912, in furtherance of proclamation 9994, Trump ordered 1 million members of the Ready Reserve to Active-Duty status. They have been in this status ever since.

In May 2020, Trump says that the Corona virus was worse of an attack than Pearl Harbor and 9/11, indicating that the virus was a bioweapon released by China. In 2023, Japanese scientists found indisputable evidence that all Covid-19 variants were in fact engineered in biolabs and intentionally released on humanity.

In January 2021, National Guard troops place a fence around the Capitol building in the District of Columbia (Title 47 US Code 606). Which seems to have been done in reaction to the January 6th "insurrection" in which alleged Trump supporters stormed the Capitol. This has been officially debunked. This non-existent incident was pushed and used by the Democrats to indict Trump, so he won't be able to run for President again. But the real reason is said to be a completely different one. With the inauguration of Biden on January 20, 2021, the United States of America had two Presidents, one rightfully

(Trump), the other pushed through by the means of election interference. This has been a hot topic in America ever since Biden “won” and Trump insisted that the election was rigged. Until recently, the proof for interference was missing. Then Trump announced that they used watermarked paper for the ballots. This story is to be continued.

On January 20, 2021, the inauguration day of Biden, Trump decided to ditch Biden’s ceremony, and received a 21-gun salute at the Joint Base Andrews (military base) where they also played the song “Hail to the Chief”, which is played at inauguration ceremonies. Does that mean anything? I don’t know. Officially, this was his farewell ceremony. At the end he says: “We’ll be back in some form.”

Quantum.gov was launched in September 2021. It’s a government page explaining everything around the National Quantum Initiative (NQI). Quantum technology is the basis for the new financial system that was rolled out in October 2023. But it has already been running parallel to the old financial system. It’s said to be safer and different than the CBDC (central bank digital currency) that the elite had planned to launch. You might have noticed the bank collapses. This was part of the shift. Every bank that didn’t cooperate with the new system got blown out of business. The idea is to back the money with gold and silver instead of oil. Until 1971, money was tied to gold which gave the money value. Today, money is tied to nothing which makes it basically worthless. The Fiat US Petro Dollar has already been dropped as a basis for international trade. Russia and its allies replaced the dollar with local currencies to purchase oil. Oil has been paid for in dollars around the entire world. I didn’t get too deep into that topic simply because I don’t care enough. But if you want to read more about it, check out “Nesara/Gesara”. There you will find more information.

The New York Times reported that the Pentagon built a new courtroom in Guantanamo Bay’s offshore U.S. prison in which military tribunals are being held, and convicted detainees are sentenced to death. Rumor has it, that this is where all the members of the elite are either being held or have already been convicted and executed. Guantanamo Bay used to be a small prison but has been extended significantly over the last few years.

In August 2022, Space Force took over all military satellite communications from the Department of Defense.

Elon Musk finalized the purchase of the online platform “Twitter” in October 2022, which created a sanctuary for free speech, and cultivated an environment that gave rise to citizen journalism, and now alternative media is dominating legacy media in the information space. Deep state moves are getting called out in real time, before the MSM can establish a narrative. Social media enables a speed that MSM can't keep up with. By the time they are ready to spin reality, citizens have already exposed the facts. Every exposed deep state hoax is now an opportunity to wake up more people. The more they struggle to keep their narrative going, the more they make mistakes and the easier it gets for the citizens to call them out on their blatant attempts to maintain power.

When Trump announced that he's running for President in 2024, he called out a lot of things that I put here in this book. He talked about human trafficking, the border issue, all the ways the Democrats have ruined the country, and many more things that led me to believe that I am on the right path with my research.

During the press conference with Putin, Trump said: "I would rather take a political risk in pursuit of peace than to risk peace in pursuit of politics." And that's what he was working on – peace in the world and especially for the U.S.

I remember him saying that he's "doing it for the children" or to "save the children". This was in reference to child sex trafficking, which he has been fighting.

What I tried to display here is that, everything points to Trump still being in charge.

This counter movement likely started before or around the assassination of John F. Kennedy, former President of the United States, in 1963. He was shot during a parade. He was very well aware of secret societies, the infiltration of the country, subversion, deception, and the role of the press in national security. America has been threatened ever since it became independent, and its enemies do not just simply live across the pond. Invasion is not the imminent threat. No official declaration of war needs to be imposed. The greatest threat comes from within. And Mr. Kennedy knew that. He addressed one of the main threats to national security - the press (<https://www.jfklibrary.org/archives/other-resources/john-f-kennedy-speeches/american-newspaper-publishers-association-19610427>). Shortly after, he was assassinated. But his fight to save the nation did not die with him.

Here is something you can watch to understand my point better. However, I don't think that everything is 100% true in this documentary. The research in regard to the sword dance is wrong. And some facts about the Western Wall visit. But a lot of it makes sense. You can form your own opinion about it.

BitChute Part 2: <https://www.bitchute.com/video/mNu449MHXU5H/>

Trump's mission, ever since he took over the office in 2017, is to stop the elite's "Great Reset", along with all of their corrupt businesses and doings. He wants to restore the constitutional republic from before 1871, when cities/countries were not corporations, and central banks did not hold the power over the people. This process took many, many years and has been done by the means of infiltration rather than bluntly destroying their satanic web. Trump wants the people to wake up and realize that they have been enslaved for the last 150 years, and that they have been ruled by corrupt and evil rulers, that don't have their best interest at heart. These rulers did anything to solidify their power, keep the common people small, poor, and sick, and to establish their plan to minimize the population of the earth in order to support themselves and their circle with little to no competition. If anyone talks about climate change or how helpful vaccines are, know that this person is part of this evil set up. The one and only goal was to create chaos, wreck every existing system and “build back better” – a new order. You can literally find them talking about this everywhere, it’s not a secret.

Trump obviously doesn’t fight this “war” by himself. With him, most likely still being the Commander in Chief – the official President of the United States – due to the rigged election, he has the might of the US military behind him. He also has multiple nations on his side (Russia, Saudi Arabia etc.) and their military, with whom he takes on the fight for freedom, justice, and peace in this world. The public heard about this for the first time when the political Q-movement came into existence in 2017. Someone who signed his posts with “Q” is said to have a level of US security approval known as Q-clearance which allows him insights that he started to share in, more or less, cryptic messages. These messages became known as Q-drops. In them he revealed that Donald Trump is waging a secret war against the elite, Satan-worshipping pedophiles in government, business, and media. The MSM (mainstream media) took care of this by debunking Q as a conspiracy. Which should already tell us that there’s more to it than they make people believe. Anything is called a conspiracy when they want to take away its credibility. This has happened way too often to ignore this fact. The word “conspiracy” has turned into a tool for the elite to do away with topics, beliefs or movements that go against their ideology or plans. Best example is the attack on the World Trade Center on 9/11/2001. Many people and witnesses have come forward in the last 22 years who told an entirely different story about the events that took place that day. People were able to prove that this event was an inside job, not caused by Islamic terrorists but by our very own government. Why? To justify the war and a military occupation of the Middle East in an attempt to enrich themselves with oil, uranium, and other commodities. This has never been about terrorists. More people know about this now, but by far not enough. They made sure of it. There were several people that tried to come forward who have been silenced – “coincidentally” they died of suicide or plane crashes. And anyone who dared to speak up was called a conspiracy theorist. These are CIA tactics. I have more on that topic, but you can easily find information about it online. This was just one example for the weaponization of this word “conspiracy”. And Q and his followers became victims to it, too. Now, I would potentially feel tempted to believe the MSM if there wasn’t so much evidence for Q. Not just that, but everything Q dropped is coming true now. Think about that. People were talking about a pedophile elite for 6 years and were debunked as conspiracy theorists, and now – people will have to admit that they were right all along. And the MSM has only two options now: either they expose the reality of the situation, or they cover for these pedophiles which in turn will most definitely wake up the majority of the people to the corruption of the media. When you look at the big picture, everything points to Trump fighting the good fight. You’ll see it when you look at how much effort the MSM puts into smearing Trump’s name and reputation, and how much they try to indict him on criminal charges to put him away for life. These charges are baseless allegations. At least when it comes to the charge of enticing the January 6th attack on the US Capitol. This has already been proven wrong (inclusive video material), yet they don’t give up on pushing their narrative onto the public. They are trying so hard to keep the bad picture of Donald Trump going. Me personally, I’m not a fan of politics regardless of who is up there. My personal focus is not on any of this. But if I would have to choose between child-raping and -trafficking, demonic, cannibalistic pedophiles, and Trump, then I have to go with Trump. I want safety for the children and the end of the world-enslaving elite. This whole process, even though you might not be aware of it, started to get slowly revealed in the last few years. The plan is to feed it to the public in small portions. If they would reveal it all at the same time, many people would literally go insane over their new reality. Just imagine that nothing you believe to know would be true, and all of a sudden you would be confronted with a totally new reality. No one would be able to take that. That’s psychologically impossible. But if you are being woken up slowly, and start to question your reality, you have a chance to make it out of it with your sanity mostly intact. And Trump and the military know that. Watch “Leave the World Behind” on Netflix. It’s supposed to have been produced by a production company that belongs to the Obamas, but everything in the movie points to Trump allies that used the Obamas to get the topic out to all democrats and liberals. In this movie they tell you their plans for the world. The plans of the elite. You have to learn why there is a need for Trump in order to appreciate him. So, please watch it. It’s not really good, but what is said is important for you to be able to understand the plan.

With Trump fighting the cabal, it is said that there have been military tribunals put in place under the Judge Advocate General's Corps of the United States Army, also known as JAG, which is the legal arm of the United States Army. They supposedly started in 2017 and have tried and executed a lot of people for treason already. I don’t know if that’s true, we will see. That’s just what I read, and I want to give you the full picture.

The old system wants you divided, lonely, depressed, failed, dependent and broke. The new system wants you to be successful, fruitful, happy, healthy, fed, united and at peace. You need to start recognizing the oppression you live in. You are a slave to your country and the people that are running it. You are a slave to money. You have no freedom. You follow the masses because it’s comfortable, easy and commonly excepted (remember Gustave Le Bon!). Instead of standing up for your rights you let them push you around, manipulate you, and limit you in all aspects of life. Wake up! Open your eyes and look at the world around you.

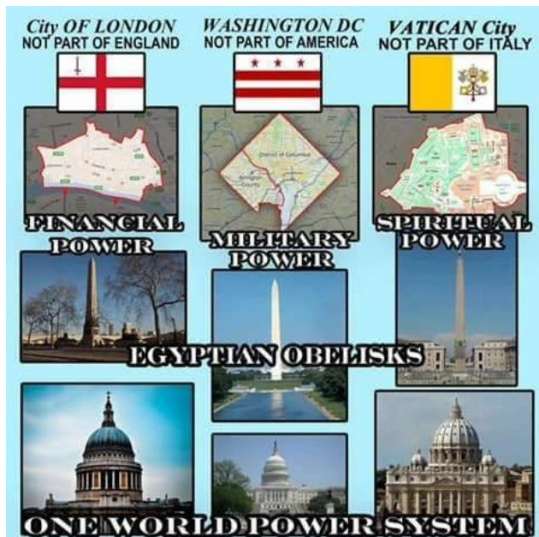

Have you ever noticed the amount of arrests in cases of pedophilia and human trafficking in several countries in 2023? Did you notice the military presence and shutdown of the governmental district of Washington DC? What is frazzle drip? Why did Demi Moore kiss a little boy as if that’s totally normal? Why does Taylor Swift look like Zeena LaVey? Did cloning go beyond sheep? Did you ever question the beginning of the “war” between Israel and Gaza? Did you ever wonder why US troops are still in the Middle East even though there’s no apparent and current “terrorist” threat? Why didn’t they reveal the Epstein client list until now? Why did they get rid of the footage of the January 6th “insurrection”? Why is everything in our lives aimed to reduce carbon emissions when there is no climate change? Did you hear of the company “Hyperflesh”? Why did NY firefighters report detonation sounds, and told people that the collapse of the World Trade center looked like a controlled demolition? And why did building 7, which did not get hit, fall like in a controlled demolition? Who held the camera to film Neil Armstrong when he stepped onto the moon's surface as the first man? And why was the moon landing crew so miserable after their trip during a press conference? Why is there a no-flight-zone over Antarctica? Why are videos of the destructive power of nuclear bombs filmed using miniature models of houses? Why did they use uranium in lotion and soaps back then? Why do rockets not go straight up into the universe but fly parallel to the firmament? What is Guantanamo Bay and what is happening in Guam? Why do we have hurricanes when there are technologies that can re-direct or stop them? Do I have chem trails where I live? What is carbon dating and why is it a lie? What is a heart attack gun? Why do they want to feed us fake meat? Why are we being forced into getting vaccinated when there is more than enough evidence that vaccines are harmful to our health and often fatal? Why do so many people get silenced or die when they speak against the narrative? Why do doctors still prescribe chemotherapy and radiation when it has been proven to kill 98% of the patients? Why did the guy who invented a car that runs on water die suddenly? Why do we have after school Satan clubs? What do satanic rituals look like? Why do companies feel the need to portray little children in combination with satanic symbolism? Why are so many people against the Bible even though they never read it? Why do people feel the need to mock Jesus all the time, but no one mocks "Allah" or "Buddha"? Why did we have laws that allowed the abortion of a baby 28 days after birth? What is free energy? What is the Blue Beam Project? Who are the Nephilim? Why are we not being taught about giants? Where are all the missing children? Who are the Khazarian Jewish? Who owns the central banks/ Federal Reserve/ IRS?

Who is the Elite?

For the longest, I refused to speculate on that, BUT... after all my studies, research, reading, and connecting I came to the conclusion that the elite is the CATHOLIC CHURCH. That doesn't mean it's a fact. That's my very own conclusion.

Why do I believe that? Well, I reviewed all my information and reduced them to a few key elements:

We have (or had) 3 city states. Washington D.C., City of London and Vatican City. These 3 states operated independently from all other existing states even though they were within the borders of a bigger country. We know that the Rothschilds are the money and that they operated in London and the US. Therefore, they are a part of the elite, but I don't believe they are the head of all the evil. I believe the ultimate "ruler" of the world is the Catholic Church. They existed and had established their wealth way before the Rothschilds. The Church has been ruling the nations for centuries. They have (or had) vast lands and unimaginable riches. The Bible points to the Catholic Church as well in Revelation 17 and 18.

Happening NOW

We are on the threshold of a new era; the avalanche is rolling and almost 1000 pages of unsealed Epstein documents have been released. These documents show that “Q” and all of his followers were right from the very beginning. Epstein, and the government, compromised celebrities, pedophiles, foreign presidents, and leaders. As people work through the documents, more and more names will come to light. Q said that crimes against children would unite all people across party lines. And this is what is happening right now. If you’d like to learn more about Jeffrey Epstein, there’s a documentary on Netflix. However, it is becoming apparent that the MSM have already stopped reporting on it again. Have you noticed that not one of those usually outspoken “stars” from Hollywood or the music industry have come forward? You should ask yourself why. No one from that corner is speaking out about child trafficking and abuse, except Ashton Kutcher and Mel Gibson.

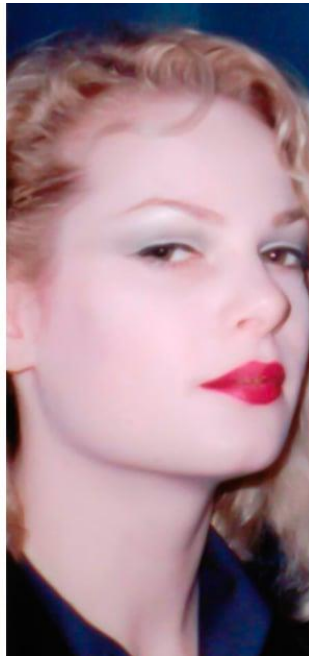

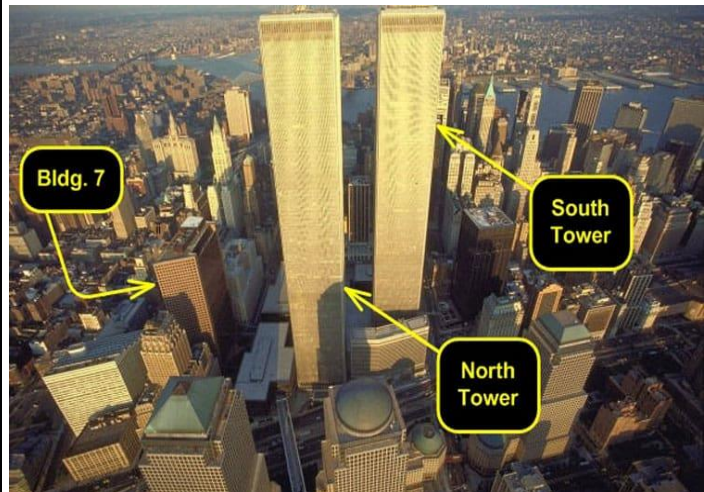

- Trump was taken off the ballots in Colorado and Maine to prevent him from becoming president.
- The Houthi attacks in protest over the Israel-Gaza war in the Red Sea disrupted shipping on one of the busiest shipping routes - the Suez Canal - and led the Taiwanese container shipping company “Evergreen” to suspend shipping service with Israel. [the U.S. is supporting Israel’s and Taiwan’s independence – Q mentioned that Evergreen is linked to Hillary Clinton and child sex trafficking, and Hillary’s husband Bill Clinton is now officially tied to pedophilia based on the Epstein documents. Furthermore it has been said that Israel/Gaza is a stronghold for child trafficking – they have huge tunnel systems that have been found.]
- The war in Ukraine is over. Russia won. It’s not official yet but will be. Ukraine is said to be another stronghold for organ harvesting and biolabs for the U.S.
- Royals: Rumors surfaced about Prince Charles leaving the throne soon. Prince Andrew, who is a son of Queen Elizabeth II, is officially named in the Epstein documents. He’s accused of underage sex. In addition, there are pictures of him and Epstein, as well as a victim who testified against them. Many royals are now “ill”, in the hospital, or have undergone surgery. Whatever the case may be, they have disappeared from the scene, and we have to ask ourselves, “why?”
- Lord Jacob Rothschild has died. I spoke about this family in the chapter “Secret Societies”. They owned the banking system. With the takeover of the central banking system by the quantum financial system, and in addition to the closure of many banks, the Rothschild family is also starting to disappear. Lord Jacob Rothschild is by no means the only Rothschild to have died.
- Henry Kissinger, America’s most prolific war criminal, died.
<https://www.thegatewaypundit.com/2023/12/techno-fog-henry-kissinger-americas-most-prolific-war/>
- After Wayfair and Amazon, now Etsy is suspected of selling children and child porn on their website.
- Several countries have seen a severe uptick in mortality ever since 2021 (first authorized covid vaccine in December 2020). These deaths have been linked to the vaccines, not infections. The International Court of Justice in Den Haag received a criminal charge against Ursula von der Leyen, Bill Gates, and Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus (head of WHO) for being mainly responsible for endangering the lives of 450 million EU citizens through the BioNTech/Pfizer vaccine.
- German workers are finally on the streets and are protesting against the government. For now it’s just the famers, hopefully the rest of the citizens will follow. The German government wrecked the economy through their open border policies and unending support for Ukraine and Israel.

These are just a few of the things that are happening. 2024 is going to be an interesting year. You need to be careful who you're listening to. Fact checkers are everywhere, and they use Gustave Le Bon's tactics – mass psychology. If enough sources say that something is a certain way – let's say, they insist that Trump wanted to overthrow the government – and enough fact checkers and media report on this, people are more inclined to believe it because it seems that there is some consistency and agreement. Therefore people believe that it is true, even though it's not. Don't just believe everything you're told. Just because many outlets say the same, doesn't mean it's fact. They all have the same agenda. Don't forget that. 2024 is going to be challenging because the deception is great and will get worse as we go.

Photo Dump

I am going to do a little photo dump. There is so much more out there. I think I only scratched the surface. These are some topics I didn't talk about in depth or at all. And that's still not all there is.

In June 2006, after pleading guilty to a single state charge of soliciting prostitution from girls as young as 14,[26] Epstein began serving an 18 month sentence. He served 13 months, and upon release became a registered level three (high risk of re-offense) sex offender.[27][28]

How many of your friends / known associates turned out to be convicted pedophiles?

John David Podesta (born January 8, 1949) is the former chairman of the 2016 Hillary Clinton presidential campaign.[1] He previously served as chief of staff to President Bill Clinton and Counselor to President Barack Obama.[2]

He is the former president, and now Chair and Counselor, of the Center for American Progress (CAP), a liberal think tank in Washington, D.C., as well as a Visiting Professor of Law at the Georgetown University Law Center. Additionally, he was a co-chairman of the Obama-Biden Transition Project.[3][4]

Anthony T. Podesta, commonly known as Tony Podesta, is an American lobbyist best known for founding the Podesta Group.[1] Podesta has lobbied for a variety of groups, including Bank of America, BP,[1] and Egypt[2] in addition to political campaigns such as Ted Kennedy, George McGovern, Michael Dukakis, and Bill Clinton. More recently, he has worked for Pennsylvania Democratic representatives Joe Sestak, Chris Carney, and Patrick Murphy, and chaired former Pennsylvania Gov. Ed Rendell's reelection campaign.[3] He is closely connected with the Barack Obama White House[4] and has repeatedly been named one of Washington's most powerful lobbyists and fundraisers.[5][6][7]

"Capital must protect itself in every possible way, both by combination and legislation. Debts must be collected, mortgages foreclosed as rapidly as possible.

When, through process of law, the common people lose their homes, they will become more docile and more easily governed through the strong arm of the government applied by a central power of wealth under leading financiers. These truths are well known among our principal men, who are now engaged in forming an imperialism to govern the world.

By dividing the voter through the political party system, we can get them to expend their energies in fighting for questions of no importance.

It is thus, by discrete action, we can secure for ourselves that which has been so well planned and so successfully accomplished."

Reprinted in the Idaho Leader, USA, on 26th August 1924, and has been read into the Australian Federal Hansard twice: by John Evans MP, in 1926, and by MD Cowan MP, in the session of 1930-31.

QUESTION YOUR REALITY! I'll say it again: You have been indoctrinated. Things have been bad for a very long time, but they will change now. Look around. Pay attention. Nothing is as it seems.

Does all of that mean that the world will not end, and Jesus won't come back? When Trump brings down the elite and their plans, this ultimately calls for a new political system. I have already spoken about the Bible alluding to the revived Roman Empire. Of course, it will not return as it was then, but the spirit of this empire has manifested itself in our time. This can be seen in the anti-Christian behavior of the world, the pagan behavior of the people with their idols and rituals, the distraction of the masses through various forms of entertainment and sporting events (as in the Colosseum back then), the brutality and corruption of the leaders of this world, etc. We definitely find ourselves in a modern Rome.

What will this new political system look like? I honestly have no idea. But I could see how the Bible will prove itself right again, as always. I could see that they will potentially reduce the number of individual countries in the world which accumulate to about 193 as of right now. And if not that, then there could be somehow 10 countries that will step up and become the most influential countries in the world which will make the decisions for the world. And this would lead to or be the one-world government. And out of these 10 countries would come forth the Antichrist who will subdue 3 of these countries. Or another option could be that the United States somehow rises up to be THE world power and would produce 10 leaders within it who will make decisions for the world. This is just me guessing, we can't really know right now what it ultimately will be. The Bible speaks of peace before the tribulation begins. I can see how Trump could bring that peace. Israel will be an unsuspecting nation without walls and without gates (Ezekiel 38:11). Israel hasn't had peace ever since she became a nation in 1948. Therefore, we know that this hasn't happened yet. We are still waiting for the attack on Israel from Russia and its allies. This war will take place at the beginning of the great tribulation. Why? No one knows. Natural gas, which Israel has an abundance of, has the potential to create a reason for a war. Or religious differences. Who knows. But Satan won't just give up and go to sleep because Trump won the fight over the cabal. Evil won't just disappear. So, we'll have the one world government, and we'll have the digital currency. Our advances in technology will be used by the Antichrist. There will be a second person who will exercise all the authority of the Antichrist on his behalf. I believe you could look at them like the President and his Vice President. I don't know if that will be the terms they'll use. They are going to use AI to punish anyone who doesn't worship the Antichrist and they will also use AI to limit everyone's ability to buy and sell. This is where the microchip implants will come into play, which we already know exist.

You see, as noble and as honorable it is of Trump to fight evil, it is not going to prevent the prophecies from taking place. If anything, it sets the stage even better than the cabal would have been able to. Do I think Trump is the Antichrist? I don't know, but I don't think so. I think it's going to be someone we are not aware of at the moment. Someone who will come out of these 10 nations. On the other hand, he could be. He's already presenting himself as the savior. I guess we will have to wait and see.

If the elite would somehow win this battle and force their agenda on the world, we would end up with an authoritarian slave system in which no one has any personal rights or freedoms. It surely would bring forth the one world government, religion, and digital currency, just in a way that would be forceful. And I don't see how they could bring about peace. But considering that a lot of people have already woken up to the fact that our reality is not what it presents itself to be, I don't see their success in the end. All evidence points to the secret war led by Trump. This is my personal opinion. This is what I have found to be closest to reality. There are no teachings or thoughts in connection with Trumps fight, and the rise of the Antichrist on the internet as far as I am aware. This is what I connected for myself.

Antichrist scenario 1 is the world you're living in, and if not stopped right now, will lead to a very uncomfortable future in which you have no rights, health, freedom, autonomy, real food, or power over your life going forward, culminating in the rise of the Antichrist under really horrific conditions. Antichrist scenario 2 will give you rights, temporary peace, and freedom, which then will turn into a nightmare as soon as the Antichrist rises up. One is favorable over the other, yet both will result in the same outcome. The Bible has been clear for millennia, and you are given the chance to see and hear, so that you can determine your personal future. This is about all I can do for you. What you will make of it, is up to you.

Proof of the End Times

This entire book is proof for the end times. But according to the title of my book, I'd like to give you a short summary of the most significant prophecies and their foreseeable fulfillment that will point to the fact that we are literally in the last days of this world.

- 1) The Temple in Jerusalem will be built. This is not a question of "if" but rather of "when". According to Daniel 9:27, which says: "He will confirm a covenant with many for one 'seven' (7 years). In the middle of the 'seven' he will put an end to sacrifice and offering. And at the temple (in Hebrew: wing) he will set up an abomination that causes desolation, until the end that is decreed is poured out on him.", there will be a 3rd temple in Jerusalem, in which the Jews will offer sacrifices again. There has been a plan to build this temple for several years now. All the objects and furniture that is to go inside the temple have been built. They want to re-enact the ceremony from the Old Testament described in Numbers 19:1-5, in which they have to sacrifice an unblemished red heifer to purify the priests for service. All of this is in the making. The red heifers are alive today and are being held in Israel. The ceremony has to take place before the temple is being built. What is missing at the moment is the permit to build the temple. So, the fact that they are in the process of getting this temple set up is huge in regard to Bible prophecy, considering there hasn't been a temple in 1954 years. In this verse from Daniel, it also says that the Antichrist will make a covenant (here: confederate or peace deal) with "many" meaning many nations for 7 years. This is where I think Trump could potentially come in and take over this role, just based on the evidence that I've seen. He has the character, and he also seems to be in a position in which he can take on a role like that. He also seems to have authority to exalt himself above other nations by the means of deception. The deception in this case is, that he's placing himself among Christians by holding up a Bible, getting rid of the enslaving financial system, and fighting for the most vulnerable individuals in the world – the children. This will earn him the respect and trust of the nations. Yet, everything he does leads us to a new world order, in which he could potentially take on the role of the leader who will have complete autocratic control. A leader who will bring the world together in peace, establish a new financial system (Quantum Financial System) for the entire world, and install new AI operated systems (think: Starlink, microchips etc.). Everything that is needed to fulfill Revelation 13 is basically in place. I'm happy to go into more detail for anyone who's interested.
- 2) This leads right into the prophecy from Ezekiel 38 and the formation of the forces that will go against Israel. As I had already mentioned before, at this point BRICS consists of nearly all of the anticipated nations that will attack Israel. A union like this did not exist before.
- 3) Revelation 13 is talking about great signs and wonders performed by the beast and a second beast. Revelation 13:11-18 "Then I saw a second beast, coming out of the earth. It had two horns like a lamb, but it spoke like a dragon. It exercised all the authority of the first beast on its behalf, and made the earth and its inhabitants worship the first beast, whose fatal wound had been healed. And it performed great signs, even causing fire to come down from heaven to the earth in full view of the people. Because of the signs it was given power to perform on behalf of the first beast, it deceived the inhabitants of the earth. It ordered them to set up an image in honor of the beast who was wounded by the sword and yet lived. The second beast was given power to give breath to the image of the first beast, so that the image could speak and cause all who refused to worship the image to be killed. It also forced all people, great and small, rich, and poor, free and slave, to receive a mark on their right hands or on their foreheads, so that they could not buy or sell unless they had the mark, which is the name of the beast or the number of its name. This calls for wisdom. Let the person who has insight calculate the number of the beast, for it is the number of a man. That number is 666."

When the Bible talks about signs and wonders you have to remember that they didn't have AI, holograms, a project blue beam etc. 2000 years ago. For John it seemed like signs and wonders. And it might seem this way for a lot of people today as well, considering that not everyone knows about the technologies that exist. It wouldn't be too hard to make it seem like there's fire coming down from heaven. The image that will be set up could be anything from a hologram to an AI generated person on a monitor. This is not difficult either. The mark in the right hand (which already exists) and the forehead (something Elon Musk could provide) can be implanted without difficulty. The fact that this system can determine who can sell or buy clearly indicates a financial system that is global, controllable, and programmable. The number of the beast (666) is a very clear indicator for Satanic worship, which, if you were able to see and understand, is so extremely present in our society. Hollywood, the music industry, and uncountable companies all over the world seem to have no other focus anymore. Everything is centered around satanic symbolism, worship, rituals, abominable behavior, and evil in all forms. Deception and manipulation has never been greater than now. The current state of the world is THE proof for the end times and the technological achievements are the confirmation for things to come, prophesied 2000 years ago.

Additional Teaching

The Truth About Other Religions

Islam

Muslims worship Allah. Like Christians, Muslims completely submit their life to their god. They believe that Allah's word was given to the prophet Muhammad through the angel Gabriel, who exists in the Bible as well. They also believe that several prophets were sent to teach Allah's law which makes them respect some of the Christian prophets (Moses, Abraham, Noah, and Jesus – Jesus being viewed as a prophet not the Messiah). The Quran is the major holy textbook of Islam. It consists of 4 books – Sira, Hadith, Tafsir and Tarikh. They believe in the day of judgement and life after death. I am going to make a case against the Islamic belief and will show, why Muslims don't have a reliable base for their faith. Not in an attempt to insult, this is simply based on research and can be looked up.

The prophet Muhammad was born in Mecca in 570 AD. He started preaching in about 613 AD. He died in 632 AD. This is what they have been told. Yet the Sira, which is the biography of Muhammad, was not revealed until 201 years after his death (by Ibn Hisham and Al Waqidi). The collection of the sayings of Muhammad have not been collected until 915 AD. And the Tafsir and Tarikh didn't come into existence until 923 AD. This is all too late. That's nearly 300 years after his death. None of the people, who put this together has either lived or met Muhammad. The other problem is the issue of distance. The Islamic traditions say that everything happened in Mecca and Medina. Yet, all of the writers worked in Baghdad (1200 miles north), Cairo (990 miles north), Tabaristan (1700 miles north) or Bukhara (2600 miles north). They were all too far away.

In comparison, all of the New Testament writers lived in the same place Jesus lived, and they either knew him personally, or they got material from others who saw what he did and heard what he said. The earliest sayings and biographies were written 15-60 years later. Islam's texts were written 200-300 years later, and from over 1000 miles away from where Muhammad was supposed to have lived.

Now, it gets even more sketchy for Islam. The man whom the Muslims are dependent on to know who their prophet is or what he did, is an elderly German, who wrote Muhammad's story in 1860 – Heinrich Ferdinand Wustefeld, who compiled the Sira from libraries and museums in 4 German cities. This was translated by a man called Alfred Guillaume. In 1967 Fouad Sezgin compiled another Sira from documents found in Morocco. The history of Islam is a later fabrication. Islam, as we know it, did not exist in the 7th century. The questions we have to ask are: Why did it take so long to write it all down? Where did they get their material from? Can it be trusted if it was written so late? Shouldn't we go to the 7th century, and see what we find? When you look at rock inscriptions, you won't find any evidence for Islam before 690 AD. It was only from 730 AD onwards that there's evidence of popular devotion to Muhammad as a prophet and messenger, which makes the Islamic traditions a little awkward. This casts doubt on whether Muhammad had any part in starting Islam. The earliest copies of the Qur'an existed in the 7th century, and we don't have even one of these copies today. The 6 copies that existed later don't agree with each other, are not complete, and none of them fully agree with the current 1924 "Hafs" text, which was selected in Cairo out of 30 different versions of the Qur'an. So, when was there a complete Qur'an?

Islam depends on 3 things – the book (Qur'an), the man (Muhammad) and the place (Mecca). The religion can't stand on 2 legs. If you prove 1 leg wrong, the whole chair falls.

Muslims claim that Mecca is the oldest and best-known city in history. Therefore, it should be one of the best documented places in history since it is the center of Islam, right? It isn't. The earliest literary reference of Mecca's existence was in 741 AD. The earliest maps don't show Mecca until 900 AD. At the time Muhammad was supposed to have lived, Mecca was a desert with no civilization.

Scholars and historians found that there was a pre-Islamic Christian Hymnal hidden in the Qur'an, and that much of the Qur'an comes from previous Christian lectionaries, Homilies, and Hymns, which were all about JESUS.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=40DclW84HkM> It's a teaching from Jay Smith at Calvary Chapel Chino Hills with the title "Investigating Islam." I just scratched the surface of his teaching.

When I'm done with this book I will study the origins of the changed worldview in the western civilization. I want to figure out who was involved in the shift from Bible teaching to this whole agenda. I can already see how the development of Islam was a tool to rid the world of the Bible, just looking at the time Wustenfled came up with the story of Muhammad. If anyone is interested in that, please send me an email.

Mormons

This is another, misguided religion. Supposedly based on the Bible. Yet they have their own version of the Bible (The Book of Mormon), which was written by a guy named Joseph Smith in the late 1820s. It is not clear what the Mormons are, but they surely look like a sect or cult to the outside world. Mormonism includes significant doctrines of eternal marriage (not in the Bible), eternal progression, baptism for the dead (what?), polygamy (absolutely not!) or plural marriage and other things. After Smith died, various groups split from the Church and followed their own ideology. None of this is biblical and therefore unfitting to be followed if you care about your eternal life.

Judaism

Dictionary definitions of a "Jew" include "a member of the tribe of Judah," "an Israelite," "a member of a nation existing in the land of Israel from the 6th century B.C. to the 1st century A.D.," "a person belonging to a continuation through descent or conversion of the ancient Jewish people," and "one whose religion is Judaism."

There are five main forms or sects of Judaism in the world today. The beliefs and requirements in each group differ dramatically; however, a short list of the traditional beliefs of Judaism would include the following:

1. God is the creator of all that exists; He is one, incorporeal (without a body), and He alone is to be worshiped as absolute ruler of the universe.

2. The first five books of the Hebrew Bible were revealed to Moses by God. They will not be changed or augmented in the future.
3. God has communicated to the Jewish people through prophets.
4. God monitors the activities of humans; He rewards individuals for good deeds and punishes evil.

Although Christians base much of their faith on the same Hebrew scriptures as Jews do, there are major differences in belief: Jews generally consider actions and behavior to be of primary importance; beliefs come out of actions. This conflicts with conservative Christians who believe that faith comes first, and actions follow.

Jewish belief does not accept the Christian concept of original sin (the belief that all people have inherited Adam and Eve's sin when they disobeyed God's instructions in the Garden of Eden).

Judaism affirms the inherent goodness of the world and its people as creations of God.

Jewish believers seek to sanctify their lives and draw closer to God by fulfilling mitzvot (divine commandments).

Judaism says that no savior is needed or is available as an intermediary, which contradicts the teachings of the Old Testament. But somehow, they don't realize that.

The 613 commandments found in Leviticus and other books regulate all aspects of Jewish life. The Ten Commandments, as delineated in Exodus 20:1-17 and Deuteronomy 5:6-21, are the most important laws.

According to Judaism, the Messiah ("anointed one of God") will arrive in the future and gather Jews once more into the land of Israel. There will be a general resurrection of the dead at that time. The Jerusalem temple, destroyed in AD 70 by the Romans, will be rebuilt. Beliefs about Jesus vary considerably. Some view Him as a great moral teacher. Others see Him as a false prophet or as an idol of Christianity. Some sects of Judaism will not even say His name due to the prohibition against saying an idol's name. But there are messianic Jews who believe in Jesus. These Jews read Isaiah 53 and understood what God was telling them.

Buddhism

While Buddhism is largely an "Eastern" religion, it is becoming increasingly popular and influential in the Western world. It is a unique religion in its own right, though it has much in common with Hinduism in that both teach Karma (cause-and-effect ethics), Maya (the illusory nature of the world), and Samsara (the cycle of reincarnation). Buddhists believe that the ultimate goal in life is to achieve "enlightenment" as they perceive it. This should remind you of something I talked about earlier – enlightenment – Illuminati – Satan...? Classical Buddhism tends to be silent on the reality of an ultimate being and is therefore considered atheistic. The Buddha never considered himself to be a god or any type of divine being. Rather, he considered himself to be a 'way-shower' for others. Only after his death was he exalted to god status by some of his followers, though not all of his followers viewed him that way.

Hinduism

Though Hinduism is often understood as being polytheistic (believe in multiple deities), supposedly recognizing as many as 330 million gods, it also has one "god" that is supreme—Brahma. Brahma is an entity believed to inhabit every portion of reality and existence throughout the entire universe. Brahma is both impersonal and unknowable and is often believed to exist in three separate forms: Brahma—Creator; Vishnu—Preserver; and Shiva—Destroyer. These “facets” of Brahma are also known through the many other incarnations of each. It is difficult to summarize Hindu theology since the various Hindu schools contain elements of almost every theological system. Observing other schools, Hinduism can also be atheistic, deistic, or even nihilistic. With such diversity included under the title “Hindu,” one may wonder what makes them “Hindu” in the first place? About the only real issue is whether or not a belief system recognizes the Vedas as sacred. If it does, then it is Hindu. If not, then it is not Hindu. Hinduism views mankind as divine. Because Brahma is everything, Hinduism asserts that everyone is divine. Which brings us back to the garden of Eden and the snake telling Adam and Eve that they can be like God. Therefore we can see the satanic influence in this religion as well.

You see all these religions, with the exception of Judaism, have no solid base for their faith. There’s no history, there are no books or events to back up their claims. They are either a brainchild, fantasy or made-up stories using the Bible as a base and tweaking the events to create something that suits their interests. Christianity, which isn’t a religion but purely faith, based on the Old and New Testament, in which history is recorded in great detail, easy to follow up on and provable beyond doubt, is the only belief that can stand its ground before the world. Not only was the existence of Jesus recorded in the Bible, but it was also recorded by secular Romans, first in the great census of Jesus’ time and later they recorded the events around His crucifixion – his death, burial and resurrection. Romans, who did not believe in the God of the Bible gave an account for the life and death of Jesus.

Why “being good” doesn’t get you into heaven.

If you ask most people what you have to do to get into heaven (assuming they believe in heaven or an afterlife), the overwhelming response will be some form of “be a good person.” Most, if not all, religions and worldly philosophies are ethically based. Whether it’s Islam, Judaism, or secular humanism, the teaching is common that getting to heaven is a matter of being a good person—following the Ten Commandments or the precepts of the Quran or the Golden Rule (“In everything, do to others what you would have them do to you.”). But this is not what Christianity is teaching.

Who can be saved? If left up to man alone, no one! Why is being a good person not enough to get you into heaven? Because no one is a “good” person; there is only One who is good, and that is God Himself. No one can keep the Law perfectly. The Bible says that “for all have sinned and fallen short of the glory of God.” (Romans 3:23). The Bible also says, “For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.” (Romans 6:23). Fortunately, God did not just give up on us, but gives us a chance to be able to come home: “But God demonstrates his own love for us in this: While we were still sinners, Christ died for us.” (Romans 5:8).

Salvation is not based on our goodness but on Jesus’ goodness. If we confess with our mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in our hearts that God raised him from the dead, we will be saved (Romans 10:9).

This salvation in Christ is a precious gift, and, like all true gifts, it is unearned (Romans 6:23; Ephesians 2:8–9). The message of the gospel is that we can never be good enough to get to heaven. We must recognize that we are sinners who fall short of God’s glory, and we must obey the command to repent of our sins and place our faith and trust in Jesus Christ. Christ alone was a “good person”—good enough to earn heaven—and He gives His righteousness to those who believe in His name (Romans 1:17).

Salvation and Sanctification

| Salvation                                               | Sanctification                                              |
|---------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------|
| It occurs instantly, you're instantly saved.            | It occurs gradually.                                        |
| It requires faith.                                      | It requires surrendering.                                   |
| It's final. When you're saved, you're saved.            | It's your growing.                                          |
| It's God's desire for all to be saved.                  | It's you resisting the desire to sin.                       |
| It removes the penalty of sin (which is eternal death). | It's God's command for all to be sanctified.                |
| It's your eternal destination.                          | God's Spirit initiates the process the moment you're saved. |
| It's getting you out of the world.                      | It's getting the world out of you.                          |

The key to salvation and sanctification is REPENTANCE (in addition to Jesus). The moment you understand that you’re a sinner and that the punishment for sin is death, is the moment for repentance. You need to acknowledge, accept, and confess that you’re a sinner. That’s not the moment to shift the blame. It’s ok to understand that Adam and Eve initiated this whole process, and that sin is your inheritance. But it’s now you, who has to take the responsibility and accountability for your own sins. What is sin? Anything that doesn’t bear good fruit. Anything from negative thoughts to negative actions that impact yourself and others. And no one in this world is free from it. No one gets away from it, saved or not. Sin is our nature. The good news is – we don’t have to live with the finality of sin. God gave us the Bible for various reasons, one of them being to support and the other to be a guide on how to live a good life, with the goal to recognize sin and do something about it. We will never be perfect, but we can strive to better ourselves. This is what Paul, an apostle wrote in Ephesians 4:18-32 “They are darkened in their understanding and separated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them due to the hardening of their hearts. Having lost all sensitivity, they have given themselves over to sensuality so as to indulge in every kind of impurity, and they are full of greed. That, however, is not the way of life you learned when you heard about Christ and were taught in him in accordance with the truth that is in Jesus. You were taught, with regard to your former way of life, to put off your old self, which is being corrupted by its deceitful desires; to be made new in the attitude of your minds; and to put on the new self, created to be like God in true righteousness and holiness. Therefore each of you must put off falsehood and speak truthfully to your neighbor, for we are all members of one body. "In your anger do not sin": Do not let the sun go down while you are still angry, and do not give the devil a foothold. Anyone who has been stealing must steal no longer, but must work, doing something useful with their own hands, that they may have something to share with those in need. Do not let any unwholesome talk come out of your mouths, but only what is helpful for building others up according to their needs, that it may benefit those who listen. And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, with whom you were sealed for the day of redemption. Get rid of all bitterness, rage, and anger, brawling and slander, along with every form of malice. Be kind and compassionate to one another, forgiving each other, just as in Christ God forgave you."

To many, the Bible is a threat. People don't want to be called out on their sins. That's one reason why they reject it. They feel cornered in their desire to sin – they want to do whatever they want – not what God wants. And all God wants is for you to be good and honor Him. To have a loving spirit. To be as described in Ephesians. There are a lot more instructions for us in the Bible. The book of Romans and Ephesians are my favorites when it comes to understanding how God intends for us to live. I collected a few attributes with which God is described in the Bible. He is righteous, just, holy, good, faithful, gracious, compassionate, slow to anger, forgiving, loving and His love endures forever. We are told that we were made in the image of God – we inherited His character. Therefore, this is what we all should be striving for. Yes, it has been perverted by sin, but that doesn't mean it's lost. We all have it in us. It's time to give God the chance He deserves, after His love has been silenced and erased throughout the ages. It's time to let Him in and become the person we were designed to be.

Everyone has a deep-rooted longing in their heart. We all long for love - real, deep, infinite love. What we need to realize is that no one in this world can give us that kind of love. This longing within us cannot be satisfied with human love. That doesn't mean you can't be loved wholeheartedly by someone, but it can't compare to God's love. And I speak from experience. I have been loved and I am loved, but that is nothing compared to the love I experience from God. The real, deep and infinite love we seek can only be found with God.

The Bible and Science

The Bible is not meant to be a scientific book, but it does not contradict science either. When the Bible contradicts science, science later found out that it was wrong, and the Bible was right. Let's take the shape of the earth as an example: If someone asks us today what shape the earth is, we all say "round" or "spherical". Because you know it! Because science has told you so. In the past, there was not such a broad consensus about the shape of the earth. The Bible says (Isaiah 40:22) that the earth is circular and (Job 26:7) free in space (remember there was no science at that time). Circular does not indicate flat or spherical. If you go back to the original language, you will find another translation: circle or compass. Isaiah also says that God stretches out the heavens like a tent over the earth. That doesn't really sound like a sphere. In 3000 BC, the Babylonians believed that the earth was shaped like an oyster (as background information: the Babylonians were against God in absolutely everything, we will come to that later). Later, two Greeks, the philosopher Thales (600 BC) and the poet Homer (800 BC), believed that the earth was a flat disk. Over time, various other shapes were proposed, such as a cylinder and a cube. As late as the sixteenth century, Christopher Columbus described the earth as a round pear. Around 500 BC, the Greek mathematician and philosopher Pythagoras declared that the earth was a sphere. He came to this conclusion not through scientific observation, but because he believed that the sphere was the perfect geometric shape and that the gods would only create a "perfect" world. So how did the authors of the Bible know that the earth is a circle and floats freely in space, you may ask... Every book of the Bible was written by people who were inspired by God. Who should know better about the world if not God who created it? Yes, I know, science has sent people into space and that is why we know that the earth is round. Now I ask you: after all you have learned in my book, do you really believe that they have told us the truth about this? After they lied about everything to disprove the Bible? I know this is way beyond the limits of cognitive dissociation... yet... the doubt should be there. Most arguments against the Bible and God come from a scientific standpoint. Atheists love to try to prove the Bible wrong by using science. And I understand this. I've been there. I've done this. Let's have a closer look at science.

The Bible and Hydrology

Hydrology is the study of water flows, from precipitation to infiltration, groundwater, evapotranspiration, and runoff. The concept of hydrology was described in both the old Greek (e.g., Aristotle) and Roman (e.g., Marcus Vitruvius) cultures. In the 1st century BC, Vitruvius described a philosophical theory of the hydrologic cycle, in which precipitation falling in the mountains infiltrated the earth's surface and led to streams and springs in the lowlands. In the 3rd century, Aristotle explained the mechanism of precipitation. It was, however, not before the beginning of the 1500s that a scientific approach to hydrology started to take off. Even though it's a controversial topic, the book Job was most likely written in the early 2nd millennium BC. Job 36:27-28 says: "He draws up the drops of water, which distill as rain to the streams, the clouds pour down their moisture and abundant showers fall on mankind." Ecclesiastes 1:7 says: "All streams flow to the sea, yet the sea is never full. To the place the streams come from, there they return again." Amos 9:6: "...he calls for the waters of the sea and pours them out over the face of the land..." It is really remarkable. Consider this: the Mississippi River dumps about 518 billion gallons of water every 24h into the Gulf of Mexico. Where does all the water go? And that's just ONE river. The answer lies in the hydrologic cycle which was so well brought out in the Bible by people who couldn't possibly know or understand this at that time, unless they have been told by the One who created this earth. The idea of a complete water cycle wasn't fully understood until the 17th century.

The Bible and Geology

Radiometric dating is a technique used by scientists to date the age of rocks, fossils, and the earth. We have been led to believe that they could prove that the earth is billions of years old using this method. But actually, carbon dating strongly supports a young earth. Carbon-14 is found in fossils and diamonds dated billions of years back, yet it is said that radiocarbon decays within only a few thousand years. So how does that make sense? The Bible is very precise when describing locations in its books. Luke, who wrote a portion of the New Testament, was a very accurate historian - even in the smallest details. And because of that an archeologist, who examined his writing, couldn't find any mistakes in Luke's references to 32 countries, 54 cities and 9 islands. The Euphrates River is mentioned multiple times in the Bible. The most significant account comes from the book of Revelation, in which it is prophesied that the Euphrates River is going to dry up, which will mark the 6th bowl in the 7-bowl judgment on earth (Revelation 16:12). This will give way to the kings from the East, and they will gather in the place that is called Armageddon. This is to happen at the end of the 7 years of tribulation. The Euphrates divides 3 states from each other - Iraq, Syria, and Turkey. It used to be a huge River with a River flow of 3.7 cubic miles in 1973. In 1975 there was a severe drought and the river flow started to decrease. Today it's even less. The decline is catastrophic for the surrounding countries. For us, who believe in the Bible, this is just one of many signs preceding the coming of Jesus Christ, as it was prophesied in the Bible by John in the book of Revelation in 95 AD.

The Bible and Astronomy

The lights in the heavens were signs for years, days and seasons (Genesis 1:14). Thanks to astronomy, we now know that it requires a year for the earth to travel once around the sun. We also know that the moon's passage around the earth determines one month. Astronomers can also tell precisely, by the earth's motion around the sun, when one season ends and the next begins. In 700 BC the Babylonians began to develop a mathematical theory of astronomy, but there wasn't a calendar with 12 months made up of 30 days until 500 BC. They used a base 60 fraction system (hours, minutes, seconds) which we still use today. In the 16th century, decimal notation began to take over. How could Moses have known this 3500 years ago if his words were not inspired by God who put everything in place? In the scripture we are told several times that God "stretches out the heavens like a tent" (Psalm 104:2). It wasn't until the 1920s that astronomers observed evidence that the galaxies are moving away from each other, indicating that the entire universe is stretching out/expanding. The Bible already spoke of this in the 2nd Millennium BC. In Job 37:18 it says, "Can you join him in spreading out the skies, hard as a mirror of cast bronze?" Knowing that science has proven the Bible right in all points so far, in my personal opinion, I believe that the Bible is right in this point as well. Which would mean that no man has ever made it into space. I know that's a hard one to believe. Yet, there has been an independent, private company who tested this statement. They built a rocket to see if it can go through the firmament (the sky), and guess what happened? The rocket reached an altitude of 73 miles and... It got stuck. It's on YouTube. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PWDPRjWPXh0#ddg-play>

We already know that the moon landing is fake news, a made-up story to deceive us for who-knows-what reason. I'd assume it is to portray power and technological advancement to the world. You might wonder: But aren't there satellites in space? And don't we have pictures of the earth and from other planets and galaxies? I'm asking you: do we? Or did humanity just become better in graphic design? Just look at what is possible with AI. How realistic things can look. They have had some of these capabilities for a long time already, so don't let them fool you. The Bible has been right and will always be right. Man, as much as he's trying to be a god, will never reach the ultimate knowledge of God. And with NASA being the only driving force in space exploration and just another tool of the elite, who is going to disprove them? Well, luckily this private company decided to do their own test and what did we learn? The Bible is right.

The Bible and Biology

I found out that biology contradicts itself. I always first study the things that I'm about to write, very intensely so I don't put things out that are based on half-knowledge or simply wrong. Scientists used to believe that a mouse could arise from stored grain or just spontaneously from vegetable matter. They called this spontaneous generation, as in "this happens within days." It was then proven that this is actually not possible. Living things can't be generated from inanimate objects. So, they call it biogenesis and say that living things can ONLY be produced by another living thing and not by non-living things. Here comes the fun part. Keep in mind that they just said that it is not possible. They had the idea to put a lot of time on this impossible process to attempt to explain how animals etc. came into being - they added millions of years. They call this abiogenesis. And NOW it is possible. When something is deemed impossible due to its biological nature, how then is it all of a sudden possible by adding 10 million years just to prove a point that can't be proven? It is absolutely mind-blowing how they fool society. So realistically, life had to be placed onto this earth since there was only inanimate matter in the beginning. And when we come to the subject of "evolution", it gets even funnier. We are led to believe that we are all descended from single-celled organisms. That they evolved and that we evolved from them at some point. But that would presuppose that two-celled organisms, three-celled organisms, four-celled organisms, etc. continue to exist. But they do not exist. It is therefore impossible that we evolved from single-celled organisms and accidentally assumed the complexity that we have today. Furthermore, nobody thinks about the fact that not a single animal on this planet exists outside its own species. Not one. And why is that? Because they can only reproduce within their own species. Or have you ever seen a dog-cat? And what does that ultimately mean? We can't possibly be descended from apes. God said in Genesis 1:24-25 "And God said, 'Let the land bring forth living creatures after their kind: the cattle, the beasts that move along the ground, and the wild animals, each according to its kind.' And so it happened. God created the wild animals according to their kind, the cattle according to their kind and all the animals that move on the ground according to their kind. And God saw that it was good."

So, how could the authors of the Bible possibly have known such a fact without the inspiration of God?

The Bible and Oceanography

The Bible mentions in Psalm 8:8 "the birds in the sky, and all the fish in the sea, all that swim the paths of the seas." This part of Psalms was written around 1000 BC. It's talking about "the paths of the sea" which we know as currents or streams today. These were discovered by M.F. Maury in 1847. The most popular stream is the Gulf Stream. He drew up a wind and current chart that decreased the lengths of ocean trips by taking advantage of the ocean currents and winds. He could reduce the sailing time to California by 30 days. So how could the author of Psalm 8 know about them nearly 3000 years earlier? In 1977 scientists discovered hot springs - hydrothermal vents - at a depth of over 8000 feet on the Galapagos Rift off the coast of Ecuador. Since then, other hot springs have been found at several sites along the mid-oceanic ridges. God told Job in the 2nd millennium BC about the springs. Now look what the book of Job (38:16) says about 3000 years ago: "Have you journeyed to the springs of the sea or walked the recesses of the deep." Recesses were just fully understood recently. We now know that there are oceanic trenches which are topographic depressions of the sea floor. You might know the Mariana Trench which is the deepest natural trench in the world. Its maximum known depth is 36070 ft. How could Job know about this if not from God? Photo/video God's laws. God is just.

The Bible and Anthropology

This is the scientific study of the origin, the behavior, and the physical, social, and cultural development of humans. The chance that higher life forms might have emerged through evolution is comparable to the chance that a tornado sweeping over a junkyard might assemble a Boeing 747 from the materials therein. When you listen to evolutionists, they will tell you that life formed out of inanimate matter into the most complex life forms. Basically, what they are saying is that life developed by chance from not-living things to a primeval soup of living things (bacteria or cells) which then developed by accident into super complex systems with an even more complex DNA code - many different, extremely complex systems - which then developed by accident, genders within their species, which reproduce within their own kind. The chance that this happens is basically impossible. It is estimated that there are potentially 1.8 million different species on this planet. And they are believed to have emerged out of inanimate matter about 3.7 billion years ago. But even that is an ever-changing number, which was revised in 1999 to 2.7 billion years due to a find in Australia. Now our complex systems have even less time to evolve. Let's get back to the Bible, which accounts for God having made every living thing that brings forth after its own kind. We know from Genesis that every human on this planet has a common ancestor - Adam, of whom we are the descendants. And that looks much more likely given the amount of intelligent design required to even get to the build of a DNA helix. Let's take the eye as an example. It's incredibly complex and cannot be reduced to anything less than what it is. It has thousands of co-equal functions to make it work and if we were to take away just one of those, the rest of the eye would be worthless as an eye. This is called irreducible complexity. So how then did the eye evolve when all functions had to be present at once to give it any worth at all?

The Bible and Archeology & Paleontology

Archeology

Over 25000 archeological finds demonstrate that the places, people, and events mentioned in the Bible are real and accurately described. One of the most important discoveries is the Dead Sea Scrolls found in a cave in 1947. Almost every Old Testament book was present in part, and they were all dated between the 3rd and 1st century BC. A complete Isaiah scroll has been found. These scrolls verify that the Bible texts, we read today, are original, valid and in fact prophetic.

Paleontology

Evidence that the Bible is true are the fossil graveyards found all over the earth, which speak of a rapid burial, not of a slow depositing of animals and plants over ages. It takes special conditions to make a fossil. Creatures must be buried rapidly before they decompose or get eaten. Therefore, they would have to be rapidly covered by sediments that are soon compacted and hardened. The fact that fossils of birds, fish, insects etc. have been found all over the world (Grand Canyon, Rocky Mountains, Scotland, Central Asia, South Africa...) indicates that a widespread, violent, and catastrophic event had taken place - Noah's flood. There are tree trunks standing upright through more than one layer of rocks. This doesn't make sense with the slow accumulation of layers over millions of years, but a rapid burial does. You can go to many places on earth and see row upon row of consecutive rock layers that were soft when deposited and then bent, sometimes drastically. Obviously, hard rocks do not bend without fracturing. But a flood could produce these layers rapidly, and they would have bent before they could dry out and harden.

The Bible and Medical Science

In 1845 a doctor named Ignaz Semmelweis discovered that the death rate of women giving birth was 30%. He realized that doctors would examine dead bodies and go straight to the expectant mothers without washing their hands. After he insisted that doctors wash their hands before each examination, the death rate dropped immediately to 2%. Leviticus has a couple chapters about medical issues and how to deal with them. In 15:13 it says, "And when he that hath an issue is cleansed of his issue, then he shall count for himself seven days for his cleansing; and wash his clothes and bathe his body in running water; then he shall be clean." This book was written around 1400 BC. It is widely known that people didn't care much for hygiene throughout the centuries. Therefore pestilence, disease and death were constant issues in the entire world. If they would have listened to the Bible, uncountable lives could have been saved for the last 3000 years. Leviticus also stresses the importance of isolation when someone is sick. There are a couple of verses, one can be found in Leviticus 13:46 "As long as they have the disease they remain unclean. They must live alone; they must live outside the camp." And how did they know, when it took until the 17th century AD for someone to discover that quarantine prevents the spread of diseases? Yes, that's right, God.

The Bible and Evolution

The theory of evolution is not compatible with the Bible. We are continually told that the Bible is only a collection of myths and evolution is scientific, proven fact, while it is actually the other way around. Evolution seems to supply more questions than answers. An increasing number of scientists with the highest intellectual credentials argue that Darwin's theory is no genuine scientific theory after all. Ask yourself this: which explosion produces order? Does a bomb create harmony? How about an experiment? If you were to empty your garage of everything - really nothing inside. And you would leave it to itself for 10 years - would you find a BMW in there? If it's not in there, what about waiting another 10 years? Still nothing? After 1000 years? How about 20000 years? Let's be realistic, there wouldn't be a car, right? However, here's what will produce the necessary blind faith to make the evolutionary process believable: leave it for 250 million years. You see what I'm saying? Origin of sexes: Almost all complex forms of life have both male and female. The male needs the female to reproduce and the other way around. But if evolution were true, which one came first according to the theory? How is it possible that both sexes each came spontaneously into being, yet they have complex, complementary reproductive systems? If each of them was able to reproduce without the other, why, and how would they have developed a reproductive system that requires both sexes in order for the species to survive? Genesis 1:27-28 "So God created mankind in His own image, in the image of God He created them; male and female he created them. God blessed them and said to them, "Be fruitful and increase in number; fill the earth and subdue it." Sometimes, the easiest explanation is the right one. And in this case the more likely one.

The Warning

Matthew 24:3-51

As Jesus was sitting on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came to him privately. “Tell us,” they said, “when will this happen, and what will be the sign of your coming and of the end of the age?” Jesus answered: “Watch out that no one deceives you. For many will come in my name, claiming, ‘I am the Messiah,’ and will deceive many. You will hear of wars and rumors of wars, but see to it that you are not alarmed. Such things must happen, but the end is still to come. Nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be famines and earthquakes in various places. All these are the beginning of birth pains. “Then you will be handed over to be persecuted and put to death, and you will be hated by all nations because of me. At that time many will turn away from the faith and will betray and hate each other, and many false prophets will appear and deceive many people. Because of the increase of wickedness, the love of most will grow cold, but the one who stands firm to the end will be saved. And this gospel of the kingdom will be preached in the whole world as a testimony to all nations, and then the end will come. “So when you see standing in the holy place ‘the abomination that causes desolation,’ spoken of through the prophet Daniel—let the reader understand— then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains. Let no one on the housetop go down to take anything out of the house. Let no one in the field go back to get their cloak. How dreadful it will be in those days for pregnant women and nursing mothers! Pray that your flight will not take place in winter or on the Sabbath. For then there will be great distress, unequalled from the beginning of the world until now—and never to be equaled again. “If those days had not been cut short, no one would survive, but for the sake of the elect those days will be shortened. At that time if anyone says to you, ‘Look, here is the Messiah!’ or, ‘There he is!’ do not believe it. For false messiahs and false prophets will appear and perform great signs and wonders to deceive, if possible, even the elect. See, I have told you ahead of time. “So if anyone tells you, ‘There he is, out in the wilderness,’ do not go out; or, ‘Here he is, in the inner rooms,’ do not believe it. For as lightning that comes from the east is visible even in the west, so will be the coming of the Son of Man. Wherever there is a carcass, there the vultures will gather. “Immediately after the distress of those days ‘the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light; the stars will fall from the sky, and the heavenly bodies will be shaken.’ “Then will appear the sign of the Son of Man in heaven. And then all the peoples of the earth will mourn when they see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of heaven, with power and great glory. And he will send his angels with a loud trumpet call, and they will gather his elect from the four winds, from one end of the heavens to the other. “Now learn this lesson from the fig tree: As soon as its twigs get tender and its leaves come out, you know that summer is near. Even so, when you see all these things, you know that it is near, right at the door. Truly I tell you, this generation will certainly not pass away until all these things have happened. Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will never pass away.

The Day and Hour Unknown

“But about that day or hour no one knows, not even the angels in heaven, nor the Son, but only the Father. As it was in the days of Noah, so it will be at the coming of the Son of Man. For in the days before the flood, people were eating and drinking, marrying, and giving in marriage, up to the day Noah entered the ark; and they knew nothing about what would happen until the flood came and took them all away. That is how it will be at the coming of the Son of Man. Two men will be in the field; one will be taken and the other left. Two women will be grinding with a hand mill; one will be taken and the other left. “Therefore keep watch, because you do not know on what day your Lord will come. But understand this: If the owner of the house had known at what time of night the thief was coming, he would have kept watch and would not have let his house be broken into. So you also must be ready, because the Son of Man will come at an hour when you do not expect him.

“Who then is the faithful and wise servant, whom the master has put in charge of the servants in his household to give them their food at the proper time? It will be good for that servant whose master finds him doing so when he returns. Truly I tell you, he will put him in charge of all his possessions. But suppose that servant is wicked and says to himself, ‘My master is staying away a long time,’ and he then begins to beat his fellow servants and to eat and drink with drunkards. The master of that servant will come on a day when he does not expect him and at an hour he is not aware of. He will cut him to pieces and assign him a place with the hypocrites, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.”

Summary

The Bible states very clearly:

2 Timothy 3:1-4 “But mark this: There will be terrible times in the last days. People will be lovers of themselves, lovers of money, boastful, proud, abusive, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, unholy, without love, unforgiving, slanderous, without self-control, brutal, not lovers of the good, treacherous, rash, conceited, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God – “

In the days of Noah, when God brought the worldwide flood and destroyed everything on the earth, people were not aware of what was to come. Noah preached and warned them, but they did not listen. They continued with their wickedness and everyday life up until the day Noah entered the ark.

Things haven’t changed much over the centuries. Evil does what evil always did. Except now, it is flourishing on a level never seen before. Every biblical value is being attacked these days. People that stand up against evil, and preach what is reasonable, biblical, and true, are being silenced. People that swim against the stream are being canceled, attacked, and persecuted. Today we have a society that is running towards a cliff and anyone who says, “Turn around!” is thought of as insane.

Something happened during Covid in 2020. It crept into the nations around the world. It wasn’t only anxiety and depression that overwhelmed the hearts and minds of people in seclusion and quarantine. We woke up after 1.5 years with more than just a vaccine. We woke up and now see biological men playing women’s sports or using women’s bathrooms, because they say they are a woman. We tell children that their gender is up to them by just checking a box. We are sitting idly by as people in a parade declare, “We are coming for your children!” We need to address the elephant in the room! The woke agenda! I am taking a stand, and I am exposing and addressing all the things that are happening in the world right now. Not everyone is realizing it, but you are being destroyed. Your family is being destroyed. Your country is being destroyed! Lies are being spread to make you compliant. They are making you a tool in their game. We are fighting and debating over inessential and inconsequential things, but we have lost the fight for morality and for truth. We allowed others to tell us how to live and what to accept instead of going back to the source of life which is God.

Ephesians 2:2 “As for you, you were dead in your transgressions and sins, in which you used to live when you followed the ways of this world and of the ruler of the kingdom of the air, the spirit who is now at work in those who are disobedient. All of us also lived among them at one time, gratifying the cravings of our flesh and following its desires and thoughts. Like the rest, we were by nature deserving of wrath. But because of his great love for us, God, who is rich in mercy, made us alive with Christ even when we were dead in transgressions—it is by grace you have been saved.”

You let the world, who doesn't know the first thing about living, tell you how to live. God knows how life works and when He defines something, we need to go with His definition. Truth doesn't come from politics, a court, or a majority vote. It comes from God. He made it. The world is trying to redefine truth to its advantage.

The battle we are fighting today started in the minds of people. People influenced by Satan. The mind is Satan's battleground. He had Adam and Eve questioning God, and now he's attacking your mind. Everything in the world that is true and right has been twisted and manipulated until it fits Satan's ideal in our minds. It's the battle of the mind and the satanic questions that come. This is where it all begins. You need to understand this. Any time the Bible shows that Satan had a voice and spoke in the Bible, he would mostly end his sentences with question marks. He doesn't declare. He speaks with questions to make you question things. Like, is there a God at all? Are you a woman? Is that really the right thing to do? And if he's not questioning, he's challenging the word of God. He makes you believe the lies you're thinking. And that's an everyday battle. Don't believe everything you think. Don't believe everything you think.

Your mind is constantly at war. It is being attacked by Satan and his supporters, which are the elite and every person, who has given in to their worldly desires. But it's not all lost. You can be transformed and with it comes protection against the evil of the world. How can you be transformed? You have to win the battle. You have to renew your mind. A renovation has to take place in your mind.

2 Corinthians 3-5 “For though we live in the world, we do not wage war as the world does. The weapons we fight with are not the weapons of the world. On the contrary, they have divine power to demolish strongholds. We demolish arguments and every pretension that sets itself up against the knowledge of God, and we take captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ.”

The strongholds of the world try to keep God out. They try to push their worldview on everyone. We have to renew our mind with the knowledge of God to fight these strongholds of the world. The knowledge of God comes from the word of God -the Bible. It's a weapon against an evil world. So, when you fill your mind with God's word, there is no space for Satan's lies. But you need the Holy Spirit who convicts you when a thought contradicts the word of God. And you receive the Holy Spirit when you accept Jesus Christ as your Lord and Savior.

Now, you obviously won't be able to change the world. Neither am I. But here is what we can do. We can educate – ourselves and our children. In this world you won't find peace. This world is out to destroy you as an individual and as a community. There is no hope in this world. It's doomed. But not all is lost. We have the Bible as a testimony. A proof. A word of support. A solution. The Bible gives hope in a world that has nothing to offer other than the destruction of your physical and spiritual body. God said that He has told us about the future in advance so we can test and check for ourselves if His word is true. And He has already proven that it is true.

Facing certain realities is often extremely hard and painful, and it can be difficult to shed long held beliefs that have shaped our perception of the world, history, religion, and ourselves. But it's time to face it. Based on the fact that God has proven Himself to us through His word, we learned that after we physically die, our soul lives on. There is life after death. And the only way to enter this life with God, instead of being separated from God in hell, is to believe in Jesus. He is God's plan to save our souls from agony and suffering and to reunite us with Him. God has told us this through the people He has chosen over a period of 1500 years. Chosen to reveal His plan and the truth. When we read the Bible, we realize that it is describing who we are and what we are. It is the only satisfying answer to our human existence. It tells us why we are here and where we are going and why it matters. God loves you. God wants you back. If you are unsure of how to get there – just ask Him. Ask Him to reveal Himself to you. Ask Him to soften your heart, and open your eyes and ears, so you may be able to receive Him. He doesn't just show up for anyone. It requires an active role on your end. If you want to know truly, from your heart if He's there, if he's real – He will answer you. Seek and you'll receive.

ASK. SEEK. KNOCK.

Matthew 7:7-8 "Ask and it will be given to you; seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you. For everyone who asks receives; the one who seeks finds; and to the one who knocks, the door will be opened."

Conclusion

Every human on this earth has a need for Jesus.

The Bible is God's word, and His word is truth. When you read His word, it changes you. I have a friend who once said to me: "I don't want to get into that (the Bible) right now. I am happy with how things are. I have my family; we have a good life, and I am happy." I have known her for many, many years and I know she struggles with a lot of things in her life despite being content with her current situation. She worries a lot about different things, feels pressured, stressed, and overwhelmed at times. And I look at her and I see... myself. The way I used to be. I didn't feel a personal need for God. I didn't know that He could change things. That He could change me. I didn't know He can change your life for the better. Even if you have a great life and everything you think you need; knowing God and being liberated from all fear of life and death is absolutely lifechanging. He lifts a weight off of anyone's shoulders, no matter how light or heavy it may be. Yet, we are so opposed to even consider dealing with Him and His word. So, me having been in her shoes, I have a lot of empathy for her current world view. But at the same time, I know now how different things can be. You might not see an apparent need for God and His word but trust me – there is one. The problem is that while you're an unbeliever, you're living your life basically behind a veil. And it is impossible for you to see the truth of God because you're unintentionally blind to it. I can tell you all I want about it, but you won't get it. Not until you open your heart, even just the tiniest little bit, to the possibility that there might be a God. That you need saving. That you need forgiveness. That you need this weight to be lifted off of you. That there is life beyond death. And if you can find this tiny little place inside yourself – this little hole of curiosity – open it up. Ask the question. "God, are you real? Are you there? If you are there, please show yourself to me. Come into my life and change me." If He shows up in whatever unique way He chooses to, repent, and ask for forgiveness of your sins and accept Jesus Christ as your Lord and Savior. God will lift your veil and everything I told you will make sense. There is this moment that you have as an unbeliever when the truth hits you unexpectedly. From one moment to the next there is this immediate jolt of God's reality hitting you. I'm not making this up – it happened to me. After you have opened your heart to God, everything happens rather "involuntarily" - you have no influence on it. From one moment to the next, you simply know that everything I have told you about God is true. And that is the moment when the Holy Spirit descends upon you, and you are reunited with God. I really don't know how else to describe it. I've been blind all my life, but now I can finally see. No man and no force of nature can help you get there. It's between you and God. I think to understand this better; it might help if you listen to the testimonies of people who have had the same experience. You can find them online on YouTube.

If you would like to hear my personal testimony, please reach out via email.

My dear family, friend, and reader, I am just a messenger. I felt compelled and inspired by the Holy Spirit to share all of this with you. And the only thing I'm asking you to do is to let everything I wrote sink in, and to ask God from your heart to reveal Himself to you. And if you don't feel ready yet, then please remember my book and what I told you about Jesus if you find yourself in a situation where you see no way out, are desperate or possibly about to die. That sounds extreme, but that would be your last chance to call out to Jesus and be saved. So please, remember my words. Call out to him when you are at the end, no matter what form this end takes.

I have been praying and I will continue to pray that He will open your eyes, ears, and hearts so that you may get to know Him.

Most of us read a lot of books in our lives. I wholeheartedly want to encourage you to pick up one more book. No other book can stand against it.

If you decide to read the Bible for yourself, I suggest starting with the following books. They will explain the most important things about Jesus, the Gospel, life as a Christian and end time prophecy. Due to its size, the Bible is rather intimidating, and it is easy to put off or even refuse to read it. It helps to know where to start without having to deal with the entire work directly. That will come naturally at a later time.

- 1) Matthew and John (Jesus & the Gospel)
- 2) Ephesians and Romans (Christian life, principles, and values)
- 3) Genesis (creation of the world and the history of mankind)
- 4) Daniel and Revelation (prophecies concerning the end times)

Credits

There are a few people without whom I wouldn't have been able to write this book.

Jack Hibbs

First and foremost I'd like to thank Pastor Jack Hibbs from Calvary Chapel Chino Hills in California for his teachings. He has made a huge impact on my knowledge about the Bible and understanding of God. The way he preaches shows the world that God is alive and real. He's honest and straight forward. He's not afraid to teach on difficult topics. I visited his church only once and ever since I'm following his sermons every week online. If you want to learn more about the Bible, Pastor Jack is your man. I have taken some of his teachings and integrated them in this book.

Amir Tsarfati

Amir Tsarfati, author and former major in the IDF, teaches on Bible prophesy, and I have taken some of the passages in my book from his teachings (like Happening Now and The Antichrist) and other thoughts he expressed online.

<https://beholdisrael.org/>

Allen Nolan

Pastor Allen Nolan is the senior pastor of Cornerstone Fellowship in Tahlequah, Oklahoma who's sermons and Wednesday Bible study have helped me a lot to understand the Bible in great detail. He has knowledge of the Hebrew and Greek Bible and teaches on Revelation. Through him I got my understanding of Genesis and Revelation. He paved my path to Christ. The science part is partly based on his teachings.

Jeff Kinley

Jeff Kinley is a Christian author and speaker. I taught on Globalism at Future Conferences at Calvary Chapel Chino Hills. I couldn't have written it any better, so the entire section about Globalism is taken from this conference.

Jay Smith

Dr Jay Smith is an American evangelist, historian and missionary who teaches about Islam. I've linked his teaching under the text.

Charlie Kirk

He's the founder and President of "Turning point USA", a youth activist organization. He's a columnist and author and fights for the American people to win back our country. He hosts "The Charlie Kirk Show" and spoke at Calvary Chapel Chino Hills in a series titled "Happening Now". He has a lot of insight into governmental and economic issues.

K-Love

K-Love is the radio station who triggered my personal redemption journey. Music can do a lot in people's lives; I believe this aspect is totally undervalued. It can change everything.

<https://www.klove.com/>

Pictures

All pictures are taken from the internet and are not my own. They are needed to prove and illustrate my points.

YouTube

I have watched a couple of documentaries on YouTube. Unfortunately I can't remember from which ones I've taken some passages for my book.

My Husband

My editor and biggest supporter on this book-writing journey has been my husband. He has kept me grounded in Christ throughout this entire process. A lot of topics in this book have drawn me into the darkness, have clouded my mind and taken away my focus on Christ. But he's been there constantly with advice, patience, love, and the word of God.

Comment from the author

If you would like to receive additional information, share your thoughts on the book or ask any questions you might have – please don't hesitate to reach out. I have a lot more in-depth information on certain topics - history of the Jews and Israel, material on Pizzagate, Child Sex Trafficking, anything related to the Bible and prophecies, etc. You can also request my testimony of how I came to believe.

When you're done reading my book and you think other people should read it too, please forward it. I want to reach as many people as possible in an attempt to help everyone to see and understand the reality of this world.

I also set up a fundraiser for the book. I'd like to support Calvary Chapel Chino Hills and Cornerstone Fellowship financially, as a thank you gesture for their excellent teaching, their outstanding involvement in their communities and cities, and their effort to spread the Gospel to the world online. I also want to donate money to Epic Church in Philadelphia and K-Love. I will keep 20% to make up for the time it took to write the book, in which I was mostly unable to work. I will post proof of the donations on my homepage.

These are testimonials from many different people about their faith and how they found Christ. They are really powerful and could give you a better idea of what it means to be born again.

What is prophecy? Is it a mystical, made-up story or is there more to it? Who made prophecies? And what are the end times? Who is ruling over us these days and what are their intentions? Are you being cared for by the people in power? We are living in a world that is filled with hate, violence, division, wars and evil.

We were made to believe that our life here on earth is an accident, that it is meaningless and that it will end sooner or later. And when it ends we will go... where? Where are we going?

As a former atheist, I would never ever have believed that I would find the answers to these questions in the Bible. Just the mentioning of God would have made me reject any conversation and bring out the ugliest mockery. All because I did not know the slightest bit about the Bible or God. In hindsight, it showed me just how uneducated, indoctrinated, and wrong I was.

I would love to help you break through this obstacle of unreasonable and unjustified rejection of something you have never heard the truth about. I'm also addressing you, who might belong to one of the many religions. What I have to reveal concerns every human on this planet, and I will do so by opening your eyes to the reality of our current world, and how this reality relates to Bible prophecy. Nothing is as it seems. The rulers of this world have a not-so-secret agenda, and I will tell you in detail how this agenda came about, what their goal is, and how you can identify for yourself the people and companies that belong to it. I will also explain a few things about the Bible, and show why the Bible is the only place that will give you a satisfying answer to our human existence, and the circumstances we live in right now. Through the Bible, I have found an unimaginable hope and peace that I would like for you to have as well.

John 13:19, "I am telling you before it happens, so that when it does happen you will believe that I am who I am." – Jesus
