Introduction

I've been an atheist my entire life. A God did not exist in my world. I actually made fun of people who believed in God. I always pictured them as weak and scared people that held on to something because they were not able to face life's tribulations or death by themselves. Anything I've ever heard about religion, or the Bible, sounded like fairytales. When I had the chance to ask questions, I asked what I believed to be, difficult questions in order to have the believer stumble and disprove their belief. But no matter what I asked, they always had an answer, and that made me angry, and I disapproved even more of their faith. I mocked, scoffed, and laughed at the believer.

In September 2020 I spent a week at the shore. There weren't any good radio stations, so I listened to Christian music on K-Love all week. And I have to admit, I liked it. Something changed. Something shifted inside of me. The next time I drove to the shore (October 2020) I listened to it on purpose and was actually looking forward to it. But it wasn't until spring 2022 that I switched my radio station completely and listened only to K-Love. From that time on I developed a deeper interest in the Bible. In the beginning I didn't read anything that could have changed my view. I had lots of discussions with my Christian husband about the content and got upset quite often. Which is weird when you think about it. It's just a book, right? Today I understand that cognitive dissonance kicked in. Everything I read went totally against my education and world view. I couldn't handle it. My brain tried to keep me in my comfortable and known ways. At some point I stopped reading the Old Testament and started the New Testament. At the same time, I started online Bible study to be able to better understand what I was reading.

When "Covid" happened in 2020, I got to stay home for more than 3 months. I spent a lot of time researching topics like politics and health. In the following 2 years, I learned a lot about what is actually happening in our world. Unimaginable things surfaced and I realized – something's up. Things are not how they seem to be. I asked my husband several times to explain the meaning of Jesus to me, because for the longest it just didn't make any sense to me. And I don't know how it happened, and when, but in the midst of discovering how the world really operates, my husband's explanations, Bible study and listening to K-Love – I found God. God found me. And life, as I knew it, changed. I don't even know how to describe it. It's like you've been blindfolded your entire life and in an instant - the veil is lifted, and you see clearly. You understand. And all of a sudden, there are no more doubts. No fear. No worries. No sorrows. Only joy. Relief. Gratitude. Hope. Love. And an indescribable peace in any situation. I have never felt like this before. It felt like chains came off. Like you can finally breathe freely. You don't know that you were somehow lost until this very moment. I have been searching my entire life for SOMETHING, and I didn't know what I was looking for. I knew something was missing. In that moment, my search finally ended. I felt connected. Seen. Held. Loved. It is like the Bible says: when you accept Jesus into your life, you are born again. And that's what it feels like.

The reason I write this book is that I love you and care for you. I want you to have what I have. I want you to feel what I feel. I want you to be saved. Saved from the current state you are in. A state of which you are unfortunately not aware of at this very moment. I don't want you to feel pressured. You don't have to do anything after reading this. I'm not here to convert you. I can't. I don't have the power to do that. But what I can do is tell you about what I discovered. I spent over 3 years on reading and researching. I understand that most people don't have the time to do that. But since I've already done it, I want you to benefit from it. This book is a collection of everything I have read. A conclusion about truth and lies. The true reality and the fake world. Light and darkness. Good and bad. God and the devil. This book is for atheists in the first place, but I firmly believe that even believers would benefit from it, especially if you are part of a religious organization like the Catholic Church, Islam, Buddhism, Jehovah's Witnesses, Mormons etc. The truth in this book is for everyone. I absolutely respect the fact that you most likely have a different mindset at this moment, which is why I will explain a lot of things to help you to make it make sense. I will start with some information about the Bible, since this is what all the things happening in the world, are based on. Please bear with me as I walk you through everything. You will eventually reach a point where you just don't want to, or can't, accept what you're reading. And that is ok. The only thing I ask of you is to read through the entire book no matter what your brain does.

I'd like to emphasize that no one in this world made me think the way I think now. No one. I'm not brainwashed. Extensive research and the study of the Bible have brought me here. Nothing else. I have a very good sense of discernment. So, I'm asking you to trust me. I love you. I care for you. Please reach out if you have any questions – I am here for all of them.

Here is something I need you to be aware of: Just because it's not a reality for you in your life right now, doesn't mean it doesn't exist. There are things happening in this world that go beyond your wildest imagination. Your mind is going to fight what it is going to read. Don't let it. You'll miss out on an opportunity that not everyone is lucky to get. If you find yourself just outright rejecting everything I say, please be aware that a process called "cognitive dissonance" has been activated in your brain. We humans have a natural drive for consistency. Our belief system must be consistent with itself and with our actions. When this stability gets shaken up by information that does not align with our belief system, tension builds up. We get stressed, and as a consequence we reject the information. This is a totally normal reaction. That happens to anyone who's confronted with things that go against their current beliefs. That's why it is important to just let the information flow for now. If, in the end, none of what I say resonates with you, or you can't consider it to be true at all, then regard this as an informative read, and go on with your life as you know it. I have no need to invent anything. There will be things that are speculations or assumptions simply because we either can't know or don't know all of the facts yet. But know that I'll do my best to relay all the information to you that I have at this point of time. I wouldn't gain anything from making things up to convince you of my point of view. So please keep in mind that this is me – real, honest, and open - trying to save your soul. If you don't care for your soul or you don't believe you have one – hold on. Let me fill you in about the Bible, our current reality, and your potential future, and then ask yourself these questions: What happens after I die? Do I have a soul? What do I want to happen with my soul after I die? Where do I want to spend eternity? Does God exist?

Reality Check

You've been conditioned to believe that God doesn't exist. That His love doesn't exist. But you have been lied to. And it is my task and purpose to show you that God is real. That His love is real. My intent is to guide you through the jungle of lies, fabricated over decades to indoctrinate you and everyone else on this planet so that you become a tool in the agenda of the elite. Who are the "elite"? These are people that have the goal to change the way the world is run. They are sometimes called the cabal or Illuminati which, at the end, is just a description for people that believe themselves to be god or god-like and think that this gives them the right to rule over the entire civilization in whatever way they seem fit to reach their goal. These people want you to support and accept their vision of "The Great Reset." And to accomplish this, they have made you a slave to the system they've created over the decades.

In order to benefit from this book, please keep an open mind, so that you're able to receive my message. Again, my goal is not to convert you. My goal is to prove to you that it is time to question your reality in order to be saved from this world that aims at your destruction. To find peace and hope. And maybe, in the end, I pray you will see God's love. The love I've experienced ever since I've been able to see. God is good. God is love. Let's do this.

First off, if you're an atheist right now, I need you to bury and forget anything you have ever known or believed to have known about the Bible, God, and the church. And even the world to be honest. None of it is true. I don't even need to know what you think you know, to know that it is wrong.

The Bible has to fight off a lot of attacks. People have been attacking its credibility, authenticity, and content for as long as the Bible has existed. And when they couldn't fight it, they changed it. Out of this, a lot of other religions were born – derived from the original texts of the Bible and changed into something that fit the lifestyle choices and ideologies of the people of that time. Often times, Christianity was infiltrated by pagan beliefs, or was paired with satanic influences, which then gave birth to new religions. Over time, beliefs were mixed up so badly, and spread throughout the entire world, that it has become hard to really be able to see through the jungle of religions/belief systems out there. This is where we have to go back to our roots. Back to original scripture. People have studied other religions, and it's become clear that their books are, in some form, inspired or partly copied from the Bible. So contains, for example the Qur'an, Bible stories. The Islamic religion developed long after Christianity and Judaism, which takes away its credibility. My intention is not to offend anyone. I will speak more in depth about this towards the end of this book. Based on the historical and prophetic accuracy, and with love as its core message, the Bible is absolutely unique, and that's why I, and millions of other people, believe that it is truth, and that this truth comes from God.

The writings of the Bible have been passed down from generation to generation for the last 3500 years. The Jews took the history and stories from their ancestors very serious. They treasured them and taught every new generation about their God and the lives of their forefathers. They did not question their authenticity. Unfortunately, evil has been around since the very beginning of our world and Satan did not rest nor sleep. What he does is question the truth and sow doubt in people's minds. Doubt in the word of God. He slowly, but surely, infiltrated the truth with his lies and deceptions. He destroyed the sacred traditions of the Jews to a point where no one knows what to believe anymore. And even worse – to a point where people don't believe in anything at all. The infiltration has happened over thousands of years. But the widespread unbelief (Atheism) is something that has been creeping in slowly for the last 250 years, when people with satanic backgrounds decided that it was time to get rid of the God of the Bible. They began changing the way the world operated, by implementing new systems and structures, with the aim to set themselves apart from everyone else, and above God, in order to gain world dominance. And a big part of this plan was to take God out of the lives of the people. And this is where we are at today. Miracles and wonders are things of the past that have no place in our modern, intellectual, and enlightened world. Humanity has advanced in science and can help itself in any situation – so they believe. In a time of self-care, self-improvement, self-reliance, and selfishness, no one sees the need for a God that tries to save. We save ourselves – so we believe. The teachings of the Bible have been taken out of society and the focus has shifted from loving God and others to loving oneself. And THIS, exactly THIS is humanity's downfall. And no one notices it. In 1960 for example, the idea of family was a priority. Family life, family structure, procreation. But something changed. The elite implemented new systems and movements. They opened the mind of the population to new ways of thinking. Women started to shift their focus from family to career. Men lost their role as the head of the household. Many people started to live alternative lifestyles during the hippie era. The focus shifted from community to self. And ever since then, the family has been destroyed. The idea of family and striving for the family has diminished over the years. But that didn't just happen. This has been a slow but steady process that has been planned with meticulous detail. And this is just one example of a change that has been made. Throughout this book you will learn about a lot of other things that have been integrated into society. Things that are viewed as normal these days. And why is that? Because we have been indoctrinated from the day we entered the system when we were children. All of these years they've fed us lies that we now believe to be true. A lot of the things we have been taught are theories. Not facts. Theories. You need to understand this. In order for them to make you a compliant puppet, they had to act as if they knew it all. They prescribed what to learn in school, how to treat diseases, how to spend your money, what to eat, how you have to look, what you can and cannot do, where you can live, how much taxes you have to pay, etc. Everything you do and think in your life, you do and think because you have been conditioned that way. Your upbringing got you there. Anything they have put into our brains has shaped our understanding of the world. But they didn't just fill our minds, they also kept things from us purposely. One of these things is the Bible. If all of us would have grown up with the teachings of the Bible, like many generations before us, we would not be in the position we are in right now. Everyone would be way better off. Why? Because faith, love, respect, honesty, care, joy, and peace would be at the forefront of everybody's mind. We would not have to deal with gender pronouns, pedophiles, wars, satanic agendas, division and hate as we are at this point of time. I'm not saying it wouldn't exist – that's impossible because humans are sinful creatures, but – the majority of the people would have proper guidelines on how to behave as a morally sound human being and we would be equipped to make the world a better place. A community in which no one would have to fight alone for themselves because we would come together and support each other in love. Hold each other up and care for each other. Fortunately and unfortunately, history has already been written and at this point there's no escape from what is to come.

If you have lived your life without the teachings of the Bible, then of course it is now hard for you to grasp and accept it. We have come to not believe in miracles and wonders, in Prophets or God. And why is that? Because we have been told that these things don't exist, and that people that believe in it, are crazy or disillusioned. Did anyone ever prove to you that these things don't exist? No. No one did. They only told you so. And you believed it because you trusted the people that said it. This is, by the way, also a form of faith – the faith in man. You haven't done any research yourself; you got your information from books and people, that got their information from people that don't live anymore – and yet you decide to believe. Do you see that it is the same way with the Bible? What makes science more believable than the written traditions and history of humanity? You could argue for science that there is tons of research out there and that everything is well documented. But guess what, exactly the same applies to the Bible and it is way older than anything else that exists. Additionally, the Bible revealed scientific facts thousands of years before man ever discovered them. But we somehow chose to believe man over the Bible. Is that reasonable? I don't believe so. But this here, right now, is the point where we need to open our minds and weigh facts against the make-believe we have been exposed to all these years. I am a very evidence-based person. If something can't be proven or is not conclusive, I'm out. About 30% of the Bible is prophetic and most of the prophecies already came true. The ones that didn't come true, didn't come true because they concern the future. Our future. Other than that, ALL prophecies in the Bible came true. We are talking here about predictions in regard to the rise, decline and fall of empires, all church ages, various rulers, war predictions, exiles, Jesus the Messiah etc. The Bible is not intended to be a science book, but neither does it contradict science. If the Bible does contradict it, science later discovered it was wrong and the Bible was right. There are two things that got my attention – fulfilled prophecies and how the world was created. It showed me that there's more to the Bible than is made known to us. While reading the Bible I realized that it is overall non-contradictory, scientifically sound, brutally honest, supernaturally clever, and very clear. For example, the intertwining connections being made over the course of several different books and centuries are so intelligent and marvelous, that there is no question that the Bible was divinely inspired. Humans just wouldn't be able to produce anything like it. Not without God. So for me, the only conclusion is this: the Bible is true. If someone can prophesy the future and this is done hundreds of years before it comes to pass – that's not coming from humans. This is of a higher power. And it really doesn't matter what I used to believe. As I said, I'm all about evidence. And the Bible presents all the evidence. And this evidence gets backed up by Archaeology and other scientific fields. The Bible has been studied for ages, by believers and unbelievers - theologians and secular scientists. There are secular scientists that even came to believe after studying the Bible. These people can tell when books were written based on the historical background and locations given in the books, the age of the paper, language used, and the writing itself. Some of the original copies of Bible books still exist today. So, there's no way it has been altered or tampered with. They have been kept and stored safely over all these years. Some Jews still keep God's laws up until today. They take the Old Testament for what it is and do not question their ancestors. They trust and believe. They kept teaching from their ancestors' writings over thousands of years. It is our society today who started to twist and change things. Who took away the Bible and history and replaced it with something that suited their interests. I think we can both agree that this world today is all about power, control and money, right? But where does that come from? Who reigns and tells us how to live? Is it our government? Is it teachers? Is it scientists? You would think so but, no. None of them. There are people in this world that pull the strings that are NOT the government. They are above the government. They are the money. They are the ones that tell us how to live and die. And they are the ones I am going to expose in this book.

Good & Evil

Evil has always existed. It existed before the creation of the world. But it got a hold of this world when Adam and Eve sinned over 6000 years ago. The Bible teaches us about evil which comes with Satan (hold on – please see explanation on the right). So, the basics of the Bible are that there is good (God) and evil (Satan) in this world and that there is enmity between the two of them. Therefore, anything that happens in the world is either way guided by God or by the devil. God's one and only goal is to be reunited with His creation (us) after we were spiritually separated from Him through the sin of Adam and Eve (Genesis 3 explains this). Ever since that day, every person born is born into sin. It is not our fault. It is the curse that came upon Adam and Eve after they disobeyed God. All of their descendants have to suffer from their decision. And even though we were not the ones who caused it, we have to live with it. Doesn't seem fair, does it? But it actually is because God is fair and just. Through Him we know right from wrong because he established this right in the beginning. God gave Adam and Eve a rule, and the consequences if they disobeyed Him. God gave them free will and they decided to go against God's rule. And because God is just, he had to punish their disobedience. That's just fair, isn't it? We would do the same

Who is Satan?

If you have an image of Satan as the red man with horns and an evil smile – please get rid of it. That's far away from the truth. It's a way to ridicule the Bible and its teachings. Satan is the spirit of deception, confusion, and manipulation with the goal to keep you separated from God. Satan was one of the closest angels to God who rebelled against God in heaven and was cast down to earth. And with him he took a third of the angels of God. They are called "fallen angels." Ever since, he tries to be like God and imitate Him. He is God's enemy, who fights a fight he cannot win. God told us from the beginning, that Satan will be defeated in the end. But in the meantime, Satan tries everything to hurt God, by taking from Him what he treasures most – us, our souls. Any person Satan manages to deceive and lead away from God, is an achievement for him and a loss for God, and Satan enjoys that. Knowing he can't win, he does anything and by any means to pull people into the darkness and away from the light, which is God. Ultimately, anyone who doesn't follow Jesus Christ will be cast into the lake of fire after the final judgement. And they will not die. They will burn forever today if someone breaks a rule. People get punished in some way or form. God warned them in advance, and they knew the consequences. So, you can thank Adam and Eve for the fact that you're born into sin. Couldn't God just have taken sin away later on? No, He can't take away the punishment that was given as a consequence of disobedience. Then He wouldn't be just, but arbitrary. As our Creator, He implemented the laws and rules by which the world runs. He is our role model, and as such, He has to display what He expects from us in order to be worthy of trust, honor, and praise. The punishment for sin is the eternal death of the soul which leads to eternity in the lake of fire. But here is the good news: God has a plan. A way to redeem people from sin. People have the chance to get salvation for their sins, so their souls have the chance to spend eternity with God. Throughout the entire Old Testament (4000 BC to Jesus' death on the cross) God reveals His plan to humanity through His prophets. They were normal people like you and me. But they were chosen to prophesy about the future and what's to come. So, when the things they prophesied come to pass, we would know that it comes from God, and that God is real.

One of the major issues in this world is that people are constantly tempted and deceived by the devil. Satan's focus is to keep us in our sinful state by keeping us away from God's word, so that our soul will not be reunited with God when our earthly body dies. Therefore, the Bible exists to keep us on track with God's plan for us. To help us know Him. To learn about ourselves. To help us grow in our faith. The Bible is a love letter from God. God installed the prophets to prove to us that He is real, that He is the only God, and that He loves us and wants to be with us for eternity. So, how then can one be reunited with God and get saved from eternity in hell? You have to believe in the plan God created when mankind got separated from him in the beginning. You have to trust that plan, accept it, and have faith. What does the plan look like? God sent His son into the world – Jesus. He took all the sins of the world upon himself (past, present, and future sins) and He died for us as the ultimate blood sacrifice so that our sins are all paid for. After 3 days, God raised Him from the dead, and whoever believes in Him, and accepts Him as their Lord and Savior, who died instead of us, will be saved. If you don't believe in the plan, you can't be saved. He made the plan for people who have faith and believe that God is God. People who care about their souls and an eternal life with God. He tells us all about this eternal life in the Bible. The sacrifice of His son is a gift to us, and it is up to us to receive it or reject it. He gave us free will. We can make our own decision in this case. So, you can continue on the path you're on. Rely on everything you've learned in your life, and don't believe that there is a God who tries to save you from suffering after you left your worldly body behind. Or, you can have faith that He is out there protecting you and offering you a way out. Offering you eternal life as described in the Bible. What do you have to do for that? Do you have to pay taxes to the church? No. Do you have to chant with other people in a church, fold your hands and burn incense? No. Do you have to worship statues or crosses? Absolutely not! All you need to do is believe in God's plan, open yourself up and let Him come into your life. How do I know this? It's all written in the Bible. And when I'm done showing you what kind of world you live in, you might start to see how I got here.

What is the Bible?

The Bible is a collection of 66 books that are sacred to Christianity, Judaism, and many other religions. There are 39 books in the Old Testament and 27 books in the New Testament. The book is not grouped in chronological order. It wasn't written in one sitting. About 40 authors, over a period of about 1500 years, in 3 different continents and various places unknowingly contributed to the Bible. Each one of them was inspired by God (2 Timothy 3:16 "All scripture is God-breathed and is useful for teaching, rebuking, correcting and training in righteousness."). The Bible is not a book that humans would ever write, or would be capable of writing, without the inspiration of God. A lot of texts and teachings would have been excluded if the Bible would have been a merely human invention due to their rebuking and corrective nature. God addresses not only future events, but He also names specific people in their places in history. There is nothing like it in the world. Usually, we read books so we may understand them, but when we read the Bible we realize that it is describing who we are and what we are. It is the only satisfying answer to our human existence. It tells us why we are here, and where we are going, and why it matters. The only reason we know God is because He speaks to us through scripture. Without that we wouldn't be able to know Him, or even of Him. It's a self-revelation.

All other religious books were written way after the Bible already existed. The oldest parts are the first 5 books which are also found in the Hebrew Torah. People found the "Dead Sea Scrolls" in Palestine in 1947, which are the oldest existing copies of the Hebrew Bible. These copies were written between 300 BC to 1 AD. The first translation of the Bible from Hebrew into Greek, called the Septuagint, was written in 250 BC. The Bible is the written word of God. A set of guiding principles concerning all areas of life. The Bible is meant to bring us back into fellowship with God and into a harmonious fellowship with each other. In Genesis (the first book) we are told about the origin of the world, mankind, and how sin entered the world. After that the Old Testament is mainly focused on the history of the nation of Israel which is at the center of the Bible. That doesn't mean that other nations were not important to God. But Israel is the key player in God's plan. He's telling us about the alienation and separation from Him, and how sin has perverted all of God's creation. Through Israel, God reveals his plan of salvation. The Bible is the guide to redemption. The New Testament tells us everything about Jesus, His influence & guidance, His life, death, and resurrection. His disciples reflect on His teachings and His meaning to the entire world. They give us a guide for how to live a godly life in Christ. The last book of the Bible, Revelation, tells us about the end times, what is to come, about the kingdom of the Lord, and eternity.

Misconceptions about the Bible and Christianity

There are lots of misconceptions about the Bible, Christian living, and religion.

1. Religion is not 100% based on the Bible. Therefore, the Bible is not a religion. Religion is man-made. It's a bunch of people that came together with their own interpretation of the Bible or biblical events, which is mainly flawed and teaches unbiblical doctrines. Best examples are Catholics, Mormons, Jehovah's Witnesses and Calvinists. They all made the word of God something that it isn't. If it's not 100% Bible based it's not of God.
2. "Once you become a Christian, God will solve all of your problems." That's not true. You will face trials and hardship like anyone else. But you will be equipped with the word of God and the Holy Spirit, and that makes these situations more bearable. It gives you hope and strength so that you will be able to overcome your tribulations. God has a plan for your life, and you have a purpose. Trials and tribulations shape you into the person you need to be in order to fulfill your purpose. Whatever that might be.

3. "The Bible is only a set of rules that takes away the fun in life." This is a statement made by people that indulge in sin. People that hate accountability. The Bible does not take away the fun in life – it supports awareness of one's own actions, the goal to walk blameless in the eyes of God and lays out the principles of being a good and loving human being that respects their neighbors and environment. If that sounds boring to people then sin has taken over their lives. There's nothing wrong with living a life of goodness, peace, and joy. And that's what God wants for us on earth. To honor Him by imitating Him and His goodness.
4. "Believers think they are perfect and hate everyone who is not like them." – that couldn't be further away from the truth. Jesus didn't die for perfect people. Jesus died for the broken ones, the hopeless, hurting, sinning, failing and imperfect people. Christians strive to be like Jesus, but we will never be perfect due to our sinful nature. The Holy Spirit convinces the believer of sin where an unbeliever wouldn't even notice that he has sinned. This way we can work on ourselves to improve whatever we're lacking to achieve goodness. God uses our imperfections to make us grow in our faith and as a person. And true believers don't hate anyone. Our God is the God of love, and as I just said, we aim to live a life like Jesus. We don't hate anyone who doesn't believe or doesn't walk on the path of righteousness. We don't hate homosexuals or transgender. If we hate anything, it is sin. We rebuke the sin, not the sinner.
5. "Why does God let bad things happen to people?" – God is not doing anything actively. The only thing God did and still does, is letting sin take its course. We as humans do the rest. So, since we live in a sinful world, death, pain, and loss do happen - to believers and unbelievers. Sometimes it's not a result of sin but rather for a greater purpose that we may not understand immediately. We may never understand, but God has a plan for each of us, and we just need to trust in God in these difficult times, and know it has a purpose. We endure whatever comes our way while focusing on the life ahead which is with God once our earthly body either passes away or gets raptured by God. There are some religions that teach that God promises health, wealth, and prosperity for all who live a godly life. But this is false teaching. The only time God would actively intervene is in prayer.
6. "Churches are safe places where you can trust everyone." – unfortunately, we live in a fallen world where evil resides, which makes this a false statement. We all have heard about the abuse of children in the Catholic Church. It is far from my understanding how they could even consider doing something like this, but then on the other hand, the Catholic Church is built on false doctrines. This religion got corrupted when they mixed paganism with biblical doctrines. I will elaborate on this later. Other than that, not everyone has honorable intentions that enters a church. People can come to church with good intentions but then fall back into old patterns of sin. One of the most dangerous places, if not properly guarded, is the children's ministry.
7. "You can't enjoy earthly pleasures as a Christian." That's not true. The question is: what do you define as pleasure? There are lots of things to do that don't defile you or lead you towards a dark path. God created all good, wholesome, and fun things we have on this earth as a blessing for us to enjoy. The key is not holding on to these earthly things too tightly because our promise is in heaven.
8. "As a believer you have to belong to a religion and pay money to the church/ taxes to the state." Nope. Untrue. First and foremost, you belong to God. I personally would never associate myself with any religion due to what I just said – they don't teach sound biblical doctrines. Plus, if you declare yourself a Catholic or Protestant or whatever it may be, and register this, you will most likely be forced to pay taxes for being “religious”, depending on where you live. That’s not the Bible’s intent. Again, that’s man-made. Your sole focus should be on the actual Bible. There are many non-denominational churches out there that base all their teaching solely on the Bible. There is a thing that’s called “tithing” where believers pay money towards a church. Usually that would be 10% of your income. Based on Bible teaching. It’s not a must. It’s like donating. I do it because I want to support the church in their mission to teach and spread the word of God, and because God commanded it. He asked for a tenth of our profits so that we support His work. In return He will bless us. Proverbs 3:9-10 “Honor the Lord with your wealth, with the first fruits of all your crops; then your barns will be filled to overflowing, and your vats will brim over with new wine.”

9. “The Bible is full of contradictions.” This is something people say to denounce the Bible without knowing what is written in it. They hear or read certain verses, take them out of context and misinterpret them. The Bible is perfect in itself. It’s extremely complex and at times difficult to understand, but there are no contradictions or faults in the Bible. I read it. I can attest to that.
10. “The Bible goes against science.” It actually doesn’t. In fact, science often went against the Bible, just to find out later on that the Bible was right and science was wrong. I’m going to add a science part at the end of the book for you to understand this.
11. “God is tempting people.” This is not true. James 1:13-14 says, “When tempted no one should say ‘God tempted me.’ For God cannot be tempted by evil, nor does he tempt anyone, but each person is tempted when they are dragged away by their own evil desire and enticed. Then, after desire has conceived, it gives birth to sin; and sin, when it is full-grown, gives birth to death.” When we sin, we sin due to our evil desires. Not because of God. God doesn’t make us do anything. Due to our sinful nature we are drawn to sin. But, as I already mentioned, there is a way out. And as soon as you understand and accept this truth, your view of the world, and yourself, changes automatically.

Fulfilled Bible Prophecies

Let me fill you in on some prophecies that came true, so you have some evidence. Approximately 2500 prophecies appear in the pages of the Bible, about 2000 of which already have been fulfilled to the letter. No errors. 2 major prophecy books are Isaiah and Daniel, and of course Revelation. But Revelation is mainly about things yet to come.

1. In about 700 BC, the prophet Micah named Bethlehem as the birthplace of Israel’s Messiah (Micah 5:2), which came true when Jesus was born in Bethlehem. At the time of Jesus’ birth, there were two Bethlehems. And God did not simply tell Micah that the Messiah would be born in one Bethlehem, but specifically said in which Bethlehem Jesus would be born. This is clear from the original language, in which the two places are distinguished by an additional word.
2. In the 5th century, a prophet called Zechariah declared that the Messiah would be betrayed for the price of a slave (Zechariah 11:12-13), thirty pieces of silver, according to Jewish law. This money was paid to Judas Iscariot for betraying Jesus, confirmed by Bible writers and secular historians.

3. About 400 years before crucifixion was invented, both Israel's King David and Zechariah described the Messiah's death in words that depict that mode of execution perfectly. They said that the body would be pierced, and that none of the bones would be broken. Usually there would be broken bones, due to the executioner breaking the legs of the crucified to make them die quicker. But Jesus had a quick death, so they didn't break His legs on the cross (John 19:32-33).
4. Isaiah foretold that a conqueror named Cyrus would destroy seemingly impregnable Babylon and subdue Egypt along with most of the rest of the known world. He made this prophecy 150 years before Cyrus was born, and 180 years before he performed any of these feats (he performed all of them).
5. Isaiah (13:17-22), written during the 8TH century BC, and Jeremiah (51:26, 43), written before 580 BC, both declare Babylon's doom (Babylon fell in 539 BC). They further claimed that the city would never be inhabited again and that it would be avoided by travelers. Facts.
6. Moses foretold (with some additions by Jeremiah and Jesus) that the ancient Jewish nation would be conquered twice and that the people would be carried off as slaves each time. In fact, they were conquered by the Babylonians for a period of 70 years and then by Rome. Moses said that the 2nd conqueror (Rome) would take the Jews captive to Egypt in ships, selling them or giving them away as slaves to all parts of the world. Both of these predictions were fulfilled to the letter, the first in 607 BC and the second in AD 70. Moses also predicted that the Jews would remain scattered throughout the entire world for many generations, but without becoming assimilated of other nations, and that the Jews would one day return to the land of Palestine to re-establish for a second time their nation (Deuteronomy 29; Isaiah 11:11-13; Jeremiah 25:11; Hosea 3:4-5 and Luke 21:23-24). This prophetic statement sweeps across 3500 years of history for its complete fulfillment – in our lifetime (in 1948 Israel became officially a nation with their own country).
7. Joshua prophesied that Jericho would be rebuilt by one man. He also said that the man's eldest son would die when the reconstruction began and that his youngest son would die when the work reached completion (Joshua 6:26). About 500 years later this prophecy found its fulfillment in the life and family of a man named Hiel (1 Kings 16:33-34).
8. Jeremiah predicted that despite its fertility and despite the accessibility of its water supply, the land of Edom (today part of Jordan) would become a barren, uninhabited wasteland (Jeremiah 49:15-20, Ezekiel 25:12-14). His description accurately tells the history of that now bleak region.
9. Isaiah 52:13-15 and 53:1-12 prophesied about the Messiah. This prophecy was fulfilled by Jesus over 700 years later. Examples from the text are: "Just as there were many who were appalled at him — his appearance was so disfigured beyond that of any human being and his form marred beyond human likeness —" Before the Romans nailed Jesus to the cross, they scourged Him (Mark 10:34, John 19:1, Luke 22:63). Scourge = severe flogging, inflicting severe punishment.

“He was despised and rejected by mankind, a man of suffering, and familiar with pain.” Jesus has been rejected by the people of His days (Matthew 8:34, Matthew 21:42, Luke 4:28-29, Luke 23:18, John 5:43)

“But he was pierced for our transgressions, he was crushed for our iniquities; the punishment that brought us peace was on him, and by his wounds we are healed.” Crucifixion was not a means to kill anyone in Isaiah’s time. Jesus was literally pierced when He was nailed to that cross. He was also pierced after His body was dead (John 19:33-34).

These are just a few prophecies to show you the accuracy of the Bible. All this has been studied by historians and scientists (believers and unbelievers) and has been confirmed to be true. There are so many more prophecies regarding the 1st coming of Jesus Christ and in regard to the end times, in which we live right now. Which is why I am writing all of this to you. I need you to understand where we are at on the timeline, so that you can judge for yourself and decide, not based on the lies that are out there, but based on the evidence presented, and your newly gained knowledge about a side of the world, which was hidden from you up until now.

The Trinity

God is presented in the Bible as the Trinity – He is 3 in 1. He is God, He is Jesus, and He is the Holy Spirit. These are the 3 forms in which God appears in the Bible, and each form serves a specific purpose. Jesus is for us people – God in the flesh, so he could spread the truth about God on earth by being part of humanity, and also become the ultimate sacrifice to redeem our sins. God in the flesh was easier for us to understand, and to grasp His divine existence. And he came to show us the wonders God can perform. It was humanity's chance to see, believe, and bear witness to the power and glory of God so that future generations may come to faith, and get saved by the grace and mercy of our creator. He who knows Him, who accepts His free gift of salvation, he who believes, will have eternal life with God after our worldly life ends.

The Holy Spirit

You can think of the Holy Spirit as your consciousness, which when you believe in God, is not called consciousness, but the Holy Spirit. The term “consciousness” was invented by the very people that made up evolution and New Age (crystals, amulets, yoga, reiki, mantras, self-healing, energy, third eye etc.), and all the other things. But this is the closest and easiest to understand explanation I can give, so you have an idea of what I am talking about. It's the voice in your head that makes you aware of anything bad you do. The Holy Spirit reveals God's thoughts, teaches, and guides believers into all truth, including knowledge of what is to come. He also helps Christians in their weakness and intercedes for them. He saves, comforts, enables, fills, seals, and sanctifies. He is the one who convinces the believer when he sins, or does anything immoral, and leads him to repentance. He is the voice that keeps you on the path of righteousness and reminds you constantly of Jesus' teachings. He protects us from satanic influences. He's the direct connection to God, and a sign that we are His. When you have the Holy Spirit, you can actually feel Him. I never knew I could feel that way until the day I accepted Jesus in my life. I have never felt so at peace and fearless. I feel safe in any situation, and I have no worries about anything anymore. He is absolutely liberating. Someone online described the moment when he received the Holy Spirit as follows: "I was at my breaking point. And that is when I had an experience with Christ in 2016, when His Spirit descended upon me like a ray of light from heaven as I laid on my bathroom floor alone and broken, thinking of Him at the cross, and suddenly an overwhelming love and peace flooded into my belly, and I knew Jesus was God. I cried for most of the day." By the way, you don't have to have read the Bible to have this experience. Many people read the Bible afterwards in order to learn more about God and build a relationship with him. I personally don't remember the exact day I received the Spirit, but I know how I feel when He's moving me. It's an overwhelming feeling of warmth and at the same time you get goosebumps. I feel like I have to cry, I actually cry or, depending on the situation, I feel an overwhelming conviction inside of me that leads me to act on different things. My husband describes it the same way, independently from my experience.

There will always be times where we will feel weak, or don't know what to do. He helps us align with God's will by interceding for us during those times of trouble. He guides us through the hard times and fixes our eyes on the promise of eternal life through Him. I read somewhere that: "A true believer is at war with his sin. A false believer is at peace with his sin." Unbelievers don't even notice when they sin. Through the conviction and power of the Holy Spirit, believers will not indulge in sinful acts of the flesh but will bear the good fruit of the Spirit. So, it doesn't mean that because you believe in Jesus you can just go ahead and keep sinning, and still be forgiven. You are expected to depart from sin, and with the help of the Holy Spirit, you will strive to live a better life with a repentant spirit. He is the good voice inside of you. You only receive the Holy Spirit if you believe in God's plan.

Romans 8:14-15: "For those who are led by the Spirit of God are the children of God. The Spirit you received does not make you slaves, so that you live in fear again; rather, the Spirit you received brought about your adoption to sonship. And by him we cry, 'Abba, Father.'"

The believer is also described as the temple of God in 1 Corinthians 3:16 "Don't you know that you yourselves are God's temple and that God's Spirit dwells in your midst?"

Isaiah 11:2 "And the Spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him, the Spirit of wisdom and understanding, the Spirit of counsel and might, the Spirit of knowledge and the fear of the Lord."

Who is Jesus?

Jesus is one of the most well-documented people in the history of the world. He was a man who lived in the 1st century AD. He was born in Bethlehem and lived in Nazareth. His existence is confirmed not only through the Bible but also through Roman records from that time. Romans had no regard for the God of the Bible so, if anything, they could have denied His existence especially since Jesus was believed to be directly related to God. The Bible tells us that Jesus is the Son of God. How does that work? Well, with God anything is possible. You are required to think outside of your box now. God was, before anything else existed. That's what He tells us in the Bible. God is at all times everywhere, knows everything that is going on, and could intervene anywhere at any time. He created everything you can see, and also all the things you can't see. He lives in a different realm. You might call it "dimension." He exists outside of space and time. If that's too hard to imagine, trust me, you're not alone. I was struggling with that as well. But at some point you just accept it. Who are we to believe we know everything with our limited abilities? Proverbs 3:5 "Trust in the Lord with all your heart; do not depend on your own understanding."

So, here is what God did. He caused Mary (Jesus' mother) to become pregnant. But not of a human seed. Of His spirit. Due to God's perfect and sin free nature, Jesus was not born a sinner like everyone else. Every human conceived through a man and a woman is born into sin, as I already mentioned. Adam and Eve's descendants ALL inherited the sinful nature due to their disobedience to God. But Jesus did not because He was not of a human seed. When he was born and walked this earth, he fulfilled more than 300 prophecies, recorded hundreds, and thousands of years before he was born. This is how we know that Jesus is the one the Bible spoke of throughout the entire Old Testament. Jesus is called the "Messiah" which means in Hebrew "the anointed one" or "the chosen one." Back then in Israel, people were anointed with oil to consecrate themselves to God for a specific role. The Messiah is someone set apart for God, chosen for a specific purpose. The first mention of His coming was in the very beginning of the Bible. In Genesis 3 God outlines the punishment for the disobedience of Adam and Eve and for the serpent who fabricated lies to make them sin. He says to the serpent:

"I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your offspring and hers; he will crush your head and you will strike his heel." (Genesis 3:15) "He" and "His" indicate a man, a descendant of Adam and Eve, who will crush the serpents head – who will put an end to the serpent. The serpent stands for Satan. This is explained in other parts of the Bible. When you read the whole Bible you learn that Jesus is the one who will fulfill that prophecy. In Numbers 24:17 we are told that he would be from the line of Jacob. This was written between 1440 and 1400 BC. The Bible gives us full genealogies to be able to prove this.

In Isaiah 11:1 we are told he would be born from the line of Jesse. Isaiah lived between 739 and 681 BC. So this prophecy was made about 700 years before Jesus was born. In Isaiah 7:14 he says that the Messiah would be immaculately conceived (born of a virgin). In Jeremiah 23:5-6 it says that he will be the heir to King David. He also says in Jeremiah 31:15 that a king would murder children in an attempt to kill the Messiah. Jeremiah lived in the 7th century BC. When Jesus was born, news of a newborn king in Bethlehem reached Herod, the King of Judea at this time. He felt threatened by this and ordered his soldiers to kill all male children 2 years and under. Micah 5:2 says that he would be born in Bethlehem. Micah lived in the early 7th century BC. Furthermore, the Bible reveals even more details about the coming Messiah. In Isaiah 11:1 it says that the Messiah would be called the Nazarene which became true because Jesus grew up in Nazareth confirmed in Matthew 2:19-23. Zechariah 9:9 tells us that he will be called a King and that when he comes he will ride on a donkey. Zechariah was written between 520 and 470 BC. Luke 22:47-48 and Matthew 27:9-10 confirm the prophecy. Isaiah 53:12 says that he would be killed with criminals. Matthew 27:38 confirms this and tells us that Jesus was crucified with two rebels.

These are just a few of the prophecies about the Messiah and the fulfillment. I have personally read so many more. Let me just tell you, it becomes very clear who Jesus is and what his purpose is.

And what exactly is that? His purpose? I told you about God's plan. The plan is Jesus. Jesus is the plan. He is the son of God who died for our sins. God told us through His prophets in advance about Jesus' birth, life, death, and resurrection. So, when the Messiah comes, people will be able to identify him for who He is. While there were many that did just that, there were also many that refused to accept Jesus as the Messiah. The Jews, especially the Sanhedrin, Sadducees and Pharisees expected a King, not a poor carpenter from Nazareth. Jesus did not meet their expectations of a Messiah, so they denied his authenticity. And in 33 AD they eventually killed him by nailing him to the cross after he had to carry it through the streets of Jerusalem. And unknowingly they fulfilled Bible prophecy by executing him. This day is also documented outside of the Bible. From the Bible we know that Jesus was resurrected after 3 days. There are many people that don't believe in the resurrection of Jesus Christ. They believe that the New Testament writers invented the resurrection. When you think about where the New Testament came from you'll find out

Sanhedrin

The Great Sanhedrin was the supreme court of ancient Israel, made up of 70 men and the high priest.

Pharisees

The Pharisees were an influential religious sect within Judaism in the time of Christ and the early church. They were known for their emphasis on personal piety, their acceptance of oral tradition in addition to the written Law, and their teaching that all Jews should observe all 600-plus laws in the Torah, including the rituals concerning ceremonial purification. They seemed to control the decision-making of the Sanhedrin because they had popular support among the people.

Sadducees

In first-century Israel, Sadducees were a religious faction that wielded societal power in nearly every aspect. These men hated Jesus and were the Jewish aristocrats of their day, known as much for their wealth and corruption as for their religious devotion.

that it came from Judaism. The question you have to ask yourself is: why would these Jewish believers, who thought they were God's chosen people, invent a resurrected Jesus? What motivation would they have for that? It makes no sense at all. If one of them would have said "Let's start a religion." And another one would wonder why and ask what it would get them, then the first one would answer "Well, first off we would get kicked out of the synagogue. And then we are going to get beaten, tortured, and killed." Do you think the other guy is going to go "Hey yes, let's do it."? There is no motivation for a Jew to invent the resurrected Jesus. The resurrection created the New Testament writers. In fact, there wouldn't be a New Testament if there wasn't a resurrection. It's the evidence for everything Jesus had accomplished during His time on earth. The New Testament writers were trying to make clear that this was not just a kindness or mercy of God for Jesus. This is the vindication of who He was, and His claims, and they are letting you know that you need to pay attention now. The resurrection is not just a reversal of death, it's a whole new kind of life. It gives the world a glimpse of what God has in store for all who believe in Jesus. It's a preview of our own resurrection, and the promise God made to us through Jesus.

God's Plan

Now, concerning God's plan: there are 2 options. We either go to "heaven" or to "hell." Heaven stands for the realm where God lives (whatever that looks like – it's not in the physical heaven), and hell and the lake of fire stand for the place where Satan and all his followers will end up for eternity. And as of the description in the Bible, it doesn't sound like a place anyone wants to be in. We know from what Jesus said that hell is an:

- eternal (Matthew 25:41 "Then he will say to those on his left, 'Depart from me, you who are cursed, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels.'"),
- physical (Revelation 20:14-15 "Then Death and Hades were thrown into the lake of fire. And if anyone's name was not found written in the book of life, he was thrown into the lake of fire."), and
- horrifying (Mark 9:43 "If your hand causes you to stumble, cut it off. It is better for you to enter life (eternity) maimed than with 2 hands to go to hell, where the fire never goes out.") place where those who've sinned are headed. And I don't want you to be there. But this is your decision. I won't push nor force you in believing in God and His plan for your redemption.

So, let me explain what this decision looks like. If you want to believe in the word of God (the Bible), the following is just something you have to accept as truth. This is what we learn from the Bible/God:

We know already that we are all born sinners. From the moment we are conceived. And as a sinner your soul goes to hell (or into the lake of fire as the eternal destination) when your physical body dies because your spirit is separated from God through sin. This lake of fire was originally created for Satan and the fallen angels but will be the eternal destination for everyone who did not re-unite with God. To help us out of our sinful state, God designed a plan to save us from an eternity in agony, pain, and suffering. In the Old Testament people had to atone for their sins with blood. This was only temporary and didn't do anything for their salvation. But that was their way of repenting and giving honor and glory to God. This was specifically for the Jews. God announced through His prophets the coming of the Messiah. The man who will put an end to sacrifices and offer Himself as the ultimate blood sacrifice to redeem us of our sins so we will be saved by His blood and the grace of God. This man is Jesus. He came to proclaim the good news (God's plan of redemption). He was God's way of communicating with us in a form that we would be able to grasp. Jesus was God in the flesh. He came in form of a human to have fellowship with us. He is not some far distant god; he came to have a personal relationship with his creation. He taught the people back then about God and His plan. He was the Blessed Hope. He healed people from diverse diseases and ailments through their faith and raised people from the dead. The Bible gives several accounts from eyewitnesses. With all of our "knowledge" and "education" today, this is hard to imagine. So, you could say "That's not true.", or you decide to have faith in the reported events that took place during a time you were nowhere close to being alive. Jesus gave hope and restored lost faith in God. But evil is always around. The Jewish leaders felt threatened by Jesus because He was proclaimed to be a king. So, they planned to kill Jesus. Before he died on the cross, He took on all the sins of the world – our past, present, and future sins. He became sin. Our sin. Jesus, who was the only sin free human being that ever existed because He was of God. The sins separated Him spiritually from God (like we are in our original nature), and He died and went to hell. In hell He was tortured like everyone else who is destined to go to that place. But other than the sinner, when Jesus had paid for all of our sins, He Himself was a soul that had never sinned. Therefore, God could legally raise Him from hell because a sin free soul doesn't belong in hell. Jesus was resurrected after 3 days. He was given a new (glorified) body and appeared to His apostles for the next 40 days. This transformation is foreshadowing what will happen to the believers when they die – it's a promise. He then ascended to heaven to be with His father – God. Until He returns to take the church (the believers) home and put an end to Satan and his followers. 50 days after Jesus was resurrected, God sent His Holy Spirit down to earth onto the believers in Jesus Christ. Everyone who comes to believe receives the Holy Spirit. Being a good human with good values and morals is not enough to enter the kingdom of God. Here is what Jesus said in Luke 13:23-28

"Someone asked him, 'Lord, are only a few people going to be saved?' He said to them, 'Make every effort to enter through the narrow door, because many, I tell you, will try to enter and will not be able to. Once the owner of the house gets up and closes the door, you will stand outside knocking and pleading, 'Sir, open the door for us.' 'But he will answer, 'I don't know you or where you come from.' 'Then you will say, 'We ate and drank with you, and you taught in our streets.' 'But he will reply, 'I don't know you or People offered burnt offerings as a way to atone for their wrongdoings, to show appreciation for the Lord, and because they saw it as a way to appease God, whose wrath they feared. They hoped it would serve as a symbolic representation of their wholehearted apology for any and all things they had done wrong or would potentially offend the Lord, whether intended or not. Not all burnt offerings are pleasing to God. Even though God commanded the people to make burnt offerings, it is clear from reading scripture that the sacrifices themselves are not the point of the act — rather it is listening to God, the honor and obedience shown to God, the genuine love and redemption found in the act, not the act itself. No sacrificed animal could take away sin. It only covered it up. In essence, the sacrificial system was necessary to make people understand why Jesus died on the cross.

where you come from. Away from me, all you evildoers!’ “There will be weeping there, and gnashing of teeth, when you see Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, but you yourselves thrown out.”

You can compare that to the following situation: Two men you saw at a supermarket 1 hour ago, come to your house, and ask if they can use your phone in the house. One of them picked up an apple that you had dropped in the fruit isle, and you had a brief chat with him. Of course, you wouldn't just let two strangers into your home. They would plead with you and say that they are good and honest people and that you can trust them. They remind you that they were just talking to you in the supermarket. But you tell them that you don't know them and that they can't come in, and you close the door in front of them. This is how that works with God and His house. If you don't know Him and He doesn't know you, then you won't be able to enter. No matter how good or morally sound you are. He doesn't know you. And when He offered you to know Him by giving you the Gospel of Jesus Christ, you rejected Him. Therefore, you didn't earn the right to be let into His house. But, if you acknowledge that you are a sinner, and you repent of your sins, accept His gift, that you believe what Jesus has done for you on the cross, that He died for your sins so you can live in eternity in the presence of God, then you will enter His house when the time comes. And you will live for eternity in the house of God.

Romans 10:9-10 “If you declare with your mouth, “Jesus is Lord”, and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. For it is with your heart that you believe and are justified, and it is with your mouth that you profess your faith and are saved.”

John 3:16-17 “For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life. For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but to save the world through him.”

Romans 5:8-9 “But God demonstrates his own love for us in this: While we were still sinners, Christ died for us. Since we have now been justified by his blood, how much more shall we be saved from God's wrath through him!”

Romans 8:1-2 “Therefore, there is now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus, because through Christ Jesus the law of the Spirit who gives life has set you free from the law of sin and death.”

In chapter 21 and 22 of Revelation, John describes the time when we have our new body, and the place where we will live. The descriptions here are, again, very detailed, like a lot of other prophecies. So, you get a good picture of what eternity looks like. You can read the full chapters in the Bible.

Revelation 21:1-19

A New Heaven and A New Earth

Then I saw “a new heaven and a new earth,” for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away, and there was no longer any sea. I saw the Holy City, the new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared as a bride beautifully dressed for her husband. And I heard a loud voice from the throne saying, “Look! God's dwelling place is now among the people, and he will dwell with them. They will be his people, and God himself will be with them and be their God. ‘He will wipe every tear from their eyes. There will be no more death’ or mourning or crying or pain, for the old order of things has passed away.” He who was seated on the throne said, “I am making everything new!” Then he said, “Write this down, for these words are trustworthy and true.” He said to me: “It is done. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning, and the End. To the thirsty I will give water without cost from the spring of the water of life. Those who are victorious will inherit all this, and I will be their God and they will be my children. But the cowardly, the unbelieving, the vile, the murderers, the sexually immoral, those who practice magic arts, the idolaters, and all liars—they will be consigned to the fiery lake of burning sulfur. This is the second death.”

The first death is our physical death. Believers only die the first death, as their soul ascends to heaven directly afterwards. This has been proven more than enough by near-death experiences. Unbelievers will die the first death and descend into hell and then they will die a second death when their soul is thrown into the lake of fire, after God has judged them on the Day of Judgement. It's all in the Bible.

The New Jerusalem, the Bride of the Lamb

One of the seven angels who had the seven bowls full of the seven last plagues came and said to me, “Come, I will show you the bride, the wife of the Lamb.” And he carried me away in the Spirit to a mountain great and high, and showed me the Holy City, Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God. It shone with the glory of God, and its brilliance was like that of a very precious jewel, like a jasper, clear as crystal. It had a great, high wall with twelve gates, and with twelve angels at the gates. On the gates were written the names of the twelve tribes of Israel. There were three gates on the east, three on the north, three on the south and three on the west. The wall of the city had twelve foundations, and on them were the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb. The angel who talked with me had a measuring rod of gold to measure the city, its gates, and its walls. The city was laid out like a square, as long as it was wide. He measured the city with the rod and found it to be 12,000 stadia (1400 miles) in length, and as wide and high as it is long. The angel measured the wall using human measurement, and it was 144 cubits (200 ft) thick. The wall was made of jasper, and the city of pure gold, as pure as glass. The foundations of the city walls were decorated with every kind of precious stone.

Revelation 22:12-21

Epilogue: Invitation and Warning

“Look, I am coming soon! My reward is with me, and I will give to each person according to what they have done. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last, the Beginning and the End. “Blessed are those who wash their robes, that they may have the right to the tree of life and may go through the gates into the city. Outside are the dogs, those who practice magic arts, the sexually immoral, the murderers, the idolaters and everyone who loves and practices falsehood. “I, Jesus, have sent my angel to give you this testimony for the churches. I am the Root and the Offspring of David, and the bright Morning Star.” The Spirit and the bride say, “Come!” And let the one who hears say, “Come!” Let the one who is thirsty come; and let the one who wishes take the free gift of the water of life. I warn everyone who hears the words of the prophecy of this scroll: If anyone adds anything to them, God will add to that person the plagues described in this scroll. And if anyone takes words away from this scroll of prophecy, God will take away from that person any share in the tree of life and in the Holy City, which are described in this scroll. He who testifies to these things says, “Yes, I am coming soon.”

Amen. Come, Lord Jesus.

The grace of the Lord Jesus be with God's people. Amen.

Isaiah 65:17-25 speaks about the New Heaven and New Earth as well. These two prophecies have been made about 700 years apart from each other.

New Heavens and a New Earth

“See, I will create new heavens and a new earth. The former things will not be remembered, nor will they come to mind. But be glad and rejoice forever in what I will create, for I will create Jerusalem to be a delight and its people a joy. I will rejoice over Jerusalem and take delight in my people; the sound of weeping and of crying will be heard in it no more. Never again will there be in it an infant who lives but a few days, or an old man who does not live out his years; the one who dies at a hundred will be thought a mere child; the one who fails to reach a hundred will be considered accursed. They will build houses and dwell in them; they will plant vineyards and eat their fruit. No longer will they build houses and others live in them, or plant and others eat. For as the days of a tree, so will be the days of my people; my chosen ones will long enjoy the work of their hands. They will not labor in vain, nor will they bear children doomed to misfortune; for they will be a people blessed by the Lord, they, and their descendants with them. Before they call I will answer; while they are still speaking I will hear. The wolf and the lamb will feed together, and the lion will eat straw like the ox, and dust will be the serpent’s food. They will neither harm nor destroy on all my holy mountain,” says the Lord.

The Book of Revelation

I’m going to give you a short overview of the book of Revelation. It is important to understand that these current events were predicted nearly 2000 years ago, and I know for a fact that most of you are not aware of this. I need you to understand why Christianity and God are such a big deal for so many people and why it should be a big deal for you too. If you’re a believer you most likely are familiar with Revelation, if you’re an atheist, you have most likely never heard about Revelation. So first, let me introduce you to Revelation, so you get an understanding of what exactly the Bible has to do with our current world.

Revelation is the last book of the Bible and was written by a man named John who wrote it around 95 AD. He was imprisoned at that time and wrote down his visions. He described the things he saw in his visions with the language and knowledge that was available to him at that time. Imagine you live in the first century AD and have to describe a tank or a machine gun – impossible. So, if you decide to read it for yourself keep in mind that a person 2000 years ago had to describe what he saw. John was an apostle of Jesus Christ, which means he was a follower of him while Jesus walked this earth. John as well as Jesus were both real people. Genealogies and texts from these times prove this to be a fact. In his book, John was given the Revelation of Jesus Christ by God (which means his writing was inspired by God) to show what soon must take place. It’s filled with prophecies about things to come. It is the warning that the world will surely end. It starts with 7 letters to 7 churches. These churches really existed back then. They were physical buildings. But at the same time, every church mentioned in his letters stands for a type of believer today and also for the church ages throughout history – from the 1st century AD to today. Every letter describes the characteristics of each church (the word “church” is used for the body of believers, not for the building), which are equal with the 7 church ages in the past 2000 years. We are talking about the Apostolic Church (30-100 AD), the Persecuted Church (100-313 AD), the State Church (313-590 AD), the Catholic Church (590-1517 AD), the reformed Church (1517-1790 AD), the Missionary Church (1790-1900 AD) and the Apostate Church (1900-today). We know already that he wrote the book during the first church era which means that he couldn't have possibly known, what would happen 2000 years down the road if he wouldn't have had a revelation from God. We will leave it at that, unless you have a better explanation?! Please keep in mind that there are original copies and translations that predate any historical events concerning the church ages. So, no, it couldn't have been manipulated. For a more detailed study on the churches, please refer to Allen Nolan on www.YouTube.com.

From Chapter 4, John gets taken up to heaven in his spirit. At this point, many scholars and theologians believe, that the church of Jesus Christ (his believers) get snatched up (raptured) from earth into heaven by Jesus. Other books (for example, 1 Thessalonians 4:15-17; 2 Thessalonians 2:6-7) in the Bible indicate that God will save His followers from the tribulation. The tribulation is described throughout the Bible, but John goes in much detail about it, so we may know what is to come for this world. It gives every human on this planet the opportunity to turn away from sin and to God, and to accept His offer of redemption so you can live forever with God when the times reach their fulfillment.

So, what does John describe? Again, I need to remind you that we have reached the end-times. This is why I'm writing all of this. It's your chance before it's too late. We, who know the book of Revelation, see the prophecies come true every day now. In Matthew 24 the Apostles ask Jesus how they will know what the signs of Jesus' 2nd coming are and of the end of the age. Jesus tells them that many will come in His name claiming, "I am the Messiah." And they will deceive many. That did happen and is still happening. The list of people is extremely long. You can google it. Jesus also said that there will be wars and rumors of wars, but that we should not be alarmed because these things have to happen, but the end is still to come. He said that nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be famines and earthquakes in various places. But all these things are just the beginning of birth pains. Christians will be persecuted and put to death, and they will be hated by all nations because they believe in Jesus. Many will turn away from faith at that time. And many false prophets will appear and deceive many people. Because of the increase of wickedness, the love of God from most will grow cold but the one that stands firm to the end will be saved. And when the Gospel of Jesus Christ has been preached in the entire world, the end will come. But first the Holy Spirit has to be taken out of the way. And where is the Holy Spirit? In us, the believer. Many call this the rapture of the church, more specifically the pre-tribulation rapture. We don't know about the day and the hour. Jesus said that he will come like a thief in the night. He described it like this: "2 men will be in the field; one will be taken and the other left." The one taken is the believer.

At the point when John gets snatched up into heaven, we don't read about the church again, which is why people believe that we will be taken out of the way and be saved (I personally have a slightly different take on this topic based on my personal study of the Bible, which places the rapture right before the antichrist sets himself up in the temple in Jerusalem 3,5 years after the beginning of the tribulation. But I will explain this in "The Rapture") From that point on, John starts to describe what will happen on earth. First, the antichrist will be revealed on earth. He is going to make a peace treaty with Israel and will rise to power over all the earth. The prophet Daniel had a vision about the antichrist in around 540 BC, written in Daniel 7.

In Revelation 13:1 John wrote: "...And I saw a beast coming out of the sea. It had 10 horns and 7 heads, with 10 crowns on its horns, and on each head a blasphemous name." You surely wonder now what that has to do with the antichrist – it sounds more like a story about monsters. I agree. But the Book of Revelation is full of symbolism. The horns, crowns, heads, even the sea stand for different things. Daniel and Revelation go hand in hand, and you can interpret the Book of Revelation with the help of the book of Daniel. And that's what scholars did. This is how we know the meanings today. So, let me explain to you, what is being said: The beast is the Antichrist in the Bible. He will rise to power at the beginning of the tribulation. What exactly is the tribulation? The tribulation is a period of 7 years right before the return of Jesus Christ. It's the time when God pours out his wrath on earth and the people. During this time, first the earth will be judged and later on the people. The judgement comes in different forms including war, pestilence, famines, earthquakes, death, destruction, asteroids etc. It is the final period, Daniel's 70th week, and is the conclusion of the end times. What are the end times? The end times were predicted throughout the entire Bible (so, even before John wrote about it - you can find it in the Old Testament in Daniel and Isaiah for example) and mark the end of our world as we know it. This period will ultimately culminate in the return of Jesus Christ, and this will mark the beginning of the 1000 years, in which Jesus will rule over the world. All evil will be destroyed, and we will live in peace and harmony like before the fall of Adam and Eve. Before or at the beginning of the tribulation there will be a war. Peace will be taken from the earth and people will start to kill each other. In Ezekiel (38-39), World War 3 is predicted. And this is the interpretation of what will happen at this time: There will be terrible inflation due to the war. And there will be famines and droughts, and because of it, food will be rationed. John also says that the gap between the poor and the rich will grow even bigger and that the rich will not be affected by it. Life will be reduced to bare necessities for anyone who doesn't belong to wealthy 1%. After that there will be a great earthquake like never seen before, which will make volcanoes erupt. They will make the sun turn black (because of the ashes in the air). And the moon will turn blood red and the stars in the sky will fall to earth (potentially meteorites). The description from there is a little more difficult but based on what is being written (and when you take the original language into account), it most likely says that the polar axis will shift and/or all the landmasses will shift from their places, as in a total tectonic plate shift on the entire earth. It is estimated that a quarter of the population will die during this time. Let's get a little deeper on the topic of the antichrist. John gives us a lot of details about him in Revelation 13. As I already said, the antichrist is the beast in the book. No one will know who he is until the church gets raptured. He will bring peace and prosperity. John said that he would have a fatal wound, but that it would heal, and many would follow him because of this miraculous healing. He will allow the Jews to rebuild the Temple in Jerusalem, which doesn't exist at the current moment. He will break the peace treaty halfway through the tribulation and set up an idol or abomination in the Temple and declare himself as God because he doesn't have regard for any god. He is believed to be a political, commercial, military, and religious genius who is charismatic and wins the people over. He will demand to be worshipped and will establish worldwide dominance. But he will only be allowed to exercise authority for 42 months (3,5 years). There will be a second beast. He will exercise all the authority of the antichrist on his behalf and make everyone worship the antichrist. Anyone who will refuse to worship him, will be killed. The second beast will force all people to receive a mark on their forehead or right hand so that they cannot buy or sell unless they had the mark, which is the name of the beast or the number of its name (666 – for Satan). I'm sure you've seen that number before.

The tribulation is a redemption process to clean the earth from its curse and to bring it back to where it was before the fall of Adam and Eve. God shows His power. He shows that science will not be able to protect anyone from His wrath and that the antichrist and Satan have deceived most, but they can't win this battle. From here, God has angels sound 7 trumpets and with every trumpet another judgement comes on earth. It starts with hail and fire. Then a huge volcano erupts, or a very big asteroid will fall into the sea that turns the sea red and a third of any living being on and in the water dies. Then there will be a great meteor that will turn a third of the waters bitter and many people will die from it.

Next, the days and nights will be cut short by 1/3. It says that a third of the day and the night will be without light – utter darkness. This part of the trumpets is for the earth specifically. The other 3 trumpets are for the people on earth. A plague is to come on the people in the form of locusts (or that is at least how John describes them – it could be something else based on his detailed description of them that sounds like they come out of a horror movie), that are not allowed to kill the people but to torture them for 5 months. John says that the sting feels like the sting of a scorpion and people will seek death but won't find it. Next, there will be an army of 2 million people, crossing what once was the Euphrates River. The way John describes the troops, makes scholars believe that he is talking about Chinese soldiers. This country is the only country east of the Euphrates River that could deploy 2 million soldiers since they have a population of over 2 billion people. This specific river is drying out at this current moment. Its waters reached a level never seen before in history. The river running dry is the only way 2 million soldiers could cross this area. One of the clear signs for the end times. The war will kill a third of mankind, John says. After that, there will be another set of 7 bowls of Gods wrath poured out onto the earth. First, people that accepted the mark of the beast will develop ugly, festering sores. Then the sea will turn into blood and every living thing in it will die. After that, all the rivers and springs will turn into blood. This happens as a just judgment from God whose people were slaughtered over millennia. So, now Satan's people get to drink the blood they have shed all these years. The 4th bowl will be poured out on the sun, and it will sear the people on earth by the intense heat. The people on earth will know at this point that the judgement of God is on them, but they'll still refuse to repent from their sins. Ultimately, the kings (or leaders) are going to be gathered together in the place that is called Armageddon (this is the hill of Megiddo in Palestine). This place has been a battleground for many military encounters. Then the last angel will pour out his bowl and an earthquake will shatter the earth like none has ever done before. Every island and mountain will disappear, and huge hailstones (each 100 pounds) will fall on people. Jerusalem will be split into 3 parts and all cities of the nations will collapse. Satan and the antichrist will be captured and chained for 1000 years.

When Jesus returns with the saints (the raptured church), the dead in Christ will rise from the grave and everyone who remained alive and is a believer will rise as well and join Christ. And together we will defeat evil and rule over the earth, and over whoever made it through the tribulation, for 1000 years. It reads as if the earth will be repopulated and at the end of the 1000 years, Satan will be released for a little while, and again, deceive many nations. He then will be thrown into the lake of fire and burn forever and ever. And the nations that come against God will be burned up. After that, the dead will be raised – anyone who had ever died (believer and unbeliever) will be alive again and stand in front of God to receive their judgement based on what they had done during their lifetime. Anyone whose name will not be found written in the book of life (only the name of the believer will be in there) will be cast into the lake of fire and they will burn for eternity. That means, your soul won't die. It will suffer and get tortured forever, while everyone else who believed in Jesus will dwell with Him in His kingdom for all eternity. Then John sees a new heaven and a new earth, because the old heaven and old earth had passed away.

This is the shortest paraphrasing I could produce from the book of Revelation. I would still suggest reading it for yourself, because I had to leave out a lot of details. I wanted to show you what is to come so you would be able to decide if that matters to you, and if you might want to take the way out.

The Rapture

The word “rapture” is not found in the Bible. It’s translated from the Latin word “rapio” which means to seize or snatch or removal from one place to another. This is how God described the disappearance of Enoch when He took him up to heaven in Genesis 5:24 and the prophet Elijah in 2 King 2:11. There are 4 different theories about the rapture of the church (church = believers). 1. There is no rapture, the believer has to endure the wrath of God. 2. Pre-tribulation rapture – the believer will be taken up to heaven before the tribulation begins. 3. Mid-tribulation rapture – the believer will be snatched up before the antichrist is revealed 3,5 years into the tribulation. 4. Post-tribulation rapture – the believer gets removed by Jesus when he returns in the 2nd coming. A lot of people believe in the pre-tribulation rapture based on several Bible verses. Two of my favorite pastors believe in the pre-trib. And they have good arguments. Yet, after reading the Bible for myself and connecting various verses and books with each other, I understand that it will be a mid-trib rapture. I’m not going to lay it out here. I will have additional information on that for anyone who’s interested. In the great scheme of things, it ultimately doesn’t matter. Your faith shouldn’t be built on a potential saving from Gods wrath but on the promise of eternal life in the presence of our Creator. Would it be nice to be saved? Sure, but we will be with Him no matter what. The danger of focusing on the pre-trib rapture is that there will be a great falling away when it doesn’t happen because people will think it’s all not true.

It is widely believed that God would save everyone who hasn’t reached the age of accountability. This is not exactly written in the Bible, and therefore not a fact, but based on what we know about Gods character, we believe that He is going to save the children as well. We would love for them to be saved as well since they are too small to know good from evil or Jesus. But to be safe, it is advised to teach them about God and Jesus, so when the time comes and they reach a point in which they are not considered innocent anymore, they can live a life of righteousness, knowing God and being saved. In Matthew 18:2-7 and 10-14 Jesus talks about children.

“He called a little child to him and placed the child among them. And he said: “Truly I tell you, unless you change and become like little children, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. Therefore, whoever takes the lowly position of this child is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven. And whoever welcomes one such child in my name welcomes me.”

Causing to Stumble

“If anyone causes one of these little ones—those who believe in me—to stumble, it would be better for them to have a large millstone hung around their neck and to be drowned in the depths of the sea. Woe to the world because of the things that cause people to stumble! Such things must come, but woe to the person through whom they come!”

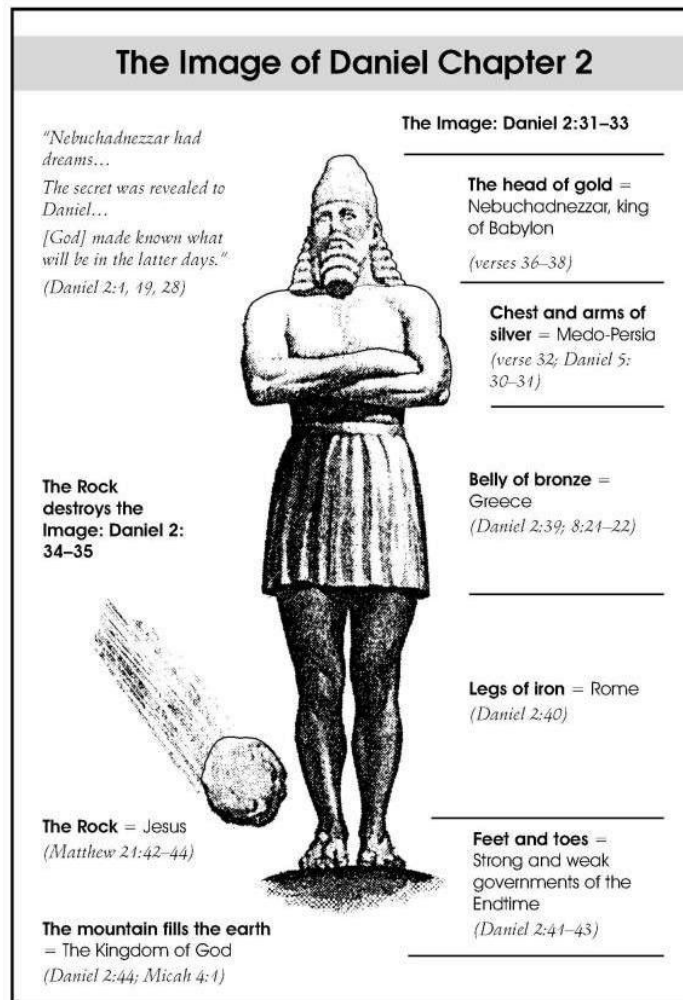

The Parable of the Wandering Sheep

“See that you do not despise one of these little ones. For I tell you that their angels in heaven always see the face of my Father in heaven. “What do you think? If a man owns a hundred sheep, and one of them wanders away, will he not leave the ninety-nine on the hills and go to look for the one that wandered off? And if he finds it, truly I tell you, he is happier about that one sheep than about the ninety-nine that did not wander off. In the same way your Father in heaven is not willing that any of these little ones should perish.”

Daniel's Prophecy

I want to talk about a prophecy Daniel received. Daniel was a prophet who lived from 620 BC – 536 BC. There are several prophecies in the book of Daniel, but I just want to focus on this one right now.

Daniel was called to interpret a dream for Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon at that time. In Daniel 2:31-45 he tells the king his dream and interprets it for him. In the dream, Nebuchadnezzar saw a great statue with a head of gold, breast and arms of silver, belly and thighs of brass, legs of iron, and the feet and toes were iron mingled with clay. After this he noticed that a large stone came and smashed the image on the feet, destroying the entire structure.

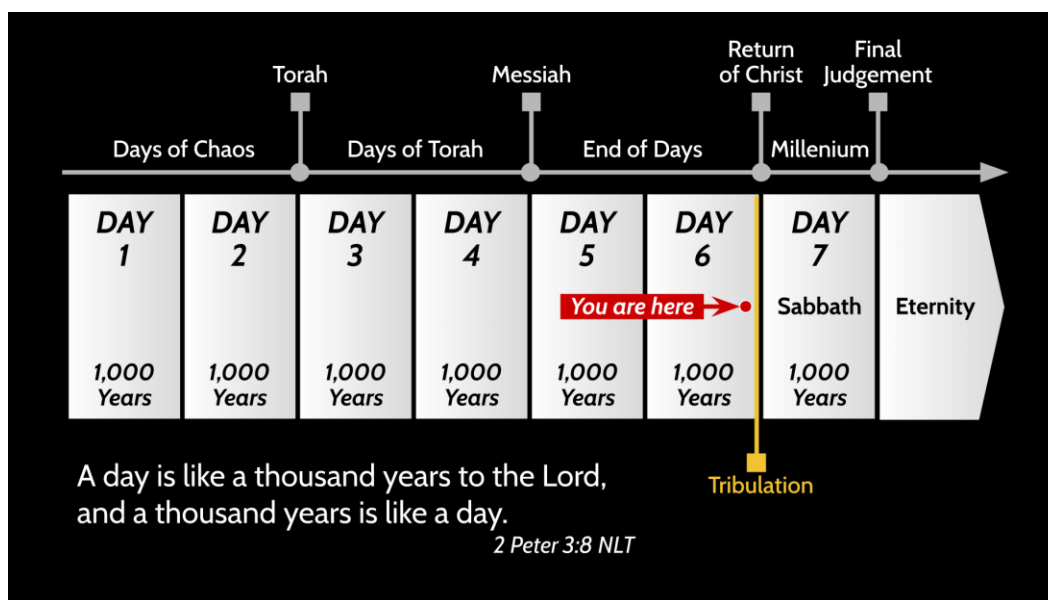

This prophesy was made in around 602 BC. In it Daniel predicted the 5 world empires (he lived during the 1st empire). Everything came to pass the way he said over the course of the centuries. This prophecy became world history. We are now in the time of the feet – iron mixed with clay, which has been interpreted by most scholars as the revived Roman Empire. We surely wouldn't call it that today, but you can see how the United Nations might fit the description. The 10 toes are the 10 kingdoms that will rule when the antichrist rises up. He will subdue 3 of the kingdoms and rule over the world, as the one world leader. The rock that hits the feet stands for Christ's return. He will smash the statue (destroy the nations) and establish His kingdom on earth for 1000 years.

The Messianic Timeline

The messianic timeline is extracted from the Bible, beginning to end. In 2 Peter 3:8 we are told "A day is like a thousand years to the Lord, and a thousand years is like a day."

People have created various timetables to help us understand what that means. God created the heavens and the earth in 6 days. He rested on the 7th day. The 7th day is holy to God. Due to what Peter told us, we know that 1 day for God equals 1000 years for us on earth. It's also called the "cosmic week." Numbers are extremely important in the Bible. They are the basis for many prophecies and help us see the perfection in which the Bible was written. There's a documentary on YouTube called "Messiah 2030" which unveils the insane amount of logical timely connections made throughout the Bible. These connections could not have been made by humans. The Bible had about 40 authors in 3 different continents – there is no way they could have cooperated to make this happen. There are so many connections that it is impossible to lay them all out for you here in my book. You have to see it for yourself.

This is a very simple form and an example for the 7 days translated into millennia. Based on this, we are now at the end of the 6th day or at the end of 6000 years. The beginning of the 7000th year marks the return of Jesus Christ and therefore the beginning of the Millennium, Christ's reign on earth for 1000 years (or 1 day) after the tribulation. When the 7th day (or 7000 years) is over there will be a final judgement. Jesus will judge the nations – everyone who has ever existed and died will be raised up (as Jesus was) and receive an eternal body – also the people in hell. We all will stand in front of the judgement seat of God. He will judge us by what we have done during our lifetime. Anyone who did not receive God's gift of salvation, who didn't accept Jesus as their Lord and Savior, will be sent to the lake of fire and will suffer for eternity. They won't die and vanish. They will be punished for ever and ever. When this is done, the New Heavens and the New Earth will be created, and God's people will live an eternal life in peace and joy.

The End Times

For centuries man has believed that the end of the world as we know it would come. An event preceded by signs and wonders, mysteriously shrouded in the pages of prophecy. Many came and offered individual, not Bible-based "prophecies" about the end of the world, like the Mayans and Nostradamus. But as each generation continues and none of the prophesied end scenarios happened, many ask the question, "When will it be?" Because all of these false prophecies didn't come true, people stopped listening to warnings of the Bible about the last days. Yet, there are many people that adamantly declare that the time is at hand. Bible researchers say that Armageddon is near, and the signs of it's happening are increasing every day. Scholars point from the Bible to the newspaper and claim to witness the fulfillment of words written on scrolls long ago. But what are they finding? Some say the world is coming together as one, And that this one world system will mark the beginning of the end. Man is going back to the Tower of Babel, where all the peoples of the earth were of one speech. And so, nothing which they imagined doing would be withheld from them. Man was unified and built his own stairway to heaven. The global economy marches forward. The United Nations cries "peace" and campaign for a one-world government. Meanwhile, the Pope goes forward as the supposed vicar of Christ to gather all nations into a one world religion, joining hands with Buddhists, Hindus, Voodoo priests, and witch doctors. He tells them, "We're all praying to the same God." (which is not true). Can these things be setting the stage for what the Bible declared centuries ago? There are multiple good reasons for believing in the Bible. In fact, you can't escape the Bible. It is primarily prophecy. Isaiah 46:9-10 says that God will use prophecy to prove His existence and to prove that the Bible is true and His word.

Isaiah 46:9-10 "... I am God, and there is none like me, declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done..."

John 13:19 "I am telling you now before it happens, so that when it does happen you will believe that I am who I am." – spoken by Jesus.

God tells us what is going to happen before it happens. And when it happens, you cannot deny that God exists. That's unique. The Bible is not just an everyday book. There's nothing like it out there. Prophecies have been fulfilled to the letter. These are not cheap psychic predictions – these are world-shaping, history-making events that have in fact made the history of this world, and the whole world could witness their fulfillments. You just can't explain it away. Anybody who's skeptical about this; all they have to do is look to the prophecy dealing with the 1st coming of the Messiah. It lays it all out specifically, where he was going to be born, how he was going to die, how people would treat him. Just things no individual, no human being could have made up. And since all prophecies have been fulfilled to the letter, we can say with confidence that the other prophecies, that are yet to be fulfilled, will be fulfilled. Many people in history claimed to be prophets or have prophetic insight, but they didn't. They used objects tied to ungodly spirits, witches, and Satan (crystal balls, water bowls, ink, blood etc.) to predict the future. They never said that the word of God came onto them, which is what the prophets of the Bible claimed.

The Bible is the premiere source of information about the last days. John, an apostle of Jesus Christ, had visions nearly 2000 years ago, that a one-world empire would come to power in the last days, an empire ruled ultimately by one man. Revelation 13 is indisputable. It says that every nation, kindred, and tongue will worship the beast (antichrist), and that he causes all, small and great, rich, and poor, free and slave to receive a mark in the right hand or forehead, which will enable them to sell and buy. John describes a mysterious figure, a man who will be the one world ruler.

The Antichrist

Who? Where? When? Why?

After many months of research and ever evolving information, I came to the conclusion that there might be more than one scenario for the end times. My information has brought me to two different scenarios. The first one is based on the teachings of several well-educated pastors and theologians. The second one is based on the most recent information I came across and is not a common interpretation of the end times prophecies. In fact I haven't seen it anywhere. Nonetheless, I believe it is a valid interpretation and I want you to at least read about it. None of these scenarios HAVE TO happen the way they are portrait here. These are just interpretations based on the knowledge we have about world events at this very moment. Things constantly change and evolve. So, this is based on the world events as they were happening up until the end of 2023.

Antichrist - Scenario 1

For a believer, the antichrist is nothing to really be worried about, because we will not see him. But, when the Bible points something out and goes into great detail about it, we need to pay attention. There's always a reason for that. So, we will have a closer look now. The "Who?" can't be answered. We are not supposed to know who he is. But he is described in the Bible so we can get a picture of him. "Antichrist" can be broken down into "anti" (Greek: against, in place of) and "Christ" (Greek: Messiah, Anointed One) and can be translated into "someone acting in place of the Messiah" or "against the Messiah." At the same time, anyone who doesn't believe in Jesus is an antichrist as well, just not this specific one, but they are an antichrist, against Christ.

Jesus says in Matthew 12:30 "Whoever is not with me is against me, and whoever does not gather with me scatters."

1 John 2:22 "Who is a liar? It is whoever denies Jesus is Christ. Such a person is the antichrist – denying the Father and the Son."

A liar is someone who knows the truth but lies about it. If you don't know the truth, you're not a liar, you're just wrong. When you go back to the very beginning of time, you will learn about the first one who lied. It was the serpent. Satan.

In Genesis 3:4-5 Satan lies to Adam and Eve. Satan knows what God had told them and knows that it is true. But he lies to them to turn them against God and His law, and this is how he got Adam and Eve to follow him instead of God's instruction. He played on Eve's curiosity and her unsatisfied understanding of why she shouldn't eat the fruit. He brought them to rebel against God's authority and in the second they ate from the tree, they were separated from God, and they died spiritually as God has warned them in advance. Here you can see Satan's character – he's a liar and a deceiver. And this is what he has done up until today and what he will continue to do until the fulness of time; the end of the world as we know it. To make it more understandable – Satan is basically the voice in your head that leads you to do something you know is wrong and that you shouldn't do, but you do it anyway because he's so convincing. And you think things like "It could be fun." or "How bad can it be." or "I don't think it will hurt anyone." or "I'll deal with the consequences later." Somewhere along those lines. You think that's just your consciousness, but it is more than that. Who gave you consciousness? God did. Who gave you the ability to decide what's right or wrong? God did. And it's Satan's influence in your life that makes you go against the good things that God would want you to do. Knowing that God will give you some level of protection because you are aware of the attacker, you learn to fight the bad voice in your head with the support of His word.

So, whoever THE antichrist is going to be, we know he will be a liar, a counterfeit; he'll lie, deceive, and try to be like God. These are the fundamental things we need to understand about him.

"Where?" is he going to come from? Many prophets predicted an antichrist, like Micah, but it was not THE antichrist. There were many types of antichrists throughout history. For example, the antichrist in Micah's prophecy was the Assyrian King Sennacherib (705 BC – 681 BC), and his prophecy came true shortly after he made it. You need to understand that there are specific criteria by which THE antichrist is going to be characterized. And that's why only 3 books (Daniel, 2 Thessalonians and Revelation) in the Bible are valid, when we talk about THE antichrist and not an antichrist. These three books talk about THE antichrist in connection with "ruling the world," "peace for Israel," and "rebuilding of the Temple in Jerusalem." That means, THE antichrist has to fulfill all three of these requirements to be considered THE antichrist and so far, none of the other ones, that already existed, was the true antichrist, they were only types of antichrists. Many people in history acted as if they were god and God dealt with them. The last time God will deal with an antichrist, it will be THE antichrist and this event will bring back Jesus – which is called his 2nd coming (the 1st coming was when he was on earth in the 1st century AD where he got killed by the Jews). Other examples of people that thought they were like God are Napoleon, Caesar, and Hitler.

Another theory about the antichrist that circulates in Christianity is that he is a Muslim. But in reality, a Muslim could not be a ruler over the world because he is hated by all the others, even in his own country. There are too many different Muslim groups in these countries that fight each other. Besides that, a Jew would never accept a Muslim as their leader because Muslims are called to kill Jews. To be THE antichrist, first he needs to be received by everyone as "Messiah" – someone who saves people. So, where could he come from?

Germany is the strongest country in the EU. After them comes France. "The Economist" had a cover with Macron (French President) walking on water asking the question "Europe's savior?" and you see someone drowning next to him. Do you know who really walked on water? Jesus. Do you know who can't save the world? Man.

Satanic symbolism is displayed all over the place in Europe. Have a look at the following examples:

Europa riding the Bull

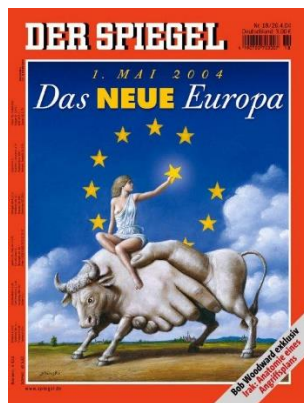

The EU would tell you that this is tied to the Greek mythology, but the story isn't really a fit for the European Union since it concerns an abduction, rape, and death (later on we will find out that it might be a good fit after all). Therefore, the symbolism fits more with the Bible and the book of Revelation 17, where John talks about "a woman sitting on a scarlet beast" who was dressed in purple and scarlet (colors of the Vatican) and was glittering with gold, precious stones, and pearls. This has all symbolic meaning.

Here they used it on a stamp.

Greek 2 Euro coin

Interestingly, there was a statue of the beast described in Daniel 7 and Revelation 13. It was placed in front of the United Nations building and was supposed to represent the "guardian of international peace and security". Really interesting, especially since this description is tied to the Antichrist and he will promise

"peace and security" during the Tribulation. And the UN chose the beast as their symbol...

Revelation 17:3-4 "...There I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast that was covered with blasphemous names and had seven heads and ten horns. The woman was dressed in purple and scarlet, and was glittering with gold, precious stones, and pearls..."

Rev. 17:6 "I saw that the woman was drunk with the blood of God's holy people. The blood of those who bore testimony to Jesus..." She is also described as "...the great prostitute, who sits by many waters." In Rev 17:1.

Rev 17:15 "...The waters you saw, where the prostitute sits, are people, multitudes, nations and languages."

It is believed that the woman is a city because Babylon was the secret name for Rome. More specifically, she could stand for the Vatican – the Catholic Church. This is based on the description of her outfit. The colors of the Vatican are scarlet and purple, and the Catholic Church is the richest institution in the world, hence precious stones, and pearls. The fact that she sits by many waters/nations supports that assumption. The Catholic Church is the most influential religion in the world with over 1 billion followers. Another supporting factor is the description of the woman being drunk with the blood of God's holy people. This most likely refers to the times when the Papal Church of Rome persecuted tens of millions of Christians, Muslims, and Jews for not bowing down to the "authority" of the Papal Church. This reign of terror lasted 1260 years.

"That the Church of Rome has shed more innocent blood than any other institution that has ever existed among mankind, will be questioned by no Protestant who has a competent knowledge of history . . . It is impossible to form a complete conception of the multitude of her victims, and it is quite certain that no powers of imagination can adequately realize their sufferings." (W. E. H. Lecky, History of the Rise and Influence of the Spirit of Rationalism in Europe, vol. 2, p. 32, 1910 edition)

The Throne of Zeus

Hitler hired a man, named Albert Speer, to design the city of Nurnberg. Albert Speer took his inspiration for Hitler's arena, the "Zeppelin tribune" where he held his speeches and gatherings, from the Altar of Zeus also known as the "Throne of Satan," which was located in Pergamon in Greece. It was mentioned in the letter addressed to the church of Pergamon in Revelation 2:13 "I know where you live – where Satan has his throne." They started to move the original piece by piece to Germany from 1878, where they rebuilt it in a museum, called "The Pergamon Museum" – how fitting. Additionally, they moved one of the Ishtar Gates from ancient Babylon to Berlin as well in 1930. Babylon is a symbol for evil and sin.

The Tower of Babel

In Genesis 11 we are told the history of the Tower of Babel. In that time, all nations spoke the same language and they were wicked people led by a man named Nimrod, who reigned over Babylon and Assyria. They started to build a tower which was supposed to build a bridge between heaven and earth so they could place themselves higher than God. They denied and defied God. These were evil people that lived and indulged in sin. When God saw their arrogant behavior and what they were doing, he confused their language and scattered them all over the world because he saw what they were capable of doing when they are united as one. And this is exactly what the WEF (World Economic Forum) and the Illuminati are planning. To come together as one; a one-world government, one-world religion, and one-world currency. Under one leader.

The E.U. Parliament in Strasbourg. Built after the Tower of Babel.

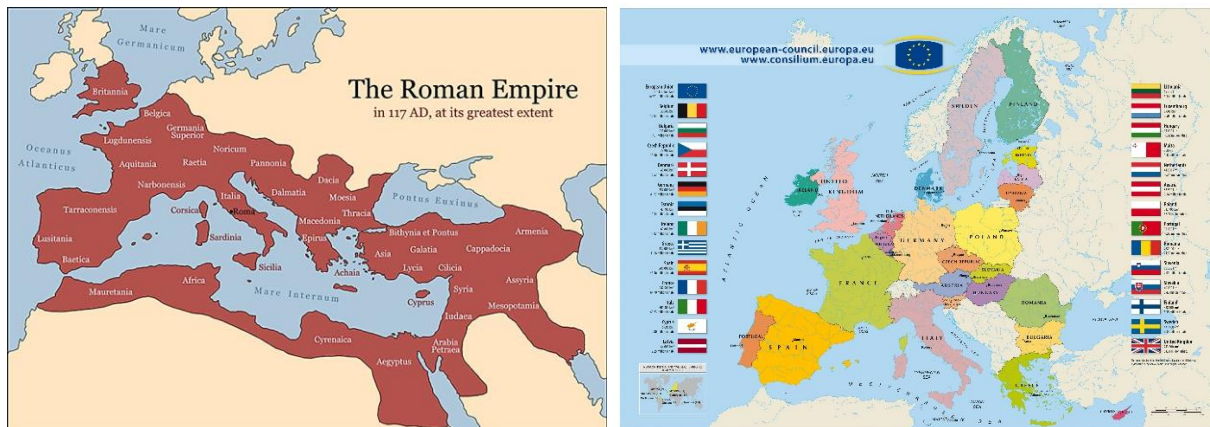

The poster from 2012 with the star on the left holds all the world religions (and new age and satanic symbolism and the sign for communism!) gathered in just one star and clearly suggests a one-world religion. On the right you have a poster from 1992 – the building of the Tower of Babel with the slogan “Europe: many tongues one voice” matching the story of the tower. It is a clear defiance to God. They are talking about bringing all nations together as one – a one-world government. The stars over the tower are not really stars, they were intentionally inverted to form occult upside down pentagrams. They, often superimposed on a goat’s head, are a common symbol for satanic and occult ritual. And this gets used by the EU – just think about that for a minute...

We can see that Europe is filled and saturated with all of that symbolism connected to Satan and evil in general. And when did it all start? We have to go back to the time of the Knights Templar who, as we will learn, appeared to be protectors of the pilgrims but turned out to be evil, greedy, Satan worshipping people, who performed sexual rituals in their order and tricked people out of their possessions. And after passing their traditions on and on through the centuries, they reached the heart of Germany in the 1700s. The same satanic mindset continued when Adam Weishaupt founded the Bavarian Illuminati. Before they were exposed and ceased to exist, they passed the traditions on to an innocent group of people, that were called the Freemasons, who started their first lodge in London in 1717. After having good intentions in the beginning, they started to explore more spiritual and occult teachings and eventually the mindset of the Illuminati continued through them.

Europe as an empire was the Roman Empire. The Roman Empire was defeated by Germanic tribes in 476 AD. That's it, it was gone. But since the 1900s you can see, step-by-step, how the Roman Empire is slowly coming back together. It started in 1923-1926, the Pan-European Movement, started by the Austrian Count. He managed to bring together diverse political figures in the 1st Congress held in Vienna. In 1951 came the Treaty of Paris (which established the European Steel and Coal Community and intended to bring diplomatic and economic stability to Western Europe). And then... the Treaty of Rome which gave birth to the European Economic Community, which later became the European Union. This kind of union has not been there ever since the last Roman Emperor. Notice "Treaty of Rome"? Roman Empire... European Union... It's revived. The revived Roman Empire. So, the stage is set for the antichrist at this point. Today, Europe is saturated with the antichrist spirit. It's filled with blindness and apathy to the word of God. Churches become dance clubs or mosques all across the continent. They implemented an open border policy between 27 European countries called the Schengen Area. In this area they abolished all passport and other types of border control. With that comes a whole lot of problems which we can also see in America these days. It's ruining the economy by having a lot of foreign people needing government assistance. The money to pay for them is taken, of course, from the taxpayer in each country. The migration increases the competition for employment opportunities and could lead to overpopulation in certain countries with stronger economies. We got a glimpse of this issue in 2017 when 2.2 million people sought asylum throughout Europe. In America it is estimated that about 6 million illegal migrants entered the US in 2022. These people get transported by bus to various states. They overrun the cities, leave tons of trash, attacking, raping, robbing, and killing people in the US. It's the same in other countries. The population doesn't feel safe anymore. Some countries, like Germany, try to integrate these migrants into society and they become part of the country. But that applies only to a small part. Others live in areas specifically built for migrants. These people infiltrate the culture, and at some point, Germany bowed down to their increasing demands and adjusted the German culture to accommodate the migrants. And no one in the government is putting a stop to it. This is also called “replacement theory” and describes a situation in which the original population of a country gets replaced by migrants. And this is not a theory anymore – Europe is proof that this is actually happening. Furthermore, politicians in Germany (responsible party: SPD) had the idea to get rid of the Federal Border Police (December 2023). In September 2023, within 2 days, they shipped 7000 migrants to the Sicilian island Lampedusa, which consisted itself of 6000 people. They were shipped to other places later. I just want to give you an idea of what the elite are doing to our countries. The purpose of this is to destroy the culture, to mix the races, destroy Christianity and to get rid of white folks (and/or white supremacy). Why? One can just speculate. Additionally, open border policies increase the amount of sex trafficking since no one gets checked at any of the borders. They found kids underwear and condoms in the same spot close to the Mexican border. These are 2 things you surely don’t want to find together. Yet, this is the harsh reality. Sex trafficking has been a huge issue in the world for centuries and the open border policy is not helping with this in any way.

So, when will THE antichrist come? For this, we have to go back to the 3 books that are the only ones talking about THE antichrist. 2 Thessalonians says he will come after great apostasy, when the Holy Spirit is taken out of the way and before the 2nd coming of Christ. Did you know that the Bible calls the believers the ambassadors of Christ?

2 Corinthians 5:20 “We are therefore Christ’s ambassadors, as though God were making his appeal through us. We implore you on Christ’s behalf...”

Did you know that ambassadors of countries that are about to start a war against each other, are called back home before the fighting starts? So, before THE antichrist comes and this war is going to be waged on earth, and the judgement of God (His wrath) will be poured out on earth, God will call the believers, His ambassadors, home.

2 Thessalonians 2:6-8 “And now you know what is holding him back, so that he may be revealed at the proper time. For the secret power of lawlessness is already at work; but the one who now holds him back will continue to do so till he is taken out of the way. And then the lawless one will be revealed...”

When “he” is taken out of the way – Paul is talking about the Holy Spirit of God which is in the believer. When we are taken out of the way, safe and secure from the wrath of God, THE antichrist will appear. For Christians that means that Jesus will take us home before everything goes south in which is called the “rapture.” So far, we are still here, so the time for THE antichrist has not yet come. There is no doubt, the spirit of the antichrist is everywhere. And you will see it in the course of this book. Take a look at Hollywood, the music industry, sports, politics - it's right there. Lady Gaga openly states that she worships Satan. And Rihanna flashed satanic symbolism on stage during the halftime show at the Superbowl. Beyonce's and Taylor Swift's concerts are comparable to occult rituals at this point as they are saturated with occult symbolism. Companies are pushing the gender agenda on everyone. Schools ban Bibles from their libraries and bookstores move the Bible to the fiction section. Abortion gets promoted and people travel to states far away to be able to abort their unborn babies more than 6 months into pregnancy. The Satanic Temple holds a huge convention in Boston yearly. In Brazil they celebrate a "Satan Carnival". People are being forced to receive vaccinations that didn't go through proper trial phases and that actually kill a lot of people. Yet, they get defended by the masses thanks to effective propaganda by the media. Children are allowed to go through hormone therapies to change their gender. People identify as "they," "we," or cats and this gets widely accepted. Christians are being persecuted and killed in most countries around the world and spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ gets punished with arrest or death. The wealth of this world lies with just a few people. Millions of children are being abducted and sold into sex slavery. The elite is talking about reducing the population to 500 million. And that's not even all of it. But it should clearly show you in what kind of state this world is in. It can't last much longer.

Let's have a look at the "Why?" – why would he even come? According to 2 Thessalonians 2:9 it's because Satan is at work.

"The coming of the lawless one will be in accordance with how Satan works. He will use all sorts of displays of power through signs and wonders that serve the lie, and all the ways that wickedness deceives those who are perishing."

Why do they perish? Because they did not receive the truth that they can be saved. What is the truth? The word of God. So, you have to receive the word of God to be saved. No one is going to shove it into your throat – you have to receive; you have to respond. You have to do something. Nobody is born a Christian. No one ever. Everyone is born into sin. It is a process. One must be born again in order to enter the Kingdom of God. Back in Jesus' time one was born again from water and spirit which refers to water baptism. When you accept Jesus Christ as your Lord and Savior, you are born again. You receive the Holy Spirit in that moment. First, you were born of the flesh, then you're born of the Spirit. That means that we leave our old and sinful life behind and have a new nature, new principles, new aims. We are given fresh eyes and ears, fresh motivations, and a fresh heart – a fresh start so to speak.

John 3:16 "For God so loved the world that He gave His only Son, that whoever believes in Him, shall not perish, but have eternal life."

But if people outright reject God, and do not receive the truth, He will blind them and give them over to the delusions. God doesn't enjoy that. But when they wholeheartedly reject Him, that's what happens. He hardens their hearts. They're condemned for their disbelief. They take pleasure in unrighteousness. They are proud of liking and living sin. And that lawlessness is why THE antichrist is coming. It's his breeding ground. But Paul says as well:

2 Thessalonians 2:3 "Don't let anyone deceive you by any means. For that day will not come unless the falling away comes first."

Deception and apostasy. People will fall away from faith. This has been going on for a long time, but it has gotten so much worse in the last few decades. It is unbelievable how many churches turned liberal and started to be “inclusive,” and have twisted the Bible to fit their new, unbiblical doctrines. When HE comes, the world will follow this man of sin. He will oppose and exalt himself above all that is called God. He will set himself up in the Temple of God (Temple in Jerusalem) proclaiming that he is a god. Why are people going to follow him? Because people want prosperity. People want peace. People want unity. And he will promise that. He’s going to tell them that a one-world government is going to be in the best interest of the planet. He will convince people that this is the only way to control all the countries to somehow contribute to the fight against wars and poverty. People want a hero. They want to hold hands with everyone and sing “We are the World.” This man is going to promise peace, but he will break the treaty halfway through the 7-year tribulation period. He will stop the sacrifices and offerings that will be made in the Temple of Jerusalem, and then the Jews will understand that he’s not their Messiah, they were waiting for, and many will come to believe in Jesus Christ. In Revelation 12 we see that the antichrist is going to come against Israel. This man can’t bring peace. But God can. He promised to never leave you nor forsake you.

John 16:33 “I have told you these things, so that in me you may have peace. In this world you will have trouble. But take heart! I have overcome the world.”

This is for the most part all you need to know about the antichrist. You understand now what he will be like. You know who, where, when and why. If you decide to give your life to Jesus and to be born again, you don’t need to worry or fear the rise of the antichrist because you will be gone and with Jesus before he comes unto the scene. We remain in heaven until Jesus’ 2nd coming, when we will join Him in His fight against Satan. And when he’s defeated, we will rule with Jesus for 1000 years on earth. After that – eternity in the kingdom of God with God. All of this is explained in the book of Revelation. I read it a few times and it gets me excited every time I read it. The questions that remain are these: who are these evil people? Where did they come from? What are they doing and why? And what is their plan for the future?

Before I tell you about the 2nd potential scenario for the end times, I want you to understand what exactly it is that is happening in the world. I want you to see and understand evil.

Secret Societies

The following is a study about secret societies. I'm going to highlight a few of them. As much as some of them seem to be more "popular" than others, we ultimately don't know, and are not supposed to know, who is pulling all the strings. Therefore, I am going to refer to "the people that make all of the decisions on planet earth" as "Illuminati", the "cabal" or "the elite" due to lack of knowledge about the ultimate reality in this regard. I believe, the Bible is the ultimate truth and therefore, my personal opinion on that matter is, that the Catholic Church has the last word in everything. They established themselves long, long time ago. Revelation 17 is the basis for my belief. But I want to emphasize that none of this matters in the big picture. The goal is not to focus too much on the world but on Jesus who redeemed us. But for the sake of informing you properly about what is going on in the world, I will have to dig into the pit of secret societies. It helps to see the world for what it actually is. And it is not what you think. It's dark. Very dark. And pure evil.

Secret societies have existed for millennia. They go back as far as ancient Egypt and ancient Greece, like the cult of Dionysus. He was worshipped as the god of wine, religious ecstasy, and fertility. Ever since the beginning of time there were always people who rejected the God of the Bible. They invented and built their own gods. While the God of the Bible stands for everything good, pure, just, and holy in the world, their gods stood for wickedness, deception, sin and unholiness. After sin entered the world, it took hold of people and they started to give in to detestable desires and lifestyles. And to be able to justify them, they created gods that would support their choices. Sinful people will always find a way to justify their actions. Eventually, all of them looked up to Satan, who simply came in different forms and with different names (for example Apollo, Apollyon, Baphomet, Lucifer, Baal, Set, Osiris, Ra, Ishtar and many more). According to the Bible, Satan has promised knowledge to Adam and Eve and that they could be like God. He managed to deceive them with this false promise and had them go against God's word. Ever since then, evil men arrogantly considered themselves god-like. And throughout history, these wicked people found each other and started to gather together in groups or orders. They conspired against the people of God and tried to find ways to establish themselves as gods and rulers over mankind. They considered themselves as enlightened. This is how the name Illuminati came into existence. Illuminati is Italian and means enlightened. Those who were "enlightened", passed their knowledge on from one society to the next, all the way up until today. Back in the days of the ancient world, the philosophers of those times injected people with poisonous ideas. They told them that the true God is not the One who kept them from the knowledge, the true god is the

Idolatry

When you put something else in place of God it's called idolatry – money, statues that are made in the image of a god or tied to a "god", or "stars" from the music industry or Hollywood for example. Anything you look up to, dedicate a lot of time to, idolize, worship, and love more than anything else in this world is idolatry. The Bible says God comes first, then everything else. That doesn't mean you can't be a fan of, let's say, "The Backstreet Boys" and their music. It really depends on your level of dedication and "addiction" I'd say. And it depends on who it is. If you're worshiping and putting Taylor Swift on a podium in obsessive ways, that would be idolatry. Not just because it's a human you worship, but also because she is involved in occultism and a secret society. More on that later.

So, "liking" something/one and "idolizing/worshiping" something/one are two completely different things.

one that led them to knowledge and the secrets. The one that told them to eat from the tree and not the One who told them to stay away from the tree. The one who told them “You can be like God” and not the One who told them they would surely die if they ate of the tree. And that is whom they adore. It’s Satan. The serpent (Genesis 3). In between the Old Testament era and the New Testament, a movement was born. This movement’s objective was to penetrate the people of God. God’s chosen people – Israel. And that movement was called the Kabbalah (https://www.chabad.org/library/article_cdo/aid/170308/jewish/What-is-Kabbalah.htm), which in Hebrew means “to receive.” Kabbalah has three stages – theoretical, meditative, and magical Kabbalah. It’s esoteric teachings were handed down through the generations from Sinai (time of Moses). If you ever watched “The 10 Commandments” around easter you’ll know that Moses brought the Israelites out of bondage and slavery from Egypt and led them to Mount Sinai where he received the 10 commandments from God. While Moses was on the mountain, people started to build their own god in the form of a golden calf. This is where false teachings came into existence. The people, even though they were just rescued by the God of the Bible, through Moses, disobeyed God and followed their evil desires. Kabbalah is probably the basis of ever modern secret society, since they all originated from that time period. One of the things they teach is that Moses is an occult figure whose purpose was to initiate the Israelites into the enlightenment and more advanced teachings of Egypt. They actually went back and changed everything in the Bible to say that Moses gave a new revelation. This is horrific because this was going to wrongly influence so many people. When Jesus came in the 1st century AD, the Kabbalah went underground, because light and darkness can’t be in the same place at once. Jesus said, “While I am in the world, I am the light of the world.” (John 9:5). So, they went into hiding. This is also the reason, why evil didn’t reveal itself in the form of THE antichrist just yet, because we, the church, are still in the world, and with us, the Holy Spirit. As long as we are here, the secret societies will stay secret. Until we are taken out of the world (2 Thessalonians 2:7). Then the world will get to know Satan fully. In the 2nd century AD, after the apostles, Jesus and the disciples were gone, a new movement came up – Gnosticism (<https://www.learnreligions.com/what-is-gnosticism-700683>). In Greek this means “enlightenment” or “knowledge.” They mean the same thing. Gnostics were the biggest enemies of the gospel in the 2nd century. Even though the teachings were not too far off from the Bible teachings, Christians clashed with Gnostics because their teachings contradicted the written word of God. It also seems that over the centuries the ideas moved significantly away from the what the Bible taught. There were a lot of different groups and beliefs in this movement. One group taught that God had 2 sons – the elder son called Sataniel and the younger one Jesus. They taught that to Sataniel belonged the right to govern the celestial world, but because he was filled with pride he rebelled against his father and fell from heaven and created the visible world, an image of the celestial world. He created man and the serpent, who became his minister. They say Satan created the earth and is all powerful and should be adored and that Jesus was ineffective because he couldn’t go against the power of Satan. So basically, they turned the whole story around, and worship Satan as the highest being instead of God. From one secret society to another they believed in the light of Lucifer and the theme of enlightenment.

In 1095, Pope Urban II called on the Christians of that time to go to Israel and liberate the grave of Jesus from the Muslims. The problem with all of the Popes was, and is, that they see themselves as god-like. Because of that, you already know that something’s not right with the Catholic Church. The people of that time were so desperate for something tangible that they created the Crusades (1095-1571), a military expedition to retake control of the Holy Land and conquer pagan areas. The Crusaders started gathering all the knights in Europe, nobles, and peasants, and promised them a better future, to pardon their debts and forgive their sins (side note: man can't forgive sin, only God can do that). Along the journey they killed thousands of Jews and Muslims. When they reached Jerusalem in 1099 the Catholic knights took over the city, burned all the Jews in Jerusalem alive in their synagogues, and became the kings of Jerusalem on behalf of the Pope. The first king, King Baldwin, turned the "Dome of the Rock," which was built by the Muslims in the 7th century AD, into his palace. At that time there was a great need for some sort of organization that would protect the pilgrims on their long way to Jerusalem. And that is how, in 1118, the Knights Templar were born as a military and religious order. It was established by 9 French knights. They were subjects of the Pope alone and he took them under his special protection and exempted them from all taxes and tithing. Even though they had some opposition, to the Christians they appeared to be their saviors and deliverers. People started to donate land, buildings, cattle and money, and the Knights Templar became extremely wealthy and powerful. And at some point, they thought of a way to make even more money. They created the first banking system in the world and the first checkbook. They planned to open an office in every country in Western Europe. The people that wanted to travel to Jerusalem gave them all of their possessions and they received a certificate/check which they could cash when they reached Jerusalem. Very revolutionary idea. What the poor traveling people didn't know was that only 40% of all travelers ever made it to Jerusalem alive. The 60% that died or got killed on the way, lost all of their possessions to the Templar. Therefore, the Templars became even richer. They were the most powerful organization in the world of that time, controlling tons of land and properties in Europe. And at some point, they somehow went astray. They turned from "pilgrim protectors" into world banking Satan worshippers. They started teaching themselves Gnosticism (Satan created the world), Kabbalah. In 1307 the French King Philip IV rounded them all up and Accused them of idol worship, homosexuality and other erroneous practices and beliefs which they shouldn't have as Bible believers. The knights confessed to a variety of notorious crimes and admitted taking blasphemous oaths against Jesus Christ upon admission into the order. When they were asked if they believed in Jesus Christ on admission day, and they said yes, they were told that this is wrong, and some said that they were shown an idol in form of a goat and that they were told that this is their god. Others said that they were shown the crucifix, and they were told to spit or even urinate on it. If someone refused to follow their orders, they were threatened with imprisonment. The more people came to confess the more horrific it got. Some said they were commanded to practice sodomy (unnatural sexual relations between persons of same-sex or sex with animals) in front of everyone to prove that they were worthy of becoming a member of the Knights Templar. King Philip wanted to ban them, but the Pope didn't want to listen. Pope Clement V refused to respond to the charges and the confessions of the Templars, but with increasing pressure he was forced to investigate. Everyone who confessed was burned on the stake. But this was not the end. After their leader was burned, the pardoned Templars found refuge in Portugal under King Denis II who became their protector. So, the Templars went underground. In the coming centuries people from that order kept testing the grounds to see if the public was open to receiving them again, which wasn't the case up until the 18th century. This century was to become the era of enlightenment. Again, enlightenment. People were learning the occult teachings in universities. One famous example is the order of "Skulls and Bones" which is a fraternity of Yale University and was founded in 1832. The male society members are called Bonesmen, and after graduation many have ascended to positions of prominence in business and government. One famous example is George W. Bush, 43rd President of the United States. During the 18th century 2 world-shaping events occurred – 2 very specific people were born in Germany. One was Amschel Moses Bauer/later Rothschild (1710-1755), a Jew, who was humiliated by non-Jews (Germans). During this time, Jews were not allowed to walk freely on the streets. Whenever a German came, they had to clear the road so the German could walk first. He promised, when the day comes, he will become so wealthy that the Germans will serve him. In 1743, he founded a company called the "Red Shield" (Rothschild) firm with a Roman eagle on a red background which was a currency exchange in the Judengasse, a Jewish ghetto in Frankfurt, Germany. His son, Mayer Amschel Bauer (1744-1812) got the opportunity to gain useful knowledge with the help of Samuel Oppenheimer (Jewish banker and military supplier) in foreign trade and currency exchange. He created a world banking system with a focus on loaning money to people, and later on to governments and kings all across Europe. It was reported that he said: "Give me control of a nation's money, and I care not who makes its laws." He had 5 sons, who lived in different cities across Europe (Vienna, London, Naples, Paris, and Frankfurt). These sons became even better at making money.

Freemason

In the 18th century Freemasons claimed to have received esoteric knowledge that the Knights Templar possessed. Later fraternal orders similarly invoked the Templar name to bolster claims of ancient wisdom. This supports the infiltration of Freemasonry by the Illuminati teachings.

These days Freemasons believe in a "higher being" which doesn't really reveal who or what this higher being might be. I know many Freemasons say they are Christians yet swear an oath upon admission to an order. Look at Matthew 5:33-37 on that topic "oath". Is every Freemason order based on Esoteric and Gnosticisms? I don't know. But I believe many are. That's just what my research concluded.

The other person born was Adam Weishaupt (1748-1830), a Jesuit (society of the Roman Catholic church) who lost his faith in God because of the influence of the occult. He was influenced by Voltaire (a philosopher who was a racist, anti-Semite and slave trade investor). He was the founder of the Illuminati in Bavaria on May 1st, 1776 (2 months before the Declaration of Independence was signed in America). This order was made up of a disappointed Jesuit and a frustrated Jew, who sought world dominance. Mayer Rothschild was the one who funded Weishaupt. Another man, Jakob Frank, a Polish born Jew who claimed to be the reincarnation of the biblical patriarch Jacob and to be part of a trinity, provided the Kabbalistic theological foundation for the order of the Illuminati. In his time, he invented new religions of which one was called the "religion of Edom" and a later religion "daas" ("knowledge" in Hebrew, which is again, enlightenment = Illuminati).

In 1786 police found secret order documents which were published as evidence of the order's intrigue aimed to tear down religion and government and rule the world as a secret society. The publication included the cipher of the Order of the Illuminati, their calendar, code names of geographical locations and the list of members initiated from 1776-1779. Baron von Knigge joined in 1780 and recruited European Freemasons for the Illuminati. He resigned in 1784, decrying Weishaupt's maneuvering for dictatorial control over the order. The Bavarian Illuminati were banned in 1785.

Rothschild insisted on having only bloodline taking care of the business, no outsiders. One of his descendants always had to be in the position of power in the company. They also intermarried with their 2nd degree cousins. The wealth was supposed to stay within their bloodline. They also were not to give any account of what they have and how much, to anyone. Up until today, there is no documentation of how much the Rothschild family really owns. The only country that didn't allow the Illuminati to step foot in their territory was Russia. This is when Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels come into play. Marx (1818-1883, born into a Jewish family) was influenced by Jakob Franks teachings, which can be seen in his poems. There Marx wrote things like "...lure mankind with him into hell in the company of Satan." In his poetry he dreamed of a pact with Satan and was fascinated by violence. His teacher was Moritz Moses Hess (1812-1875), son of a wealthy Jewish industrialist, who was called the father of modern Socialism, communist rabbi, and 1st secular Zionist (Zionist = supports the development and protection of the State of Israel). 1841 he founded the newspaper "Rheinische Zeitung" and made Marx his editor. He transformed young Marx into a Freemason and socialist agitator. Hess introduced Marx to Engels (a half-Jew) in 1844, which laid the foundation of their collaboration. Marx developed an extreme contempt for other races. According to him, the Russians were a totally inferior people, he called Slavic people "ethnic sewer" and disliked the Chinese. In 1856, Marx arrogantly revealed to the New York Daily Tribune that there was an organization, which was intriguing in Europe and was the real winner when England, France and Russia became weakened after losses in wars. Other Jews have also been just as open. B. Disraeli (prime minister of Great Britain in 1868) described how a secret Jewish organization ruled the world by means of banks. He showed how easy it was for this organization to destroy empires and establish others, to overthrow rulers and install new ones in their stead. Quotes: "Governments do not govern; they only control the machinery of government and are themselves controlled by the hidden hand." And "The world is governed by very different personages from what is imagined by those who are not behind the scenes." Disraeli's father wrote that Germany faces a terrible revolution which is being prepared by the Jews; and that at the head of communism and socialism stand Jews. The purpose was to neutralize Christians and transform the world into a Jewish world.

In 1843, the Masonic leader Ragon submitted the draft for the revolutionary plan of action, which Marx presented as "The Communist Manifesto" in 1848, after he was a member of Ragon's lodge for 3 years. The financial elite and the Illuminati had to cultivate and shape all kinds of communist and socialist utopia to camouflage their aspiration to power. And they did it by exploiting the jealousy of the proletariat, the working class, to enforce a hell on earth where fear, suffering, terror, and treason ruled supreme – Communism.

- Communism calls for the elimination of private property and a profit-based economy (capitalism). It mandates that the people, in fact the government, collectively own and control the production and distribution of all goods and services. In theory, such a system would deliver equality and freedom from poverty. But in the most extreme examples of the implementation of Communism, it caused the death of millions of people.
- Socialism calls for a social organization in which the means of producing and distributing goods is owned collectively as opposed to private ownership or by a centralized government that often plans and controls the economy.
- Capitalism is defined as a mode of production in which business owners (capitalists) own all of the means of production (factory, tools, machinery, raw materials, final product, and profits earned from sale). Workers are hired for wages and have no ownership stake and no share in the profits. Moreover, the wages paid to workers are lower than the economic value that their work creates for the capitalist. This is the root of the inherent class struggle between labor and capital.

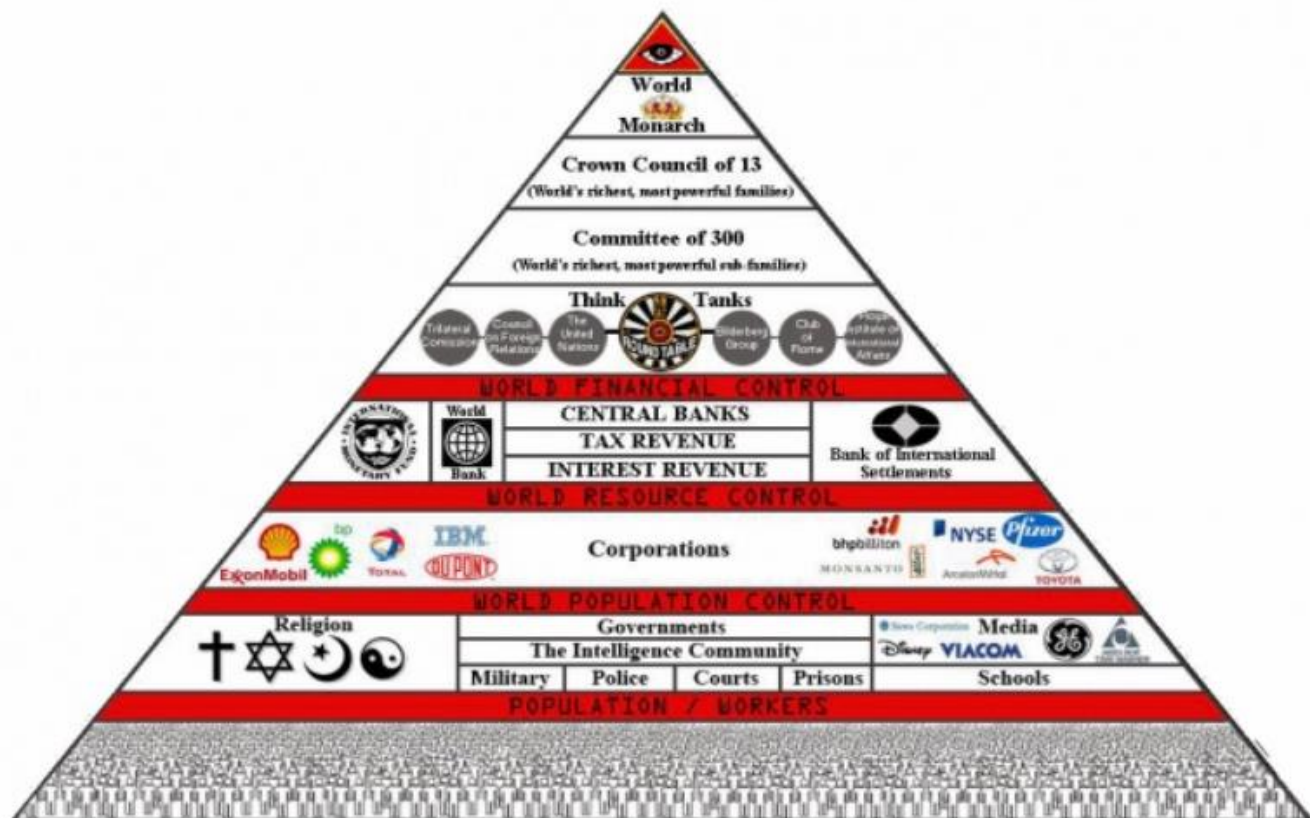

Communism and socialism became the code names for the Illuminati's program, which was to extinguish all moral principles, whereupon everything was allowed. And this they carried into Russia. They educated people on these ideas to stir up the country, provoke a revolution and kick out the Czar at this time – who was Nicholas Romanov. He stood in their way. He and his family were killed. Now they could control that part also. You need to understand that the Illuminati don't show allegiance to anyone. They are not loyal to a particular thing. For them, every force tends to have an opposite counter force, and the conflict between the two results in a new situation. So basically, every Thesis has an Antithesis which creates a Synthesis. That's how they do it – they feed one side and they feed the opposing side and at the same time they can oppress both and make sure they are at war, and then give money to both sides of the war. They gave money to both sides of the French Revolution, to the Civil War in America, they gave money to both sides of WWI and WWII and also to both sides in the Cold War. They always gave money to both sides because it served their interest.

Nathan Rothschild, the son of Mayer Amschel Rothschild, bought in a coup, all of the stocks in Great Britain, when he made everyone believe that Napoleon was going to win the war, even though he was losing. He sold all of the stock he had in the stock market, and everyone followed his example because they trusted him. The market plunged and all the stocks became very cheap. Shortly before the reality of the situation came to light, he bought ALL the stocks, which were now super cheap, and was immediately the wealthiest man in England. And then he bought the Bank of England. His brother and descendants were then moving to New York, and they bought the Central Bank of America. The Federal Bank today is not the Federal Reserve which you think of as the Central Bank of America. It is a privately owned bank owned by the Rothschilds. So, we are coming to a point where you have to remember that we are dealing with super influential people.

In 1717 another organization was born. The Freemasons who had their first lodge in London. The origins of the Freemasons can be traced back to the Catholic Church. They were not a bad organization. They were building cathedrals, churches, and hospitals, and they were a bunch of people who wanted to sit together and figure out how they could do something good with their money. The problem was that before the original Illuminati was banned, they successfully recruited people from Freemasonry, and when they were dissolved, they started to infiltrate back into the ranks of the Freemasons. From 1801 on, most Freemason lodges were actually Illuminati lodges. Albert Pike (1809-1891, jurist, author, lawyer, and Confederate States Army general), who was a 33rd degree mason and Grand Commander wrote, "Lucifer, the light-bearer! Strange and mysterious name given to the Spirit of Darkness! Lucifer, the Son of the Morning! Is it he who bears the light...doubt it not!" ("Morals and Dogma" page 321). He was allegedly the chief judicial officer of the Ku Klux Klan, reported by 3 different people. A Russian woman, H. P. Blavatsky wrote in her book "The Secret Doctrine" the following: "It is Satan who is the god of our planet and the only god. Satan (or Lucifer) represents the Centrifugal Energy of the Universe, this ever-living symbol of self-sacrifice for the intellectual independence of humanity." She was a 32nd degree mason.

Now, we're entering the 20th century. Albert Einstein sensed that there was something terribly wrong. He wrote "The minority, the ruling class at present, has the schools and press, usually church as well, under its thumb. This enables it to organize and sway the emotions of the masses and make its tool of them."

The Illuminati formed itself into a cartel of international bankers and industrialists based mostly in Western Europe and North America. The names of certain families persist over long periods of time. Some of the most important names are Rothschild, Rockefeller, Morgan, Lazard, Warburg, Schroder, and Schiff. They started to create organizations:

- The Council of Foreign Relations (1921), since 1930 controlled by Rockefeller.
- The Bilderberg Group 1954
- The Club of Rome – 1968 Rockefeller
- The Trilateral Commission - 1973 Rockefeller
- Freemasons (Rothschild)
- The Rotary (support of WEF goals/ Agenda 2030)
- The YMCA (youth organization that became global and supports WEF efforts)

And so many Christians innocently belong to these organizations, not knowing that they are filled with Illuminati in the highest levels. David Rockefeller himself said in a meeting of the Bilderberg in 1991, "It would have been impossible for us to develop our plan for the world if we had been subjected to the lights of publicity during those years. But the world is now more sophisticated and prepared to march towards a world government. The super national sovereignty of an intellectual elite and world bankers is surely preferable to the national auto-determination practiced in past centuries." In his Memoirs, Rockefeller wrote: "...Some even believe we (the Rockefeller family) are part of a secret cabal working against the best interests of the United States, characterizing my family and me as 'internationalists' and of conspiring with others around the world to build a more integrated global political and economic structure – One World, if you will. If that's the charge, I stand guilty, and I am proud of it..." (Page 405). Congressman Larry P. McDonald said in a speech "...The drive of the Rockefellers and their allies is to create a one-world government combining super Capitalism and Communism under the same tent, all under their control... Do I mean conspiracy? Yes, I do. I am convinced there is such a plot, international in scope, generations old in planning, and incredibly evil in intent..." McDonald was afterwards killed in the Korean Airline 747 that was shot down by the Soviets. In the 20th century, they came out into the open.

In 1980 they erected the Georgia Guide Stones in which the Illuminati wrote all of their guidelines in several languages – their "10 commandments". The 1st one was "maintaining humanity under 500 million" people. They declare we are too many people on this planet, we need to lower the number to create quality of life which goes hand in hand with the Agenda 2030. How do they do that? They create wars! They set nations against each other and have them start a war. Then they give money to both sides and millions of people die on both sides. And it doesn't matter because they have to reduce the population of the planet to 500 million. Right now, we are at over 8 billion people. At the base of the stones was a little stone that said that the sponsor of these stones is a small group of Americans who seek "the age of reason" (which was another name for the German enlightenment in the 17th and 18th century). "The Age of Reason" is actually a book written by Thomas Paine (American founding father and philosopher), who argued that the Bible had value as a piece of literature but was not divinely inspired. Here they were, once again, in the open but at the same time hidden, because people don't understand what they are looking at. As the world was going away from Christ, more and more, they felt comfortable to peek their heads back out (as I mentioned in the beginning, light = God - and darkness = Lucifer - can't be there at the same time). They will reveal themselves fully as soon as the Church is gone.

And now, the 21st century has come. On October 19, 2011, the magazine "TheScientist" wrote in an article about the capitalist network that runs the world. It says "...Our work, revealed a core of 1318 companies with interlocking ownership. Each of the 1318 had ties to 2 or more other companies, and on average they were connected to 20. What's more, although they represented 20% of global operating revenues, the 1318 appeared to collectively own through their shares the majority of the world's large blue chip and manufacturing firms – the "real" economy – representing a further 60% of global revenues. When the team further entangled the web of ownerships, it found that much of it tracked back to a "super-entity" of 147 even more tightly knit companies – all of their ownerships was held by other members of the super entity – that controlled 40% of the total wealth in the network. "In effect, less than 1% of the companies were able to control 40% of the entire network.", says Glattfelder. Most were financial institutions. The top 20 included Barclays Bank, JPMorgan, Chase & Co., and Goldman Sachs Group. You need to understand that there are only a few families that control the entire financial system of the world. Their bloodlines run back about 250 years. Just to name a few: Astor, Kennedy, Onassis, Rockefeller, and Rothschild. There are a few more but there are divided opinions about who exactly belongs to this group.

When you retreat to the internet you are going to have people calling secret societies "conspiracy theories" to discredit people that revealed some information about them. Fact is – there are secret societies working in the background. Societies with money, power, and influence. Societies that practice occult rituals - satanic rituals. That believe that Satan is the god of this world. I'm sure most of this is new to you and seems maybe farfetched. But unfortunately, this is the reality we live in, whether we see it or not. Just know that evil is not just something that exists in horror movies. Evil is all around us.

Jesuits

There is one other order I'd like to introduce. It's the Jesuits. It's one of the orders of the Catholic Church. Based on the Bible, the Catholic Church might embody Babylon, the woman on the beast. Revelation 17:5 says, "The name written on her forehead was a mystery: BABYLON THE GREAT, MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH." The Catholic Church has stored up riches no one will ever be able to imagine. Some insiders suggest that they own the entire planet and everything that comes with it. That all economic sectors, governments, leaders, companies, and banks are involved with the Catholic Church. The Black Pope is supposedly the one who decides about anything and everything. Wars, coalitions, trades, treaties, changes... everything. They are said to own 3 city states – the Vatican, the City of London, and the District of Columbia – Washington DC. These city states have their own laws and are free from any other law on this planet. These 3 city states control the entire world through the order of the Jesuits and potentially one man – the Black Pope, called Superior General, who is the leader of the Jesuits. The Jesuits were founded in 1540 by Ignatius of Loyola with the approval of Pope Paul III. They operate in 112 countries. Jesuits work in education, research, and cultural pursuits. Their headquarters is in Rome. Members of the "Society of Jesus" are expected to accept orders to go anywhere in the world, where they might be required to live in extreme conditions. They are not to oppose anything their leaders tell or teach them. If they are told that white is actually black, they have to agree on that. This sounds very much like the book "1984". I'll talk about it on page 179. Ignatius of Loyola composed the "Spiritual Exercises," gathered with 6 other young men and professed promises of poverty, chastity (just like the Knights Templar), and later obedience, including a special vow to the Pope in matters of mission direction and assignment. After spreading around the globe, the order was suppressed and extinguished in 1773. By that time, they had established many schools and universities in several countries. The order was restored in 1814. During these 41 years, they maintained continuity in Poland and Russia. Jesuits had been banned on and off throughout several countries. The period after 1814 was marked by tremendous growth which shows in the establishment of a large number of colleges and universities during the 19th century. During this time in the United States, 22 of the society's 28 universities were founded or taken over by the Jesuits. It's called the Association of Jesuit Colleges and Universities (AJCU). It is headquartered in Washington DC. Boston College, Georgetown University and University of San Francisco are 3 of them.

The Pope is the head of the Catholic Church. The Holy See (= the government of Vatican City) is administered by the Roman Curia, which is the central government of the Catholic Church. It's a sovereign entity which exercises "exclusive dominion" over the independent Vatican City State enclave in Rome, of which the Pope is sovereign. The Catholic Church is the largest non-government provider of education and health care in the world. The Holy See maintains bilateral diplomatic relations with 183 sovereign states, signs concords and treaties, and performs multilateral diplomacy with multiple intergovernmental organizations (like the WHO), including the United Nations and its agencies, the Council of Europe, the European Communities, the Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe (OSCE), and the Organization of American States. Looking at this, you can see how intertwined they are with Europe and America. The picture of the woman on the beast from Revelation 17 and "Europa riding the bull" becomes a bit clearer now, I believe.

Ultimately, I think, it is impossible to determine how the power structure is set up and who makes the final decisions in the world. We can form an idea, but we won't be able to figure it out for sure. However, knowing that the Catholic Church has their hands in just about everything since its inception in the 1st century, I believe we can narrow down the root of all evil right there. In Rome. In the Vatican.

The History of the Roman Catholic Church

The Roman Catholic Church started between 30-95 AD. They falsely claim that Jesus Christ himself instituted the church. The church and religion came as a result of Jesus' life and ministry. When the Roman Empire slowly broke down, the western church filled in the institutional power vacuum and the Popes started to make more ambitious claims to authority. In 1054 AD the church divided into east and west (Latin and Greek speaking). They had a disagreement over the role of the Pope. In 1507 there was another rupture during the reformation period. The reformers disagreed with the Pope on various things and wanted to translate the Bible into common language so the people could read it for themselves. But the Pope wanted to keep it in Latin so they could keep the control over the common people. Up until today, Catholics are not encouraged to read the Bible for themselves. Which doesn't mean none of them do, it's just not common practice in this religion.

Unfortunately, the doctrines of the Catholic Church are not biblical. The Bible teaches that hell/ the lake of fire is eternal, and final for anyone who doesn't accept God's free gift of salvation while on earth. Yet, the Catholic Church changed this. They say that a person doesn't have to stay in hell (purgatory, how they call it) because you still can get sanctified after death so that you can get transformed and go to heaven, even though you went to hell. This is NOT biblical. Once you're in hell, that's it. You had your chance while you were in your worldly body. This is clearly stated in the Bible. Works (being a good person) won't get you to heaven. The other problem with the Catholic Church is that they pray to various saints. Not just God. They pretend they just honor them but judging by documentaries, movies and also in person I can say, they do worship them. They pray to Mary (mother of Jesus) because they believe her to be holy. They say she was immaculately conceived. This is not biblical. God says in so many parts in the Bible not to pray to people or idols (Isaiah 45:20, Jonah 2:8, Colossians 3:5 1 John 5:21). Just to Him. Because He is the only God. Yet, they still do it. Another absolutely wrong, corrupt, and evil doctrine is the doctrine of indulgences. People can basically "purchase" grace from the church. You get grace for money. The truth is: you can only receive grace from God – not through humans. Not through the church. Through God alone (Romans 3:24, Ephesians 1:6-7 and 2:8-9, Titus 3:7). This is just so wrong on so many levels. They also believe that the Pope is infallible when he speaks at the cathedral. God says man is fallible (Ecclesiastes 7:20, Romans 3:9-18). The only infallible being is God Himself. But the Pope sees himself as god which is obviously a problem in itself. We can see that, in regard to doctrines of salvation, grace, and authority, the Roman Catholic Church gets some major things totally wrong. For me personally, they are the institution that always gave me the creeps when I was an atheist. The way they act and what they do were definitely reasons for me to stay away from the entire topic of God and faith. The level of corruption in this religion is absolutely concerning. I think when people get into a position of power, often times, things go downhill very quickly. The Catholic Church became a state religion in 324 AD which led to the problem that there was no distinction between politics and religion anymore. The church ruled. During this time Catholicism took root. There is something else you need to know about this religion. The Catholic Church was infiltrated and corrupted by a Babylonian cult when that cult moved to Pergamon. The high priest of this cult was called "Chief Bridge Builder" which means "the one who bridges the gap between mortals and the gods." It was a pagan cult that worshipped idols. Now, guess what the Pope is called up until this day? "Pontifex maximus." That is Latin and it translates to "Chief Bridge Builder." They kept this until today. The title was first used in ancient Rome some time before 380 BC. The people back then worshipped many gods, one of them being "Jupiter."

"From the birth of popery to the present time, it is estimated by careful and credible historians, that more than fifty million of the human family, have been slaughtered for the crime of heresy by popish persecutors, --an average of more than 40,000 religious murders for every year of the existence of popery to the present day. Of course, the average number of victims yearly, was vastly greater, during those gloomy ages when popery was in her glory and reigned despot of the world; and it has been much less since the power of the Popes has diminished to tyrannize over the nations, and to compel the princes of the earth, by the terrors of excommunication, interdiction, and deposition, to butcher their heretical subjects." (John Dowling, The History of Romanism, pp. 541-542)

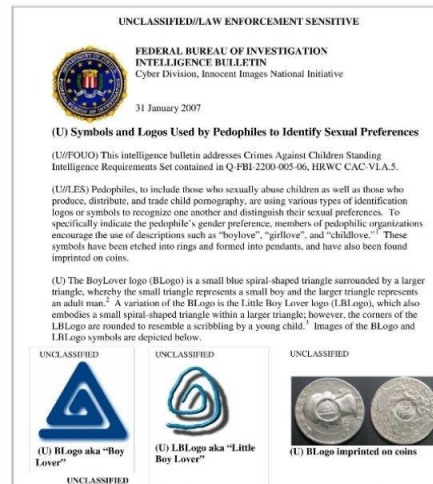

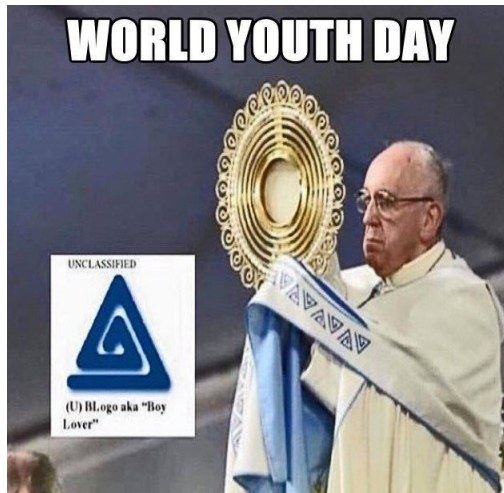

"That the Church of Rome has shed more innocent blood than any other institution that has ever existed among mankind, will be questioned by no Protestant who has a competent knowledge of history . . . It is impossible to form a complete conception of the multitude of her victims, and it is quite certain that no powers of imagination can adequately realize their sufferings." (W. E. H. Lecky, History of the Rise and Influence of the Spirit of Rationalism in Europe, vol. 2, p. 32, 1910 edition)

Knowing that the Catholic Church got mixed up with a pagan cult early on, the symbolism displayed by them speaks for itself. You can see different symbols in the pictures. One of the typical masonic signs with the hand in the jacket. The snakes. Snakes are a representation of Satan, so definitely nothing you want to see the Pope carrying around. And the way this is set up strongly resembles the false god Baphomet, that is being worshipped by the Satanic Temple and the Knights Templar. The devil's horn is another clear sign, which has no place in the church.

We all have heard of the incidents that took place in churches around the world, where children were molested and abused. The picture speaks for itself. The symbolism here is very specific and also acknowledged by the FBI to stand for "boy lover." In the US, the Roman Catholic Church has faced over 6000 child abuse cases. But not everyone speaks up, the real number of victims is likely way higher. The known history of sexual abuse in the Church dates back as far as 1629.

Real, biblical faith doesn't have anything to do with the Catholic Church or any other religion for that matter. Christianity is distancing itself from the evil that is being practiced in a lot of the religions. Christianity is about one God. The God of the Bible. And Jesus as our Lord and Savior. Unfortunately, the Catholic Church has established itself all over the world and has a lot of followers. They are evil, money-hungry people that have way too much influence in the world.

All secret societies can be traced back to the Catholic Church. It doesn't matter who they are. It all started with the Templars. And now we have an uncountable number of lodges and orders all over the world. All of them were infiltrated by the Kabballah during the time of the Templars. A lot of them seem like God fearing organizations that call themselves philanthropic and help each other within the order. But the deeper they get into it and the higher they rise in the ranks, the more they learn about the real roots of these societies. And when they make it to the top, they don't know God anymore. He's replaced by the promise of knowledge and enlightenment, as it was given to Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden. I know firsthand that the people in these orders believe in "a higher power" without specifying who that "higher power" is.

Satanism

Baphomet

These days, Satanist come together and celebrate their master openly in the streets. The Satanic Temple unveiled a statue of their goat god in Detroit in 2015. That is the one that the Knight Templars worshipped. They cheered “Hail, Satan!.”

Carnival in Rio 2023

Every year a very famous carnival takes place in Rio. The carnival itself glorifies and sexualizes the body with lots of bare skin, and in 2023 predominantly showcased Satan and satanic symbolism. Satan is normalized in public to increase acceptance. People see it as fun and entertainment, but there is so much more to it. I don't think it was a coincidence that they chose this theme in 2023, considering how much the whole world has jumped on satanic and demonic imagery this year. You'll find all of this later in the book when I get to Hollywood and the music industry.

You'll see in the photos Satan (the commonly known false image of the red guy with horns), snakes, devil horns, the tongue, the mockery of Jesus, the Egyptian theme (false gods), possible child sacrifice, etc.

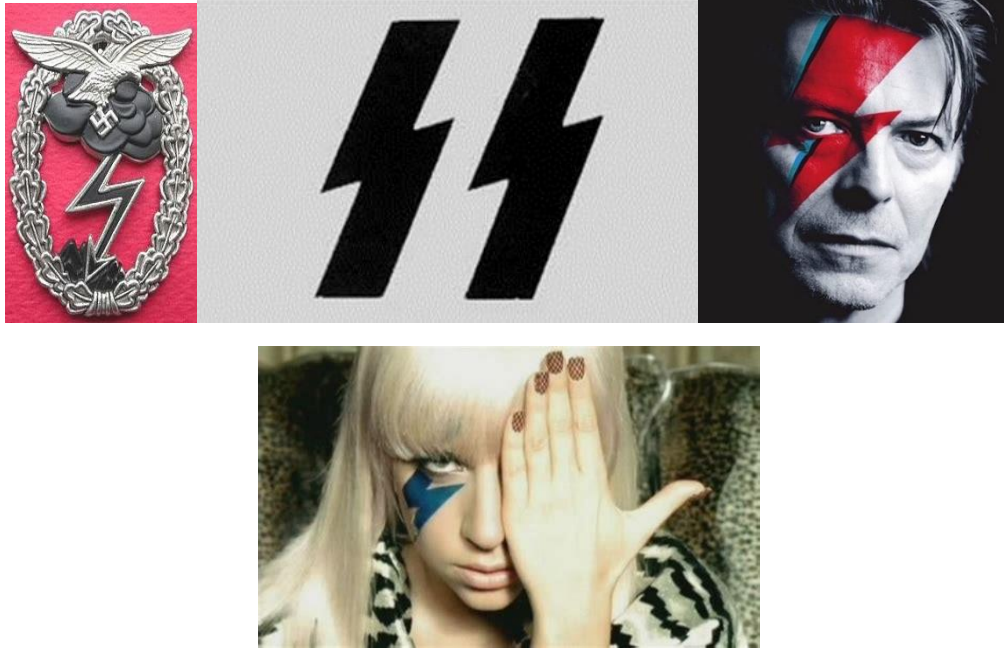

There are 12 samba schools in Rio that participate in the carnival, and they all have their own designs for floats, costumes, music, dance, etc. The cost per school accumulates to around $1.8 million. One can assume that they are sponsored. It would definitely be interesting to know who provided financial support.

Illuminati Symbolism

The Illuminati has several esoteric symbols that have different meanings. Here are a few of them:

The Lightning Bolt

(symbolizes Satan, based on Luke 10:18)

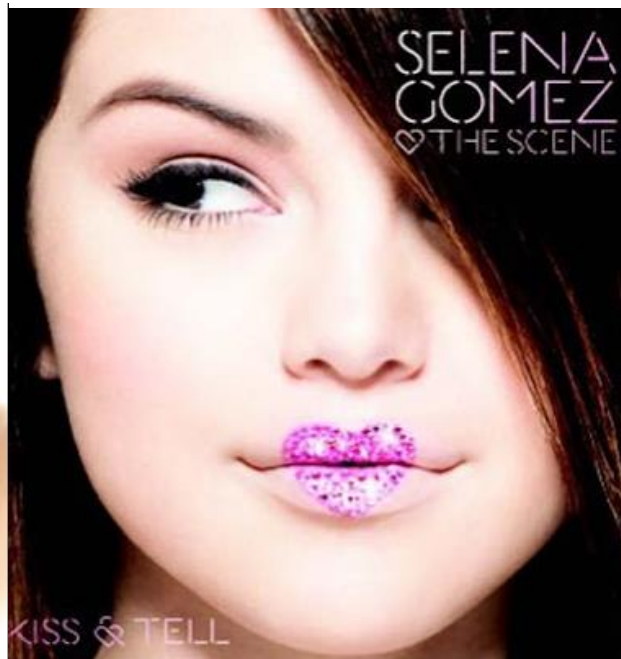

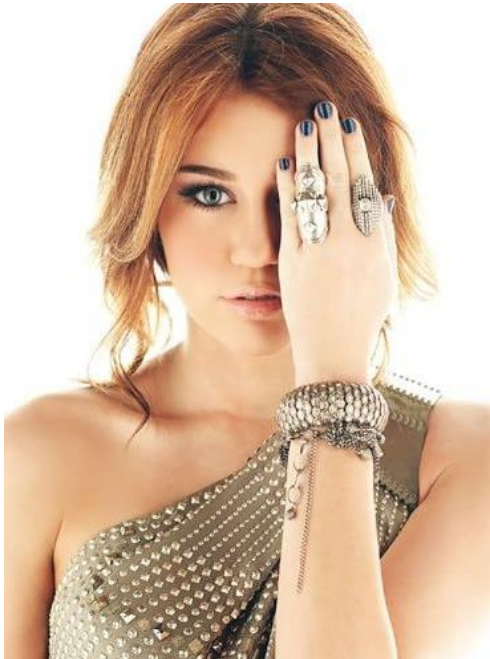

The All-Seeing Eye - The Eye of Horus - Third Eye

Lucifer observes us all the time. The invisible eye which provides perception beyond ordinary sight – enlightenment.

www.shutterstock.com · 1223320468

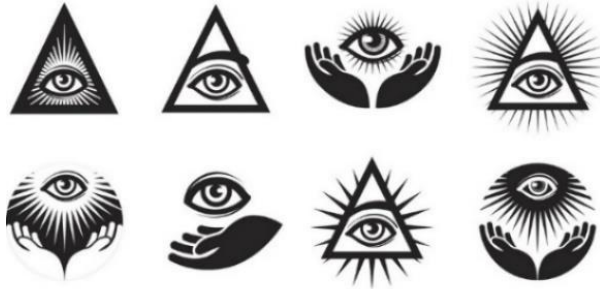

The emphasis on the one eye – the all-seeing eye – is one of the most used poses by members of the Illuminati. These are not just poses for pictures because they don't know how else to pose. There are enough celebrities (the ones that don't belong to the club) that take pictures too and don't feel the need to pose like that. It's a sign of belonging to the secret society.

The Pyramid & Number 666 for Satan

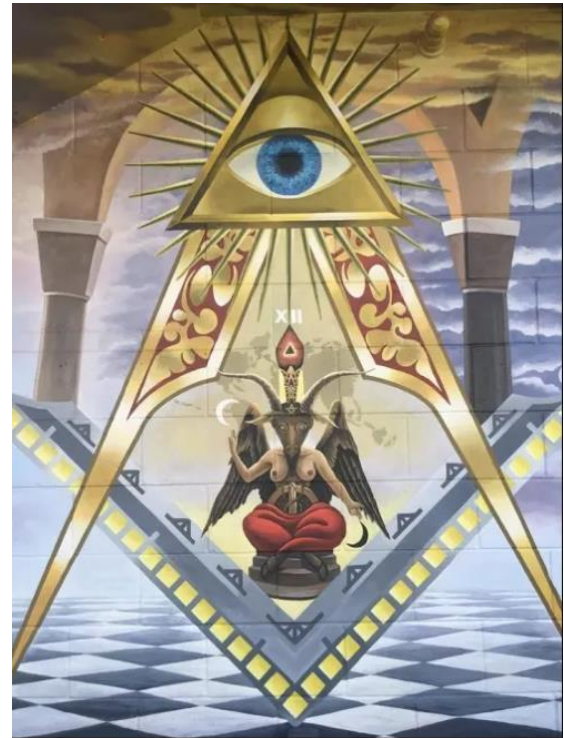

The pyramids were built in ancient times to glorify the respective gods. In Egypt, the pyramids were built on the west bank of the Nile and symbolized the meaning of life after death. They also represented the power and influence of the pharaoh.

On the left you see a couple more symbols of Freemasonry. Often used are the checkerboard floor, stars, moon, the pillars, the eye and the sun.

On the right side you can see the tools called “square and compass”, which are architect tools and are used in masonic rituals and for identification with the society. On top of it you find the all-seeing eye and in the middle you can see their god – Baphomet. He’s transgender, which should already give you an idea about what’s to come when I get deeper into this whole topic.

Baphomet is an invented pagan (someone who worships nature or earth) idol or deity, that the Knight Templars were accused of worshipping.

Another one is the hand in the jacket. This goes back to the beginning of Freemasonry. You might be surprised who was or is part of it. Side note: please realize that Charles Darwin, the guy who brought us the “Theory of Evolution,” was a Freemason. Washington, Napoleon, Stalin, Obama – all men that started wars. Poe, Mozart, Knigge, Marx... all famous people that had a hand in the development of people’s worldviews. Pope Francis – we already know the Catholic Church is not holy or good.

The Phoenix

(The symbol of the New World Order)

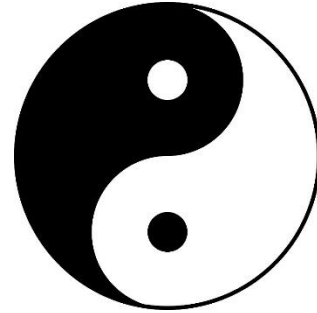

This was a sponsored advertisement by the Illuminati in 1988 getting the world ready for a world currency by 2018, which hasn’t happened yet. The Phoenix stands for the Great Reset – rising out of the ashes.

2012 Olympic games closing ceremony in London with the song “Rule the world” by Take That. And the Phoenix on the right side.

As Above So Below

(man is like God, God is like man)

Yin & Yang. It is said to stand for balance in different areas of life in the New Age movement. It actually stands for a cosmic duality that governs the universe. It's a set of 2 opposing forces of light and dark. In other words – good and bad; God and Satan. It originated in China thousands of years ago. They knew it, too. And how is that? Because everyone on this planet has the same forefathers, according to the Bible, which migrated at some point in time, and carried their knowledge, traditions, and beliefs with them.

For governments you need leaders. But they don't want governments. They only want one leader for everything. The British historian Arnold Toynbee (1889-1975) said "The nations are ready to give the kingdoms of the world to any one man who will offer us a solution to our world's problems."

The first President of the United Nations General Assembly, Paul Henri Spaak (1899-1972) who was also a prime minister of Belgium, and one of the early planners of the European Common Market, as well as a secretary-general of NATO, affirmed, "We do not want another committee, we have too many already. What we want is a man of sufficient stature to hold the allegiance of all the people and to lift us up out of the economic morals into which we are sinking. Send us such a man, and whether he be God or devil, we will receive him."

The antichrist is coming.

2 Thessalonians 2:9-12 "The coming of the lawless one will be in accordance with how Satan works. He will use all sorts of displays of power through signs and wonders that serve the lie, and all the ways that wickedness deceives those who are perishing. They perish because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. For this reason, God sends them a powerful delusion so that they will believe the lie and so that all will be condemned who have not believed the truth but have delighted in wickedness."

You really need to understand that we live in an evil world. A world that wants to control the economy, the media, health, education, the food – just everything. It's the people in positions of power, who have an interest in reducing the number of people on this planet. But how would they be able to do that? By giving you bad food, bad health services, and bad jobs that will never be able to make enough money to be able to pay for good health services or good food. They want you to be poor. They want you to not make it, to fight each other. They want you to hate the truth and to stay down. They want you to be blind because they want to rule and control, and the best way to do that is to control your mind. And once they control your mind, once you let them do that, it's over. That's why we need Jesus. In this world of darkness, He's our light.

John 16:33 "These things I have spoken to you, that in Me you may have peace. In the world you will have tribulation; but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world." (Jesus)

The WEF and the Great Reset

What is the WEF? WEF is short for World Economic Forum, a not-for-profit foundation. It was founded in 1971 by Klaus Schwab, an economist and engineer, who was born in Germany in 1938. The people that engage in the forum are non-elected men and women from many different countries who come together to discuss how to improve "the state of the world by engaging business, political, academic, and other leaders of society to shape global, regional, and industry agendas" (Mission statement from their website). They meet annually in Davos, Switzerland. The meeting brings together some 3,000 paying members and selected participants – among whom are investors, business leaders, political leaders, economists, celebrities, and journalists – for up to five days to discuss global issues. The Forum suggests that a globalized world is best managed by a self-selected coalition of multinational corporations, governments, and civil society organizations which it expresses through initiatives like the "Great Reset" and the "Global Redesign". The World Economic Forum and its annual meeting in Davos have received criticism over the years, including the organization's corporate capture of global and democratic institutions, its institutional whitewashing initiatives, the public cost of security, the organization's tax-exempt status, unclear decision processes and membership criteria, a lack of financial transparency, and the environmental footprint of its annual meetings. The cost to be paid by companies for a delegate to the WEF was $70,000 in the early 2000 years, and in 2022 it was $120,000. An annual membership costs between $62,000 to $620,000. Klaus Schwab started off with inviting executives from Western Europe to introduce them to American management practices. In 1974 he expanded his focus to economic and social issues and invited political leaders. Soon, political leaders used the annual meeting for promoting their interests. In 2006 the WEF published an article titled "Boycott Israel". In 2018 "global warming" (climate change), terrorism and protectionism were highlighted as the 3 major global challenges and that they could be tackled by collective effort. The main concern of the meeting in 2019 was again, climate change. Following this, the WEF and the United Nations signed the Framework to accelerate the implementation of the "2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development". What is this agenda? It was formulated by the UN in 2015 and is known as "Agenda 2030". It entails goals for 17 global problems that they want to tackle and implement their solutions by 2030. By now, the WEF had 3 different agendas.

Agenda 2021

In the 1990s, the United Nations drafted "Agenda 21" -- their plan for defeating "climate change". In 2015, it was re-branded by socialists into "Agenda 30," but neither had anything to do with global warming, but everything to do with using it to reshape our political world.

Starting in 2019, the push for Agenda 30 wasn't just about climate change, but about fighting future global pandemics as well. In October 2019, some of the world's most powerful business and political leaders met to discuss, in a live simulation exercise, how to prepare for such a crisis. Mind you, Covid was declared a pandemic in March 2020. Coincidence? In January 2024, their annual meeting took place and this time they came together in a similar group to discuss "Disease X", which they already know will cause 20% more deaths worldwide than Covid 19. What we have to ask ourselves is: How do they know this? When trying to answer this question, you have to take into account that governments around the world run biolabs where "gain of function" experiments are carried out. This means that they genetically modify existing viruses or bacteria and "train" them to take on new functions. These experiments can be misused very quickly and easily to make a virus more transmissible or more dangerous. If this is brought out of the laboratory and used against humans, it is then called a biological weapon. And that's exactly what Covid 19 was.

What is politics? It's very simple; politics is human beings organizing to decide who gets power. That's it. All the different parties don't matter, that's all just temporary and implemented to divide the masses. The proclaimed goal is a global government with a world leader. What is needed to achieve that? Everyone has to get along – every nation, every culture, every religion, and every human. We all will have to speak the same language if you want. This is where we can go back to the Bible, to the Tower of Babel. In Genesis 11 they wanted to build a centralized community under one leader (Nimrod who was an evil character). They wanted to make a name for themselves, showing they don't need God. They were all of the same language. So, they started to build a city with a tower that was supposed to reach the heavens so they could exalt themselves above God. And because they all understood each other they started to become successful in their ambitions. God saw what they can do when they all come together as one. So, he confused their languages. As a result, they had to stop building the city and working together because they didn't understand each other anymore. They started to scatter and migrate into other areas of the world to live with the people they could understand. This is how all the different languages and nations developed.

Now, the WEF is trying to do exactly that – they want to come together with all nations of the earth, overcome their differences, and work together to create a seemingly better future with everyone; united under one government, one currency, one religion and...one leader. Sounds good, doesn't it? Why would anyone complain about that? They promise peace, prosperity, and safety. And if someone says anything against it, they are written off as crazy, selfish, the enemy, dangerous and conspiracy theorists. What you might not realize right now is that their efforts have nothing to do with you living a better life, your safety, your prosperity or your happiness and health. What they are doing is drawing a utopia that sounds like heaven on earth but it's actually communism and socialism in disguise – hidden behind this beautiful looking picture they've painted. All these leaders go to these meetings and they get all these ideas from globalists. Then they go back to their countries and start speaking in the same way in their own countries and implement the ideas they got from the WEF meeting. So, they start to align with their ideas, they unify and start to speak "the same language" – environmentalism, socialism, communism, globalism – they assemble what was disassembled at Babel, and they are going to launch it into the world. And what's interesting is that they recognize that faith plays a vital role in humanity. So, they acknowledge that there's a need for faith, but they want to control the dialogue and the issues of what faith is defined as. They say that all religions should come together and embrace the same belief and that they need to be open to experience change. On their someone who believes that economic and foreign policy should be planned in an international way rather than what's best for one particular country.

Gospel

Means "good news."

The punishment for sin is eternal death. We are all sinners. But everyone, who repents of their sins and calls upon the Lord, who believes in Jesus Christ and what He has done for us, and accepts Him as their Lord and Savior, is going to be saved from eternity in hell.

homepage they say, "Religion has too often been a part of the problem." Following this statement, they give 2 pages on the role of faith and where religion stands in their agenda. They criticize that faith focuses on the next life instead of the current one, and that believers are unwilling to change. With this attitude faith is basically standing in the way of their plans and is preventing the desired unity. They criticize the believer's apocalyptic views of this world's future. They see their resistance against birth control and vaccinations as a problem.

Here's the Bible's stance on these critics:

1. The Bible tells us that we will have eternal life and that this current life is just temporary. We are to set our eyes on Jesus and believe in the gospel, so when the time comes, we will leave this world, in which we suffer, have trials, sorrows and pains and we will be given a new body and be with God forever. It comes with faith that Christians focus on the life after physical death. I don't know much about the Muslim belief or any other religion, but I know that true Christians would never change their view on gender identity or inclusiveness when it comes to homosexuality. And that has nothing to do with homophobia. God detests homosexuality because that is not how He created the world. He made them male and female and instructed them to multiply. Any congregation that accepts homosexuals in their church, which are actively living their desires out without changing this lifestyle, has gotten off the path of righteousness. Any church that gives in to the WEF's idea is contributing to the apostasy, which comes before the tribulation. When a church changes its values to match the current culture, it is no longer following the God of the Bible, it's following the god of this world which is Satan.
2. The apocalyptic views are not just Bible based; they are also unfolding in front of everyone's eyes right now. And their globalist agenda is just more proof that the Bible is spot on. This is what this apocalyptic view is about. Satan's plan to unite all of his offspring to go against God and drag as many people/souls down to hell as possible. The WEF and all of their followers are the very people that the Bible is warning about.
3. As I just mentioned, God told us to multiply – that eliminates birth control. And thanks to doctors, that were not corrupted by the pharmaceutical industry, and that used common sense and their own real-life experiences with patients, we know that vaccinations are not doing any good whatsoever. They make people sick or even kill people. But they don't want you to know that, otherwise they won't be able to push through their plans of depopulating the world. Doctors, that speak up, get publicly ridiculed, defamed, restricted, banned or arrested, sometimes even killed. So, most people don't learn about that truth. A lot of people simply trust their government, don't question anything, and stay in their little bubble.

Since the WEF understands the role of religion in the world, and in the light of inclusiveness and acceptance, they got Pope Francis and Sheik Ahmed El-Tayeb on board who brought together the 3 largest religions in the world – Christianity, Islam, and Judaism. This project was inspired by the Document on Human Fraternity (also called Abu Dhabi declaration), a joint statement which is concerned with how different faiths can live peacefully in the same world. They co-exist now in Abu Dhabi as the “Abrahamic Family House.” This project was government funded.

After the Covid pandemic, the world is said to be far away from reaching the goal of the Agenda 2030 by 2030. At the end of September 2023, global leaders gathered at the “2023 SDG Summit” in New York to have various nations commit to fully implementing the 2030 agenda, and the sustainable development goal over the next 7 years. It would take extreme measures in order to achieve all of that by that deadline. This marks the beginning of a new phase of accelerated progress with a high-level political guidance on transformative and accelerated actions leading up to 2030. They’ve even installed a countdown online. It’s called the climate clock.

Agenda 2045

I’ll make it short: It’s all about merging humans with AI in every single aspect of life – internal and external.

“The masses have never thirsted after truth. They turn aside from evidence that is not to their taste, preferring to deify error, if error seduce them. Whoever can supply them with illusions is easily their master; whoever attempts to destroy their illusions is always their victim.”
-Gustave Le Bon-

<https://exploringyourmind.com/gustave-le-bon-psychology-of-the-masses/> This is an interesting article about Le Bon and his studies. He wrote about crowd psychology.

“Climate Change”

Wherever you look these days, the made-up issue of climate change is unavoidable – thanks to the elite. We know that the self-elected WEF has been pushing “climate change” very hard for the last few years. And it’s gotten more intense within the last year, I’d say. We already know about the agenda 2030. One of the main goals is to keep climate change in check. The reality of this is, there is no climate change. That’s yet another instrument to control and manipulate people and make them compliant to the WEF’s plans. Even before we were operating billions of cars, and produced greenhouse gases, the climate was changing. Which means we can’t be responsible for the change. “Scientists” in this field, say it’s man-made. That humans are causing global warming. BUT... where did these people get their education from? And who are they working for? Who’s funding their research? Questions that need to be asked. The one thing you have to do these days is – follow the money. The money trail tells you everything you need to know about people, projects, inventions, wars etc.

What do we know about climate and CO2? We have been taught that CO2 is being released into the atmosphere and causes the earth to heat up. I remember that from school. But we also learned that photosynthesis produces oxygen and reduces CO2 in the atmosphere. Knowing that, wouldn’t a person with common sense get to the conclusion that maintaining and planting trees would be the best solution to fight CO2 levels? One would think so. But the WEF and their supporters think differently. This solution wouldn’t serve their plans. They want to track everyone’s carbon footprint and reduce emission which in turn keeps economies going because everything that exists has to be replaced by new things. Planting a tree obviously doesn’t achieve any of that.

To be able to explain “climate change” and all the things that are going on around it, I have to break it down. I’m not going to cover this completely in-depth – that would go too far and turn into a study of fake climate change. But that’s not why I’m writing this book. This is an insanely complex topic and I have to say – the people that work for the WEF are smart people. It takes some genius to put all of this together to make it look like there is a real problem.

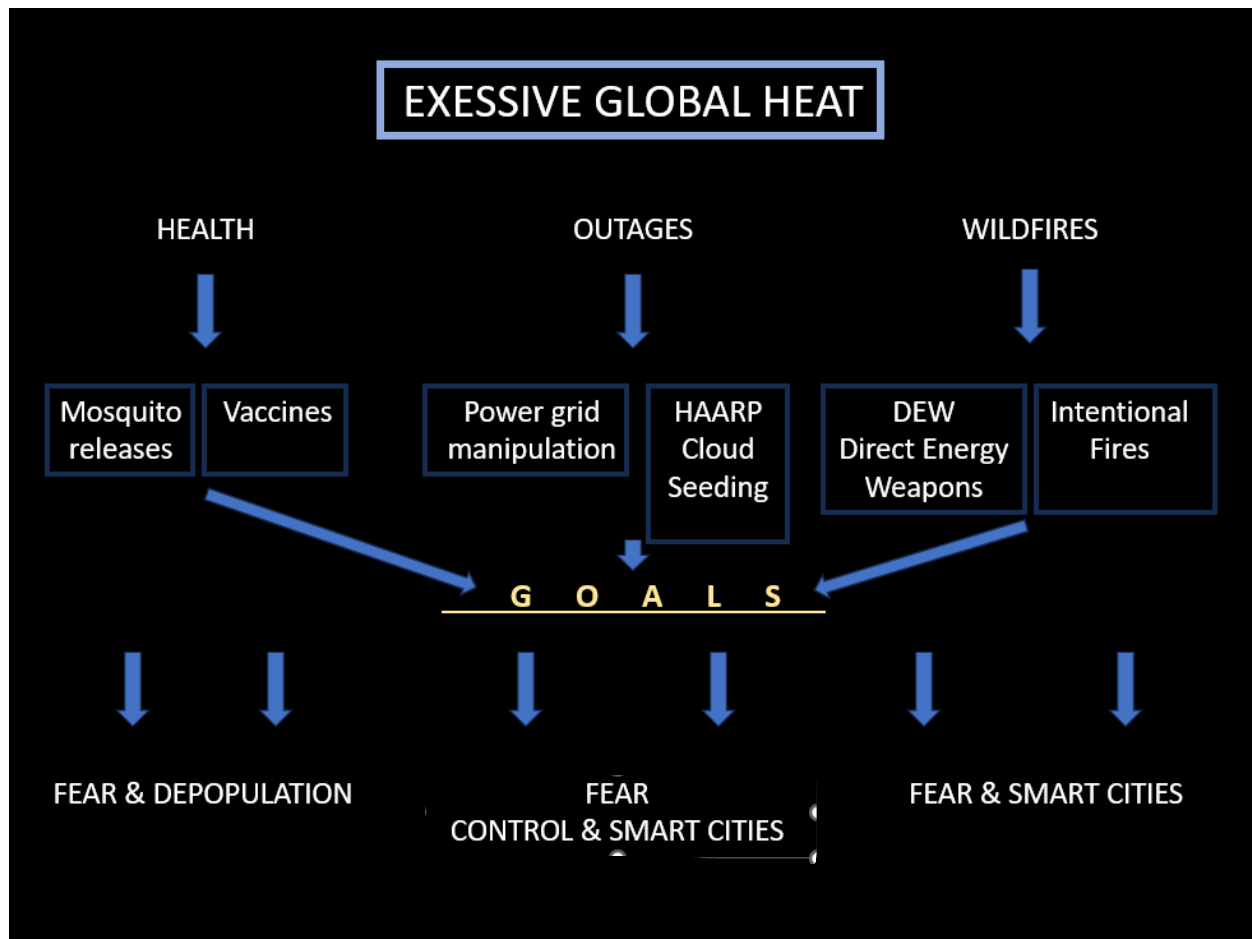

So, I’ll break it up into 3 major areas concerning climate change:

1. Excessive global heat
2. CO2 footprint
3. Overpopulation

These 3 issues are going to serve as the foundation for everything that follows. Additionally, we have to add the motto, which has been successfully used by governments and their agencies for the past decades:

Create a problem – provide the solution.

That’s it. Very simple yet efficient. Going forward I will call that sentence CPPS (create problem – provide solution) to make it easier.

(climate change graphics created by me)

The WEF says that the world is heating up at a rate never seen before. Glaciers are melting and we see heat records all over the place. They also say that the increasing heat is responsible for power outages, wildfires, and health issues. There are more things that they blame, but I will focus on these 3.

Health

Officials warn that we will see more health issues with increasing temperatures, like cardiovascular problems which present themselves in form of, for example, strokes and heart attacks or respiratory diseases. In the light of these predictions we (as people with the ability to ask critical questions) now need to identify a cause for these diseases unrelated to weather changes that can be traced back to the elite. And the one thing that has been relentlessly pushed for the last 3 years is the Covid vaccine. The Covid vaccine has already been proven to cause cardiovascular diseases in humans. Many independent doctors took it upon themselves to study the effect of the vaccines and found that they cause blood clots, and therefore lead to strokes and heart attacks. Of course, these people are being silenced and no one is talking about it in the MSM (mainstream media). It wouldn't fit the narrative, so it's been brushed under the rug.

Dr. Robert Mendelsohn, MD

"I no longer believe in modern medicine. I believe that despite all the super technology and elite bedside manner... the greatest danger to your health is the doctor who practices modern medicine. I believe that modern medicine's treatments for disease are seldom effective, and that they are often more dangerous than the disease they're designed to treat. I believe more than 90% of modern medicine could disappear from the face of the earth – doctors, hospitals, drugs, and equipment – and the effect on our health would be immediate & beneficial... Modern medicine can't survive without our faith, because modern medicine is neither an art nor a science. It's a religion."

Dr. Suzanne Humphries, MD:

"We are told, the science is settled on everything vaccine but as I compare the so-called evidence with the historical and scientific literature, it became clear that the education given to me and to doctors today, is an oppressive form of religion... preached as gospel by leading authorities who act as if their narrow truth is the only religious belief."

The number of healthy young athletes and people in the best years of their lives that died like flies, during the last 3 years, is insane. They had no history of cardiovascular disease, and yet, they died suddenly from strokes and heart failures. But this is going to get explained away with climate change or just not get mentioned at all.

The media and the President of the United States are blaming the unvaccinated for any infections and deaths.

LA Times: "The unvaccinated certainly appear to pose a demonstrable danger to their communities." "Wherever they are, they will help keep the pandemic going."

President Biden: "All these who have not been vaccinated; You have an obligation to yourselves, to your family, and quite frankly to your country." "Please get vaccinated. It's the only responsible thing to do." "We've been patient, but our patience is wearing thin. It's not about freedom or personal choice." "We need more money for vaccines for children. We need more money to plan for the 2nd pandemic. There is going to be a 2nd pandemic."

The way they pushed this narrative is unbelievable. And people don't see it. They don't understand it. They get scared to death and follow their guidance. They go against their neighbors, and their family from an uneducated, or better, falsely educated point of view. The worst thing is – it works. Their plan to divide and aggravate the masses works. It's vaccinated against unvaccinated. Every publication from 1990 onward about vaccines concluded that covid escapes the vaccine impulse because it modifies, changes, and mutates too quickly for vaccines to be efficient. There is a problem with vaccines, and they've known that for at least the last 30 years.

An enormous number of vaccines are also being developed for animals. We know that the mRNA gets into human breast milk, so there is a high chance that we will receive it via the animals we eat, or the cow's milk we drink as soon as they start to injects them. We have infants that drink unknown amounts of mRNA, and they were not supposed to be exposed to the vaccine. They literally try anything they can to make this happen. It's absolutely horrific.

The UN calls for a vaccine to end Tuberculosis by 2030 at the latest. Another vaccine. There was an alleged Polio outbreak in Ukraine and in response, the government managed to run a catch-up campaign for all children between the ages of 6 months to 6 years old who had not received the required doses due to the war and/or Covid lockdowns. Again, they are trying to get as many as possible to comply with their immunization agenda.

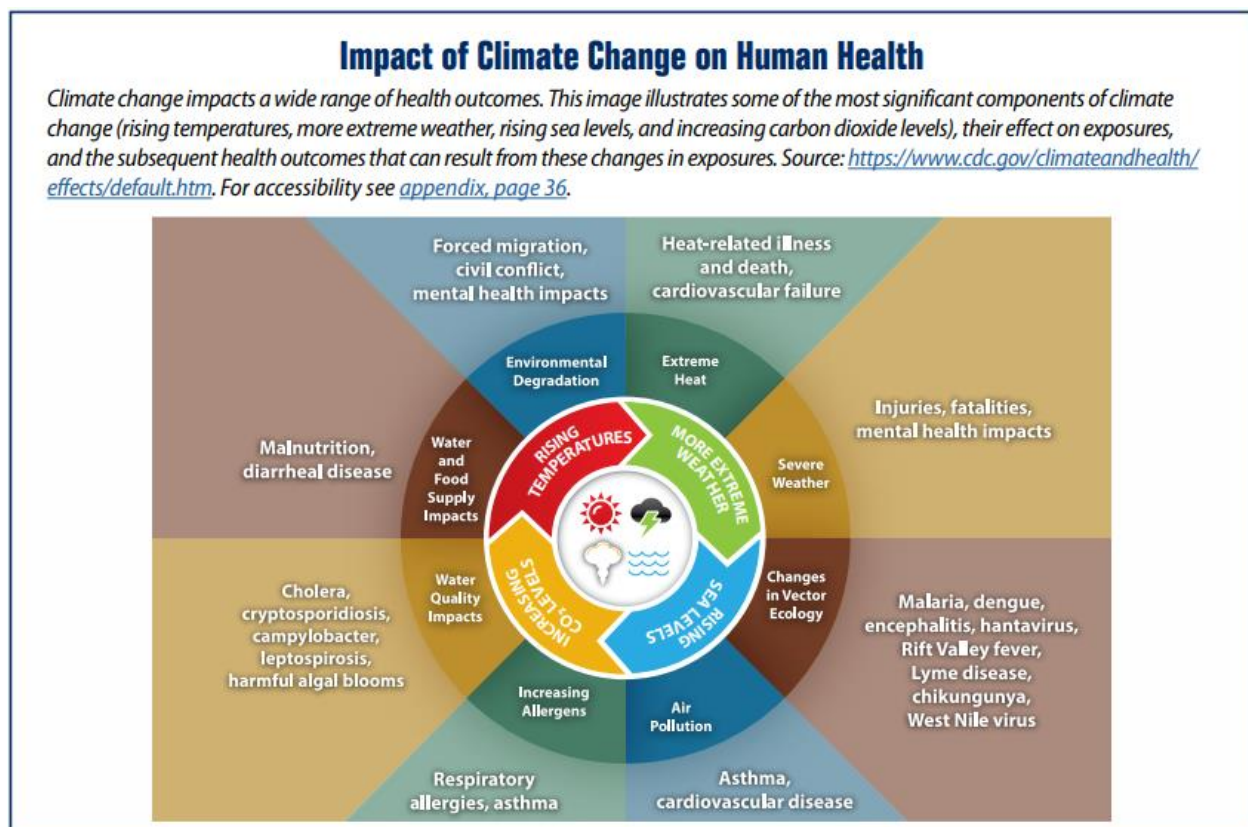

The History of Vaccinations

Most people believe Edward Jenner to have discovered the vaccine against smallpox. But vaccinations have been given to people way before that by people who had no medical education whatsoever. Smallpox was widespread in the 18th century, and Napoleon was the first to initiate smallpox injections and made it mandatory. It wasn't a secret that many people died after receiving these vaccines. For over 200 years, vaccinating was considered a sovereign function, and was therefore one of the biggest industries of the modern era. It is hard to estimate how many people died, or got severely sick, paralyzed, suffered from mental deficiencies, became blind, became deaf, or suffered from other lifelong diseases. The proof, that diseases like polio, smallpox, plague, cholera etc. were eradicated through vaccines, doesn't exist. What we do know is that life circumstances have changed over the years, and this has helped to improve the overall health of people. The plague disappeared entirely without any vaccine. When smallpox was mostly under control, the goal seemed to have been accomplished. But when new infections arose, the industry declared that everyone would need booster shots to be protected. Up until the next epidemic people were considered to be safe. These events brought the largest global industry to life. Since then, the propaganda for vaccinations went absolutely haywire. And who has the money needed to run these propaganda campaigns? The politically powerful and financially strong individuals in our countries. Anyone who doesn't stand behind this propaganda will find themselves with little to no support. It's the people who end up suffering from long-term damages or doctors, who discovered the truth about vaccinations and the resulting consequences. When Rockefeller took over the medical sector, he got rid of all of the previously existing schools for Homeopathy and Naturopathy that taught on natural healing. They actually had very good outcomes, but they didn't serve, nor did they support the money machine discovered by the elite. They started to push sales for their drugs, surgery, and they promoted radiation and chemotherapy.

In 1948 there were only 4 routinely recommended vaccines out there. Smallpox, Diphtheria, Tetanus and Pertussis. In the late 1950s they added Polio. In the late 1960s they created Measles, Mumps and Rubella. After 1972, smallpox was no longer recommended due to successful eradication efforts, or so they believed. In 1994 Hib and Hepatitis B was added. Hepatitis B, for example, gets transmitted through unprotected sex or blood. So, how likely is it that your baby is going to have sexual intercourse or get infected blood into its system? By today, we are at about 27 shots for children before the age of 2. This is insane. Especially when you think about how, or under which circumstances most of these diseases can be transmitted. Which ultimately eliminates basically ALL of these vaccinations. Bear in mind that none of them have been proven to prevent or cure diseases. That's just theory which is being sold as facts! There are enough books out there that educate on the efficiency of vaccines. Not every doctor relies blindly on what pharmaceutical representatives tell them, when they enter their offices to sell their products. This is the reality of things. All doctors get educated in colleges or universities. But this is where the false education is being taught. They get indoctrinated to treat symptoms. To use vaccines. And when they graduate and start their own practices, these representatives show up and educate doctors about their new products. And instead of questioning or researching the new medicine or vaccine, they take it and give it to their patients. They don't know how to find root causes of diseases anymore. They don't know how to supplement. They don't recommend, for example, sunlight, fresh air, healthy diet, or exercise anymore. The very things that are beneficial to EVERYONE. They give people drugs that affect other parts of the body, so that patients have to take other drugs, or more drugs to treat the new problems they have. It's a whole cycle. I'm not saying every doctor is like that. But the ones that are different are rare, unfortunately. Doctors that go against the mainstream are being silenced, disbarred, imprisoned, or even killed. The vaccination issue is, again, a great example for the CPPS scheme. They create a disease; they develop a vaccine for it and sell it to countries. And they are making a lot of money with that vaccine. But in this scheme there's already another one built in – the vaccine causes serious illnesses in humans, and big pharma is right there, providing the drugs that will help with the new issue, and therefore they will make even more money than what they had already been making with the vaccine.

The CDC actually has a graphic for what we can expect in the future. Please be aware that they will do everything in their power to make sure all of this comes to pass – one way or another. These are the expected health outcomes related to climate change. I'm not showing you this to worry you. I'm showing you this to point out what the elite does to make it seem like we have a climate change problem. See, how they highlight all these Mosquito related diseases on the right side? Well, over the last several years Mosquitos have been genetically manipulated by a biotech company called Oxitec. Bill Gates funded this company who is developing "Friendly technology" (which is a self-limiting gene) that they introduce into male mosquitos which they call "Friendly male." They are then released into the wild to reproduce with pest females (which carry diseases). This gene is supposed to disrupt the proper functions of the female insects' cell, and therefore, their development and their female offspring should die before adulthood. The goal is to have them die out step by step. Apparently only the females bite which is why they manipulate and release only males. They do this with different mosquito types, some of which are known to carry diseases like malaria, dengue, yellow fever and Zika. They also have a mosquito factory in Colombia. The company released 30 million genetically modified Aedes aegypti mosquitos into 11 countries per week. In Texas and Florida, they released 150,000 mosquitos in 2021 and another 2 million in Florida and California in 2022. It is interesting to note that Florida's mosquito population of the specific type "Aedes aegypti" is relatively low. Why then release so many mosquitos? The US just recently had its first malaria case in forever and there are now 9 known cases in 3 states. The question now is: does tampering with mosquito genes work? It seems like it doesn't. Not only does the US have cases of malaria, but there is now, allegedly, the worst dengue outbreak on record in Bangladesh and Peru. Is this related? I don't know but I see the possibility of it. Especially because it helps push the narrative of climate change. If you want to increase these Mosquito diseases, first you need more mosquitos to make it seem like higher temperatures have caused them to rapidly multiply, all while they were gene manipulated, farmed, and released into the world over several years. I hope you see the pattern of the "create a problem – provide the solution" approach.

The goal is to instill fear in the population, and to depopulate by way of causing diseases through mosquitos, and vaccines, which results in deaths that will be officially tied to climate change but have their roots in gene manipulation.

Power Outages

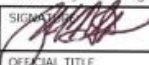

I don't know how prevalent this is in other countries, but I know it is a huge issue in the US. Due to increasing temperatures, the population uses more energy to operate air conditioners. Because the power grid is pretty weak in America (it's just really old), this leads to electrical overload and results in power outages. But what we have seen in the past is that the power grid has been tampered with by people. We had incidences where people shot at the power plants to cut off power for entire regions. Cyber-attacks are another threat to the energy grid. Who did it and why? One can only speculate. What I do know is that they can update and fix the American power grid, but they don't. I believe this is going to be one of the factors that will push people into smart cities in the future because they will promise uninterrupted power. Which will lead to fewer economic losses for the area and for the individual. Sounds good, but you could also just fix the power grid with the money you use for the smart cities instead. But then that wouldn't serve the goal of the elite.

Natural Disaster

The number of natural disasters are increasing. This point is not only obvious but actually biblical.

Luke 21:11 "There will be great earthquakes, famines and pestilences in various places, and fearful events and great signs from heaven."

So, as much as we know that this is part of the last days, we also know that the elite is manipulating the weather. If you wonder how this is possible and that this can't be true – believe me, I was as shocked as you. But this is really happening. One of the ways is called "cloud seeding." Look up "Weather Modification Policy Act of 1976". I found a website online that documents different weather modification projects in the US with a main focus on the mid-west. It's called NOAA Central Library – National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. They write: "In the late 1940's and 1950's many deemed "the deliberate or the inadvertent alteration of atmospheric conditions by human activity", also known as weather modification, as a promising science of the future. Currently, the most common form of weather modification is cloud seeding, which increases rain or snow, usually for the purpose of increasing the local water supply. Weather modification can also have the goal of preventing damaging weather, such as hail or hurricanes, from occurring." Humans have figured out how to manipulate the weather on earth. On their page you can find tons of reports about finalized weather modification operations. They describe what they do and what they use to manipulate the weather. Unfortunately, there's no information about the outcome of these specific experiments. Have a look.

6. DESCRIPTION OF WEATHER MODIFICATION APPARATUS, MODIFICATION AGENTS AND THEIR DISPERSAL RATES, THE TECHNIQUES EMPLOYED, ETC. (See Instructions) This is a continuation of the Upper Kern River Basin Program, a long-term project that began operations in 1955. During the 2017 winter season winter storm systems will be seeded using PA-31P aircraft equipped with seeding equipment, liquid water and temperature sensors and telemetry to transmit data. The operational program office is located at the Fresno Airport (KFAT). Silver iodide type aerosols and/or hygroscopic aerosols are generated using ejectable and end-burning pyrotechnics released 20-30 miles upwind of the target area. Seeding materials are typically released between 9,000-16,000' depending on temperatures and wind velocities. Seeding material release rates vary between 200-400 gAg/hr depending on cloud conditions, temperatures and distance to the target. Seeding is conducted near the top of the water saturated layer in supercooled liquid or mixed phase cloud conditions as predicted explicitly by a regional version of the WRF model. Evaluations are conducted annually based on streamflow and snow survey data. Multiple control areas are used that surround the target area to the north, west and northeast sides of the target area.

They were seeding winter storm systems by releasing silver iodide type aerosols and/or hygroscopic aerosols at 9000-16000 feet. A study (<https://pubmed.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/27517140/>) suggests that silver iodide from cloud seeding moderately affect biota living in both terrestrial and aquatic ecosystems if cloud seeding is repeatedly applied in a specific area, and large amounts of seeding materials accumulate in the environment.

This is what cloud seeding looks like:

Cloud seeding from the ground

Cloud seeding from a plane

You see this huge golf ball-like structure? They are going up everywhere now. They are supposedly monitoring the weather. But that's not what they are. They are NEXRAD/ Doppler used for steering the weather. We have one close to our home, too.

Ever since I learned about all of this, I have kept an eye on the sky. We all have seen these "contrails" in the sky before. But they are not all the same. Normal planes produce them, but they disappear shortly after the plane moves on. The planes that produce chemtrails through cloud seeding use different chemicals like silver iodide, potassium iodide, carbon dioxide, propane, calcium carbide, ammonium nitrate, sodium chloride or urea compound, which stays in the air long after the plane is gone. We sometimes have the most beautiful blue sky and then all of a sudden these planes cross through the sky and leave their ugly stripes. After a while they spread out and it looks like it's getting cloudy. That's when they "modify" the clouds with the help of all these devices. And they do that daily.

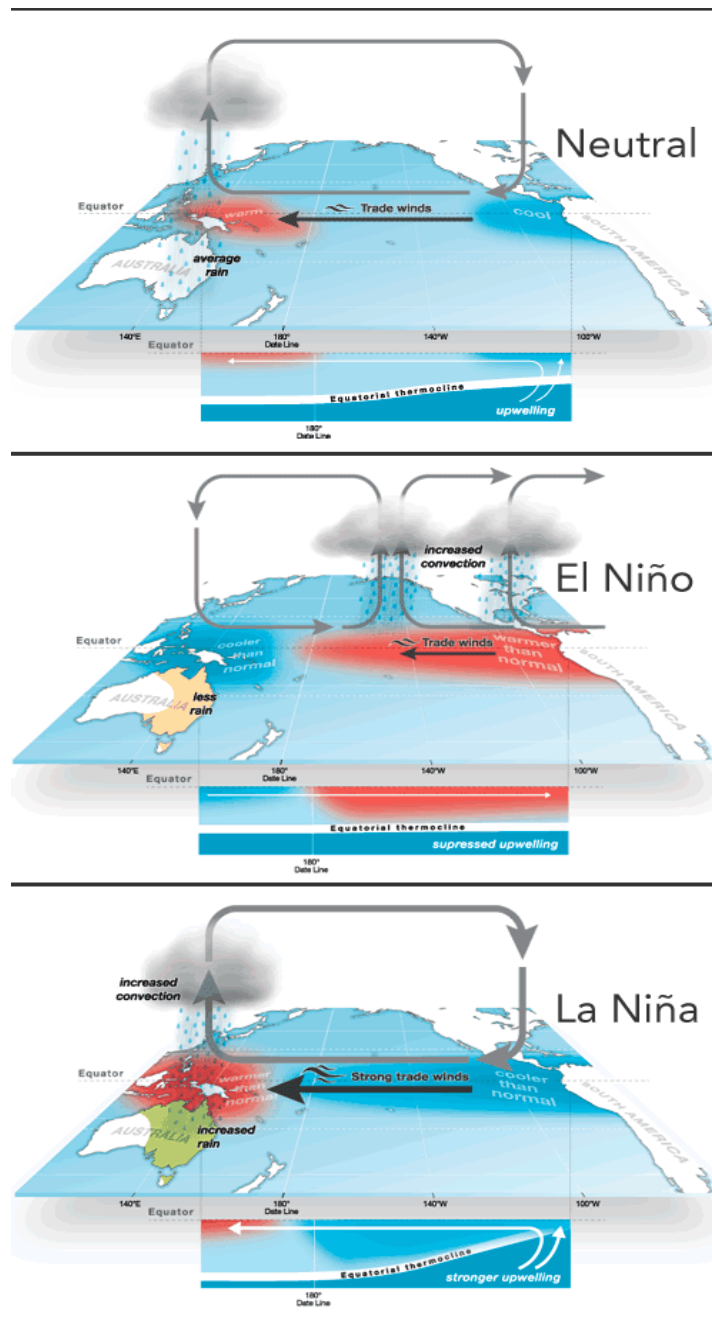

Have a look at all the flooding in the summer of 2023. I surely can't prove that, but isn't it such a "coincidence"? They know how to manipulate the weather and want to make the world believe that we have a climate crisis that is threatening everyone's life and all of a sudden all these terrible storms show up all over the world and make it seem as if the climate went crazy. I believe they didn't really report this on the news, but there were heavy rain falls, storms and flooding in China, Spain, UK, Germany, Libya, Oman, France, South Africa, Saudi Arabia, Morocco, Indonesia, Russia, and other places. All within one week in September 2023.

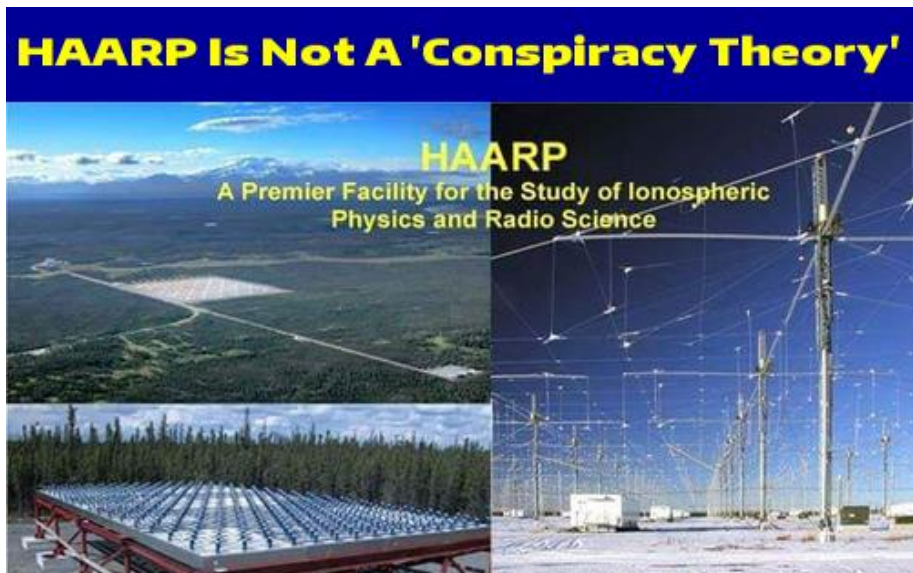

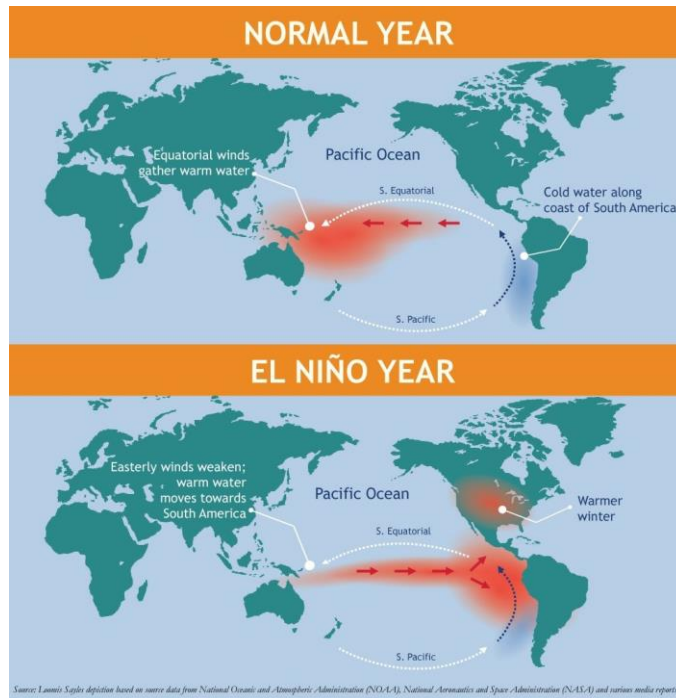

And if all of these modification devices were not enough, have a look at this one. I found this on YouTube, where you can see it in action. It's a cloud machine made by NASA. Shortly after they released the "cloud" it started to rain.

When we look back in history, changes in temperature were normal. We had a “little ice age” around 1300 AD which lasted about 400 years until about 1714 (at least that’s what’s known for Europe). So, considering this, of course it looks like the earth has been heating up ever since. But that doesn’t mean that we have a climate change catastrophe at our hands as they make it seem. We are still “recovering” from a little ice age. Unfortunately, the El Nino phenomenon in 2023 played right into the hands of the elite. This event heats up the pacific ocean which in turn heats up the Atlantic ocean through the water streams which then have severe effects on the weather all over the world. This makes it seem like they have a point, but it’s just normal weather patterns. After El Nino things will go back to normal or move on to La Nina, which represents a cold period. This should be general knowledge, but they behave like the climate is out of control and use it to their advantage.

The other scientific research that is being conducted is research of the ionosphere via HAARP. This was first developed in 1990 and operated by the US Airforce in 1994 and is now in the hand of the University of Alaska Fairbanks. But other countries have this system as well, like China and Russia. Information about HAARP are available online. When you see a fact checking page, please ignore it. Fact checkers work for the government.

This is a video that explains HAARP in great detail: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=TCexJx2t9Ic>

It's very interesting and terrifying to see what they have been working on and doing to the world since the early 1970s. After watching the video, the following is just a glimpse of the seemingly endless possibilities HAARP can be used for.

The goal of the research at HAARP is to conduct fundamental study of the physical processes at work in the very highest portions of our atmosphere, called the thermosphere and ionosphere. This research falls into two categories (1) active, which requires the use of the Ionospheric Research Instruments and (2) passive, which only uses monitoring instruments.

The ionosphere starts at about 60 to 80 km altitude and extends up above 500 km altitude. There are free electrons and ions in the ionosphere that radio waves can interact with. HAARP radio waves heat the electrons and create small perturbations that are similar to the kinds of interactions that happen in nature. Natural phenomena are random and are often difficult to observe. With HAARP, scientists can control when and where the perturbations occur so they can measure their effects. In addition, they can repeat experiments to confirm the measurements really show what researchers think they do.

Here is how I understand it. I am not a scientist or physicist so I might be wrong, but I read a lot about it in the patent, which can be found online. What I understand is that with this technology it is possible to alter plasma in the ionosphere and establish a plume of this altered plasma at selected locations for communication modification which means you can disrupt the communication between, for example, a plane and its point of contact on the earth's surface or it can distort GPS signals. It further states that these plumes (which are something like a cloud) can be used for other purposes, but they didn't reveal more details about the "other purposes." This is what I found in the patent description: "It can be seen from the foregoing that by appropriate application of various aspects of this invention at strategic locations and with adequate power sources, a means and method is provided to cause interference with or even total disruption of communications over a very large portion of the earth. This invention could be employed to disrupt not only land-based communications, both civilian and military, but also airborne communications and sea communications (both surface and subsurface). This would have significant military implications, particularly as a barrier to or confusing factor for hostile missiles or airplanes. "And it further states: "Weather modification is possible by, for example, altering upper atmosphere wind patterns or altering solar absorption patterns by constructing one or more plumes of atmospheric particles which will act as a lens or focusing device." The patent says it can be used for weather modification! Here is the link to the patent: <https://patents.google.com/patent/US4686605A/en>

I know that HAARP is working with NOAA, who is responsible for the cloud seeding activities. This is stated on their website. Looking at the bigger picture, we need to understand that these activities have a huge impact on our weather and more importantly – on our climate. Considering that this technology is in the hands of the leaders of our countries and the elite, it is easy to figure out that the alleged "climate change" is artificially produced by the very people that are actively working on changing the way the world is governed. They create a climate crisis to get us to comply and support to their plans for the future. And thanks to their indoctrination through schools, colleges etc. they create preprogrammed slaves that engage in climate activism.

There's another thing that is being studied. They are trying to figure out how they can block out the sun, so the earth can cool down. It's called solar engineering. Now guess who's backing the development of the sun-dimming technology? Bill Gates! It's called the Stratospheric Controlled Perturbation Experiment launched by Harvard University scientists. They aim to spray non-toxic calcium carbonate dust into the atmosphere, which is a sun reflecting aerosol that is supposed to combat the effects of global warming. This was in 2021. So far, nothing has happened in this direction. Opponents of solar engineering believe that it comes with unpredictable risks including extreme shifts in weather patterns. This is most likely the reason why no one has put this to the test yet. At least, as far as we know...

This is a summary of all the modifications that are happening in the atmosphere.

I found some sources in which people comment on the weather modification activities:

- 1) In April 1997, Secretary of Defense William S. Cohen stated in a United States Department of Defense news briefing the following: (Source: Department of Defense News Briefing: Secretary of Defense William S. Cohen)

"OTHERS ARE ENGAGING EVEN IN AN ECO-TYPE OF TERRORISM WHEREBY THEY CAN ALTER THE CLIMATE, SET OFF EARTHQUAKES, VOLCANOES REMOTELY THROUGH THE USE OF ELECTROMAGNETIC WAVES."

- 2) Marc Filterman, a former French military officer, outlines several types of "unconventional weapons" using radio frequencies. He refers to "weather war," indicating that the U.S. and the Soviet Union had already:

"MASTERED THE KNOW-HOW NEEDED TO UNLEASH SUDDEN CLIMATE CHANGES (HURRICANES, DROUGHT) IN THE EARLY 1980S." (3) THESE TECHNOLOGIES MAKE IT "POSSIBLE TO TRIGGER ATMOSPHERIC DISTURBANCES BY USING EXTREMELY LOW FREQUENCY (ELF) RADAR [WAVES]."

"WEATHER MODIFICATION OFFERS THE WAR FIGHTER A WIDE RANGE OF POSSIBLE OPTIONS TO DEFEAT OR COERCE AN ADVERSARY... WEATHER MODIFICATION WILL BECOME A PART OF DOMESTIC AND INTERNATIONAL SECURITY AND COULD BE DONE UNILATERALLY... IT COULD HAVE OFFENSIVE

AND DEFENSIVE APPLICATIONS AND EVEN BE USED FOR DETERRENCE PURPOSES. THE ABILITY TO GENERATE PRECIPITATION, FOG, AND STORMS ON EARTH OR TO MODIFY SPACE WEATHER... AND THE PRODUCTION OF ARTIFICIAL WEATHER ALL ARE A PART OF AN INTEGRATED SET OF MILITARY TECHNOLOGIES.”

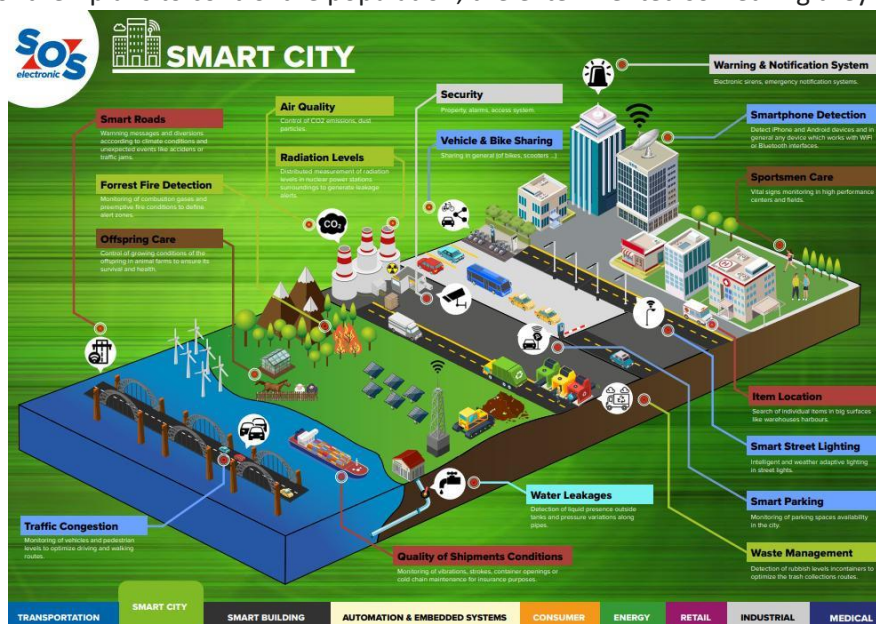

ALSO IN CHAPTER 2, “IN 1957, THE PRESIDENT’S ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON WEATHER CONTROL EXPLICITLY RECOGNIZED THE MILITARY POTENTIAL OF WEATHER-MODIFICATION, WARNING IN THEIR REPORT THAT IT COULD BECOME A MORE IMPORTANT WEAPON THAN THE ATOM BOMB.”

Wildfires

Wildfires are a destructive force caused by climate change – at least this is what we are made to believe. I am sure there are instances where a fire started due to the heat of the sun and flammable materials. In my opinion wildfires are often caused by humans who don’t know how to safely operate various forms of grills in nature or how to dispose of cigarettes safely or by intentional actions. I want to explore intentional actions a little deeper. There are various reasons why people might want to burn trees down. Rainforests get burned down to clear space for certain projects like expanding land for agriculture (e.g., cattle, palm oil, soy in Brazil and Indonesia). Other times there are man-made fires to clear undergrowth, like in California. And as of this year, I believe, there are fires to clear areas and make space for smart cities or to push people out of rural areas, so they are forced to move to the cities. These areas do not just include forests but also human settlements that are built in a way that wouldn’t benefit a smart city in the region. Rebuilding is expensive and most people would rather give up their properties for good money from investors, than rebuild their homes. And that is what they count on.

What is a smart city?

In the wake of their plans to control the population, the elite invented something they call smart city.

They are also called 15-minute cities, where you can reach anything you need in life within 15 minutes.

This is what Wikipedia has to say:

A smart city is a technologically modern urban area that uses different types of electronic methods and sensors to collect specific data. Information gained from that data is used to manage assets, resources, and services efficiently; in return, that data is used to improve operations across the city. This includes data collected from citizens, devices, buildings, and assets that is processed and analyzed to monitor and manage traffic and transportation systems, power plants, utilities, urban forestry, water supply networks, waste, criminal investigations, information systems, schools, libraries, hospitals, and other community services. Smart cities are defined as smart both in the ways in which their governments harness technology as well as in how they monitor, analyze, plan, and govern the city. In smart cities, the sharing of data is not limited to the city itself but also includes businesses, citizens and other third parties that can benefit from various uses of that data.

In other words: the entire city and the people in it are being monitored in every aspect of life. This is what the book “1984” is about, which I will discuss later on. These cities are the tool to control the population (surveillance, climate lockdowns etc.). But first they have to be built. And to be able to build them they need to find and make space for them.

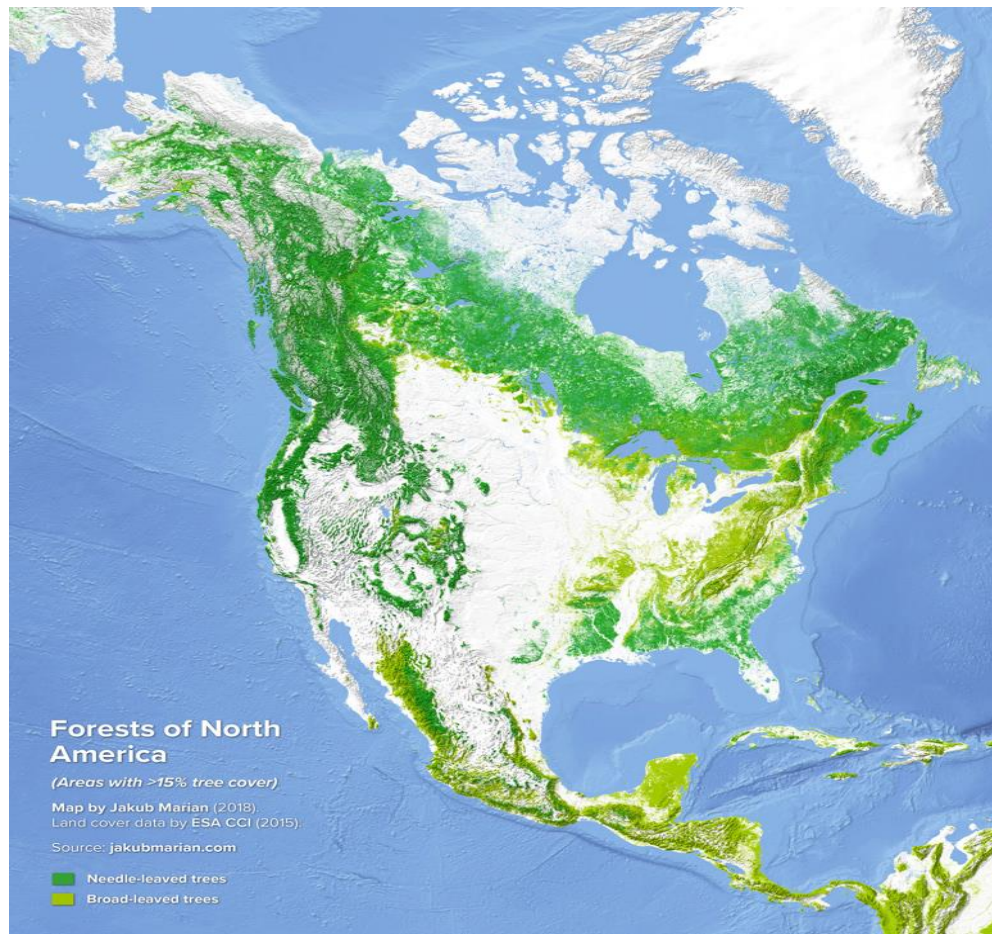

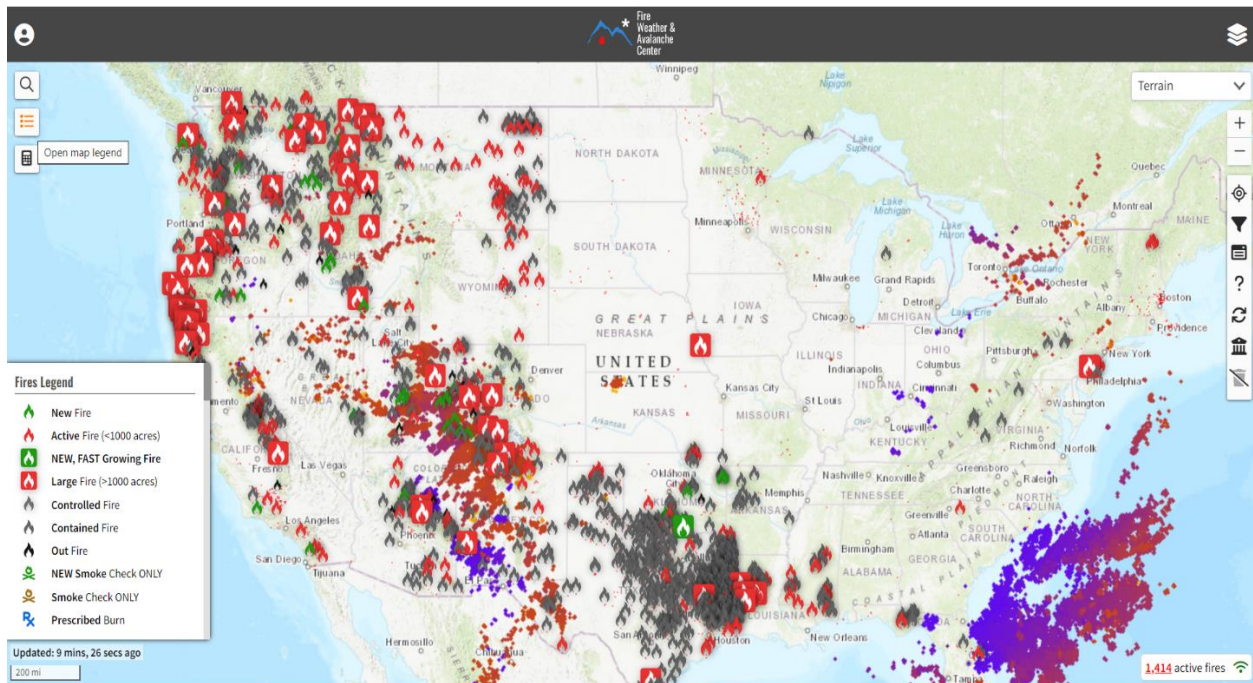

August 2023 was unusually warm in America. But as I said before, we are in an El Nino year and at the same time they manipulate the weather, so this is not a surprise. But the elite have used this to their advantage and deployed various wildfires throughout the US during temperature peak days to make it seem as if the heat caused the fires. The average, non-critical thinking individual might believe that, but there are people that do not. And this is simply based on evidence. Let's have a look at the fires in relation to smart cities.

The first thing you need to notice is that these fires were raging all in the same time period. And this is just 4 of them. There were many more. As we just learned in the chapter before, governments have the ability to create plumes in the ionosphere which can act as a lens or focusing device. Sounds to me like you can easily create a fire with HAARP. And if it's not created by HAARP, we have DEW (Direct Energy Weapons).

This webpage has current information on all fires that are going on in the US:

<https://www.fireweatheravalanche.org/fire/>

Most of the cities that plan to become smart cities had to deal with fires in August.

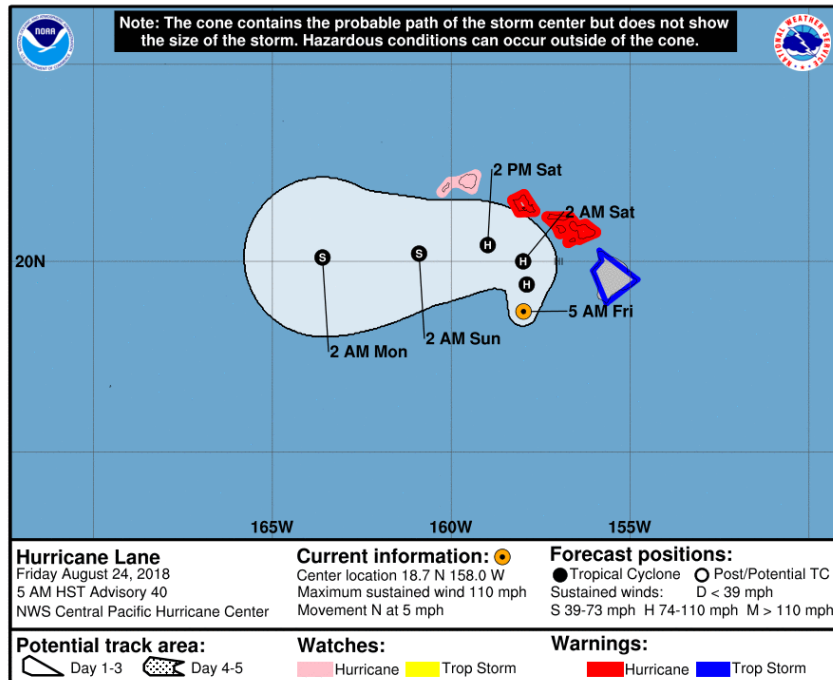

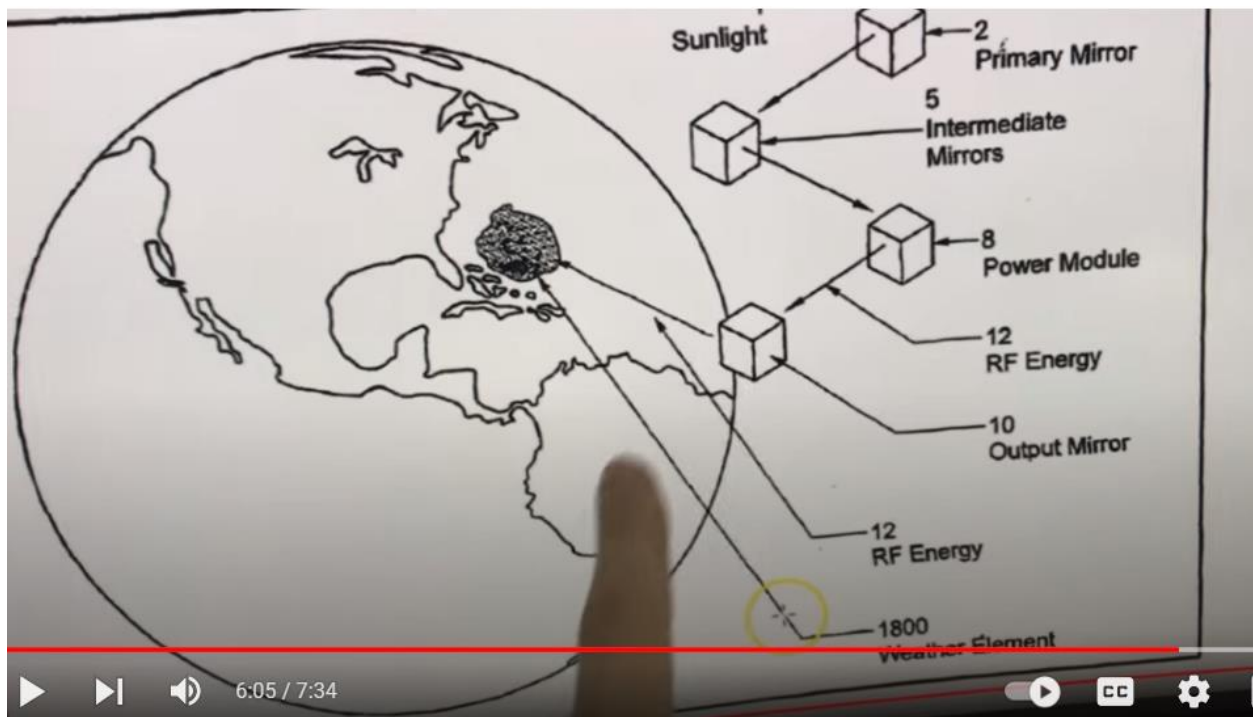

When you compare the major forest areas of North America and Canada with the fire map above you can see how thousands of acres full of trees are getting burned down. This is a map from August 2023. I strongly believe, that this is intentional. Why? Well, when the trees are gone, we are going to have less trees to absorb CO₂, and therefore a better argument for global warming. We now also have more space to build smart cities, while also creating more homeless people that can be pushed into controlled areas.

I will now prove “intentional fires” by the example of Maui, Hawaii.

On August 8th, 2023, a devastating fire destroyed the historic city of Lahaina in Maui. Hawaii officially belongs to the United States. It is ruled by a democratic leader, Governor Josh Green. In January 2023 they had a conference in Maui where they discussed turning Maui’s energy grid into a new smart grid with renewable energy, all-electric vehicle solutions and smart technology throughout the island – a smart city. Lahaina Historic District was 200 years old and loved by the islanders and tourists alike. You can see how Hawaiians might not be too happy about changing everything in their historical areas. A lot of land has been bought by wealthy investors and companies over the years and they’ve turned many parts of the Islands into tourist destinations. Hawaiians refused to sell their land to the government or real estate investors. In interviews after the fire, many said that they were asked before if they would sell their land. Then the fire happened, and 1 or 2 days later, residents were receiving calls from real estate investment firms to buy up their land. The rebuilding is going to cost billions of dollars and most people won’t be able to afford to rebuild their house. The governor held a press conference after the fires saying that global warming caused the Hurricane, which passed by during the week of the fire, and that Lahaina will be rebuilt in its own image – a new Lahaina. That’s exactly what the residents don’t want, and they were very clear about that. If people don’t want to comply with a new vision of a city, how do you think they could get them to comply? You burn the place down. To most people it looks like a land grab.

Here comes the evidence as to why I believe, that this was an intentional fire. Maui had a drought for weeks before the fires. We learned that with weather modification it is possible to create droughts. It is also possible to create and intensify hurricanes and to influence their trajectory. For that you need high altitude solar steering equipment, as you can see below. These are the plans from the patent on that technology.

On August 7th Maui had to deal with very strong winds caused by the Hurricane that passed a few hundred miles south of the island. Having the technology, they could have easily influenced the trajectory of the storm beforehand. If they would have wanted to, but they didn't. They did the opposite and influenced the storm and wind directions so they would be able to execute their evil plan.

On August 8th there was a fire in the early morning which had been contained 100% before 9AM. After that, a lot of very strange things happened. Schools were canceled that day and children were sent home while parents were at work. The water was turned off in the city hence no one could fight a fire. Some people say there was no water because of the drought. Some say there was no water because all the water is getting used up by the hotels on the island. The emergency alarm in the city didn't turn on to warn the residents. No one received any alert on their cell phones either. They said that the electricity was shut off. At 3pm there was supposedly a flare up of the morning fire (which was 100% out). When the fire was already raging in Lahaina, people tried to flee their homes by car. Many of them tried to leave the city but the police blocked off the roads to safety and sent residents back into the fire. Tons of people got stuck on Front St. because police turned people back from the road that could have saved them. I've seen footage of these situations. There are videos and interviews out there that confirm this. The way the city was burned makes zero sense. You have intact trees, grass and some buildings surrounded by completely microwaved areas that were not touched at all even though there was no way the fire wouldn't have spread to that area. In an eyewitness video you can see how a bush in front of a house is burning with no fire anywhere close to the house. Just the bush. So, how can you burn a city down but not burn all of it? The answer is either DEW or HAARP. DEW's have the ability to not just burn but vaporize. Apparently some of them can also act like a microwave. And this is what happened in Lahaina. Here's what many researchers have learned: Fires that vaporize houses and melt glass and metal while leaving nearby trees standing tall—not even blackened or striped of foliage—are deliberately set using DEWs. If you do an experiment, as YouTuber Max Mogren did, and put leaves in your microwave, you'll also learn that plant matter doesn't burn. This explains why these modern-day weaponized fires melt metal and glass but leave trees standing with all their foliage. Some trees die, but they don't burn. They're cooked from the inside, like potatoes. Everything around them is fully destroyed as you can see in the picture. But the trees are fine. And the umbrellas.

This is the oldest house in Lahaina. Magically, it still stands and has no damage at all even though everything else around it is entirely destroyed. They are “mocking” the people. This is done right in front of our eyes. We just don’t know what we are looking at and are not educated on what it means. Don’t even think for a minute that this is luck or a wonder. This happened on purpose, and I believe that because I see how they do it in every aspect of our lives. Mocking and laughing at us for how dumb we are for not noticing what they are doing.

There were other fires in the US, like in California, where the same thing happened. Have a look. Alleged camp fire in 2018. All the houses are vaporized – gone entirely. But the trees are still there. With foliage.

The other evidence comes from this picture. Here you can see a perfect circle within the burning city. This does not happen naturally.

The winds on the island didn't just come from Hurricane Dora. There was also a strong dome of high pressure to the north of the island. The combination of the low-pressure system Dora and the high-pressure dome in the north created a wind tunnel in the region between the two opposite rotating pressure systems. Therefore, Hawaii was a bullseye. The uninterrupted trajectory of Hurricane Dora could have been suppressed with climate engineering operations if they had chosen to do so. You can also create a drought by climate intervention engineering. NOAA has the capabilities to do these things as they stated on their website. Yet, it seems as if they actually fueled the whole situation so that the main players in this disaster had an excuse for the devastation of the fire. So, how did it start then? The answer is DEW – Direct Energy Weapons. A laser. Sounds like from a science fiction movie, doesn't it? Look at this:

EXAMPLE OF DEW

HEL MD

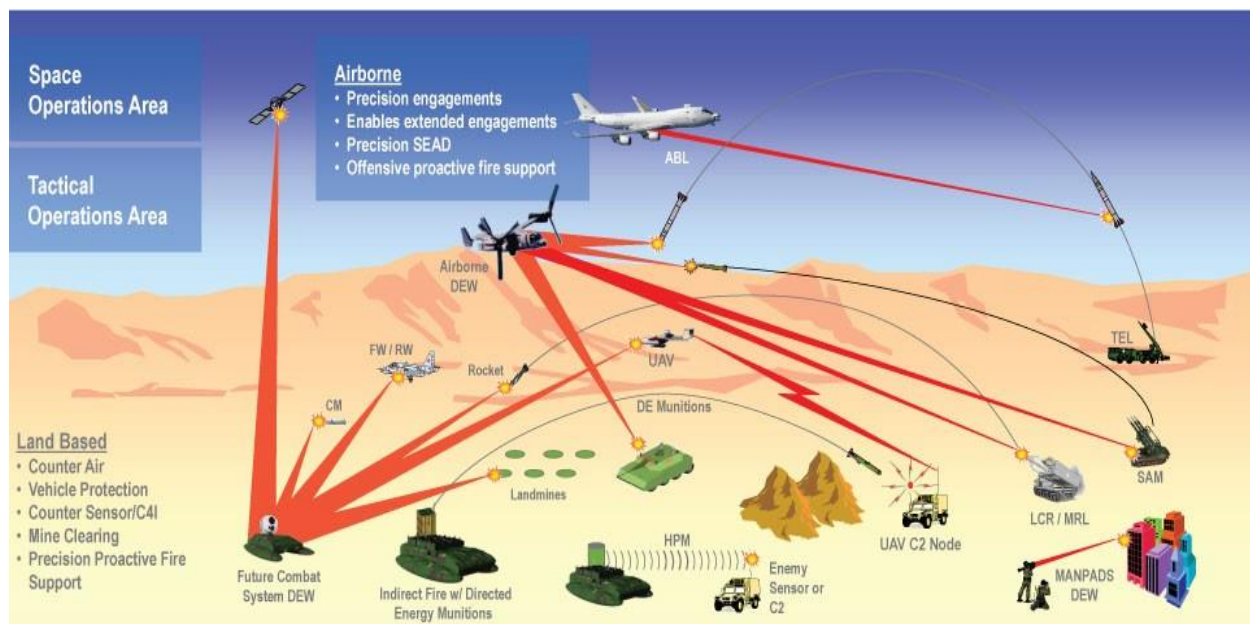

Boeing YAL-1

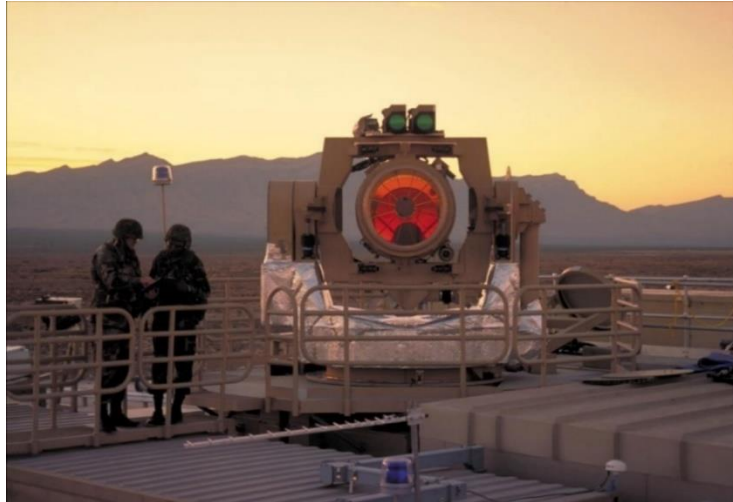

Active Denial System

PHAsR

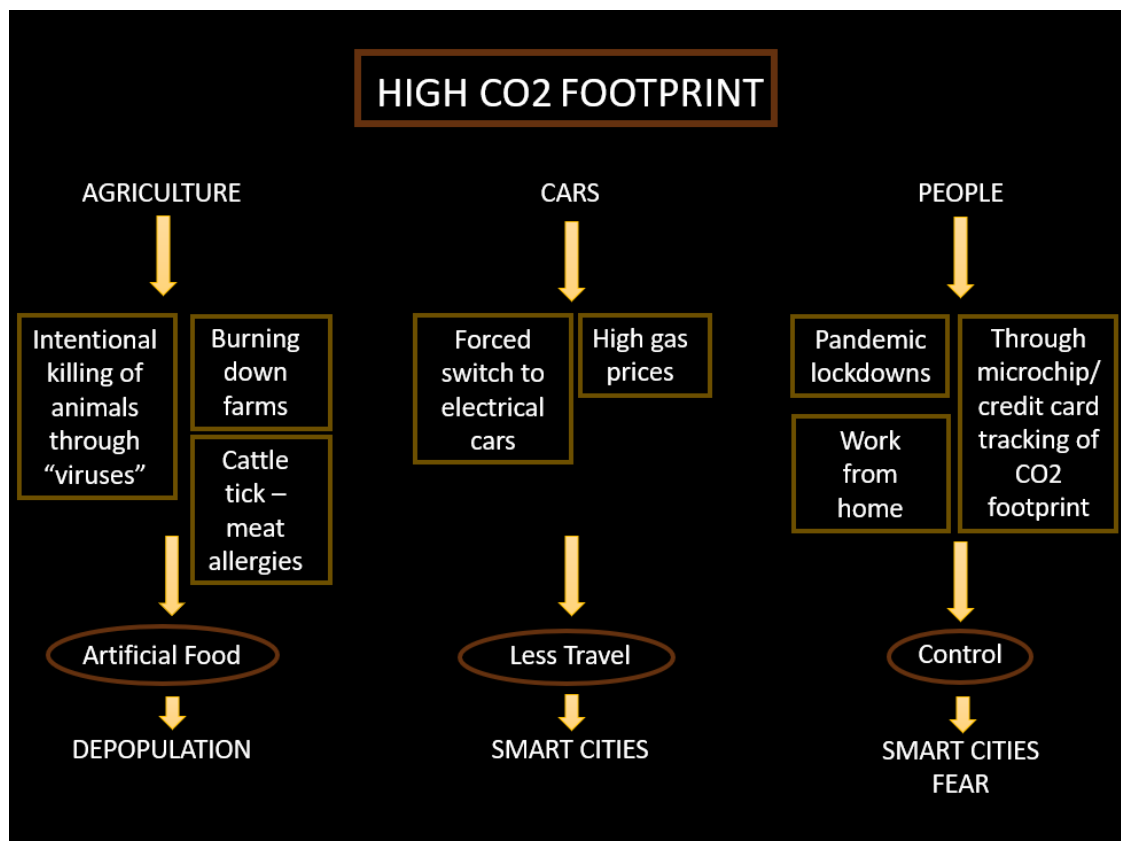

This is what it looks like when a laser hits a target.

Look at these perfectly preserved areas.

We now realize that they have a lot of equipment and inventions in their hands to support their claim of “climate crisis.” The scheme is very clear to see here – they created “climate change” with everything that could potentially come with it. In order to make it look like nature supports their claims, they use weather modification, direct energy weapons, gene manipulated mosquitos and vaccines. Et voila... we have a climate crisis. And who are we looking to for help in this crisis? Exactly – the leaders of our countries. The governments. The very people that destroy us in the first place. And conveniently, they are already right there to provide the solution. Unfortunately, this solution drags the population even deeper into their games and we end up being more controlled and getting more “milked” than we have been already. Their main goals are instilling fear to make us compliant and to be able to control us. Depopulation will be achieved through diseases caused by vaccines and gene manipulation. And the building of smart cities has the goal to jam the people into small areas where they can exercise their power in a controlled environment supported by AI – that’s how it’s done.

You need to know that these lasers can also be used for weather modifications. This has been known for many years. You can bring electricity down the laser to produce lightning bolts.

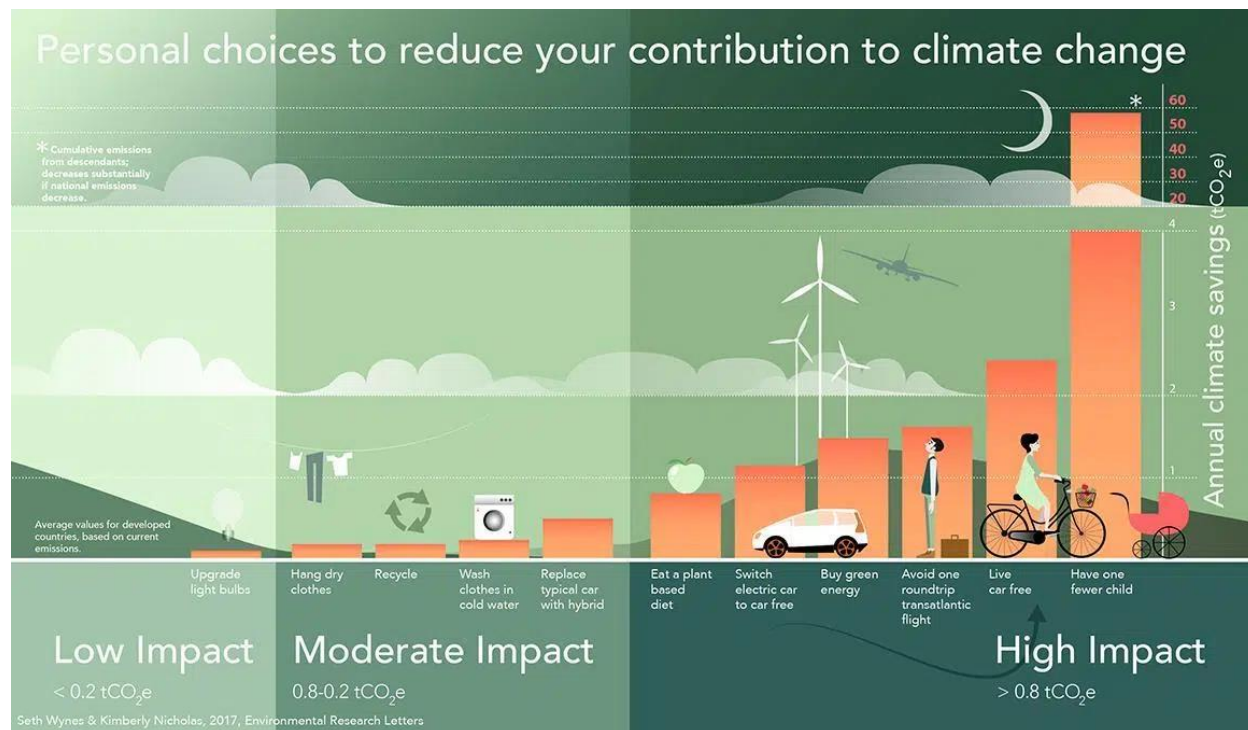

Let’s ask a question. What is the atmosphere primarily made of? Answer: 78% Nitrogen, 21% oxygen, and carbon dioxide is 0,04%. Of this 0.04% carbon dioxide, humans are responsible for 11%. 11% of 0.04%. This is what the entire leadership of the world focuses their attention on – that is what allegedly causes global warming. And that is what they are spending hundreds of billions of dollars on. On 11% of 0.04%. I don't think that needs any further explanation. The ridiculousness of the situation is beyond anything.

www.earth.org says: "Climate change is affecting the entire globe, causing extreme weather events such as flooding, extreme heat waves, heavy downpours, as well as rapidly changing climate conditions. To limit global warming to 1.5 degree Celsius and achieve carbon neutrality, as recommended by the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) and the 2015 Paris Agreement, it is essential to understand where carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gas emissions come from, so that actions to reduce emissions can be taken."

The propaganda machine is rolling. Wherever you look – you can't get past the "climate change" topic. By the way, in this text from earth.org they are proving my previous point – promoting extreme weather events as part of climate change all while the extreme weather is artificially produced to prove the created problem. Carbon footprint is the next big point on their agenda. That's all you've heard about lately. But what is it? This is what earth.org has to say about it:

"A carbon footprint is defined as the total amount of greenhouse gases emitted into the atmosphere, such as carbon dioxide (CO₂), methane (CH₄), nitrous oxide (N₂O), hydrofluorocarbons (HFCs), expressed in equivalent tons of CO₂. It is associated with the activities of an individual, a community, an organization, a process, a product or service, or an event, among other things. Individual carbon footprint can thus be termed as the total amount of greenhouse gases produced by our personal actions such as transportation, household activities, clothing, and food."

Here you can see where they think you can contribute by changing your behavior in favor of the climate. Please notice, how they didn't recommend stopping the use of private jets but suggested birthing one child less.

I just read an article online (MIT Technology Review), in which they talk about “carbon credit.” It basically says, that landowners can earn carbon credits if they manage their lands in ways that store more carbon and support overall growth of the forest. The idea is, that trees store carbon and the more trees that are being kept alive and growing, the more carbon gets stored, and the more credits a landowner can earn. He then can sell his credit to companies with high carbon emission (power plants etc.), allowing the company to emit more tons of CO₂ than they would have been allowed to. This idea is already questionable simply because it doesn’t really reduce emission, it’s just moving money into the hands of already rich people. At first, I didn’t get the concept, but then it dawned on me. There has been an increase in land grabbing as of late. When Biden took office, he signed different executive orders of which one was called “30x30”, that is said to be a federal land grab disguised as permanent land protection of 30% of the land and 30% of the water in the United States. You know, how the rich get richer? Or how the government can secure more money? They buy a lot of land and take care of the forests, receive their credits, and sell them to industries that are going to need them to survive. Ultimately, it’s just another way to keep an income flow long-term, just like taxes.

In my chart I picked 3 major areas which were heavily influenced by the elite to get us to comply with their agenda. Farming, cars, and humans. These are, next to the industrial and infrastructural carbon footprint, the 3 areas where I believe they can exercise a lot of power over us to put us into sheep-mode.

Let’s have a look at agriculture. The WEF says that the CO₂ produced by the farming industry contributes majorly to the climate crisis. Therefore, they believe it would be beneficial to reduce or even eliminate cows. Their flatulence is one of the reasons we are dealing with melting ice caps and extreme weather events (I’m being sarcastic). In the last couple of years, we had to deal with sudden explosions or fires in agricultural areas where a lot of animals died. Specifically, cows. There were also a lot of “virus” outbreaks that have caused millions of deaths in the chicken industry. And do you remember BSE? And if they didn’t die because of the “virus” they got killed as a preventative measure. This way we lost uncountable food resources that resulted in food shortages and higher prices over the last few years. When we look at this in the light of CPPS, of course we can expect the elite to have a solution available. After it developed into a crisis and people were informed that meat contributes to climate change – we were presented with the new invention of plant-based meat, and as of late, lab-grown meat. Now we don’t have to have cows and chickens anymore, we can consume the government’s solution. Is it healthy? My guess is no. No one knows so far, but I wouldn’t expect too much from the people that try to minimize the population by whatever means they seem fit. As part of the ‘C40 Cities’ initiative - which is a climate leadership group that has ties to the WEF - mayors in almost 100 cities around the world have set themselves the “ambitious target” of zero meat or dairy consumption and zero private vehicles by 2030 “to save the planet”.

Cars produce a lot of CO₂ and are deemed to pollute our planet. We heard about that many years ago. The solution was to switch to electric vehicles. One way to get people to make the switch is to increase gas prices and prices for cars in general. But recently they received backlash on that because producing and powering electric cars is creating a lot of CO₂ as well. Luckily, they already thought of a way more brilliant idea to get around this issue. Smart cities. Or 15-minute cities as they call them. I talked about this earlier.

What Is a 15-Minute City?

A 15-minute city aims to provide everything you need within a short 15-minute walk or bike: jobs, schools, food, parks, community, medical, and more.

Building on the principles of New Urbanism and popularized by Parisian Mayor Anne Hidalgo, this urban design concept may be a solution to create more sustainable, equitable, and healthier cities.

The idea is that you can reach anything you need in your life within 15 minutes. Walking or cycling. Job, school, sports, businesses, entertainment etc. This eliminates the need for cars. I'm sure they also have a solution for the issue of wanting to go to another city. This will most likely entail electrical trains or some underground system that operates on solar or wind energy. That is just my assumption. Maybe you won't be able to leave the city. I don't know. This city will be fully operated by and equipped with AI – hence "smart" city. Of course, this will not be achieved within the next 5 years, but they are hell-bound on turning this into reality.

In this regard, people are another major CO₂ producer. With everything we operate, use, and eat, we are contributing to climate change. So, they say. We all remember the Covid lockdowns. I believe, that this was a test to see how well we comply with something like that. Turns out we are very obedient. So, in the future, when they want to exercise control over the nations by locking them in for whatever reason, they know we will comply. In this huge experiment they ultimately found out what they can achieve by promoting fear among the population. I'm sure this was one of the biggest and most successful experiments that they have ever exercised in world history. Followed by the new mRNA vaccines. This means in theory, anytime they need the world or certain areas somehow to be shut down in order for them to achieve a specific goal, they will use fear to make people compliant. And smart cities will be extremely beneficial in this aspect. Not only do they have everyone locked down, but they also have full control and oversight due to all the AI installations. And it is not going to be only AI in the city. There is going to be a time when they introduce chip implants into the hand. This is written in the Bible. And this is already reality. And it will come to every country and nation at some point. Sweden has already adopted this system. Thousands of people had these chips implanted under their skin.

This is the hand of a Swedish man.

This type of subdermal implant usually contains a unique ID number that can be linked to information contained in an external database, such as personal identification, law enforcement, medical history, medications, allergies, and contact information. The chip can also store emergency contacts, e-tickets, and social media profiles. And now, you can also pay through them. The company, called Walletmor, sells microchips the size of a small safety pin and cost just over $200. The implant will allow individuals to make payments without having to carry around any form of physical payment such as a mobile phone or card. Currently, the procedure is only offered to permanent residents of a European Union country, Switzerland, or the United Kingdom.

While this implant presents some advantages when it comes to convenience and sounds like it would improve everyone's life, you need to think about what they don't tell you. With it comes the ability to track your every move. Your personal information could potentially get into the wrong hands. If it is used for entry purposes, it can be programmed to deny you entry. Having every aspect of life being digitalized presents a huge risk. Especially when it comes to your money. When they finally implement a digital currency, which has been discussed for a very long time, they will be able to program this however they want. People already suggest that, in combination with your carbon footprint, they could program this currency in a way that will cut your spending if you go over a certain amount spent on high carbon products. Or they could give you a limit on spending. Anything is possible with digitalization. Just look at the carbon credit they implemented in the industrial sector. Who is to say that this won't be part of everyone's life very soon? For me personally, the biggest issue is the control and monitoring that comes with all of that. If you didn't feel like a slave yet, you sure will then.

Something else that has been rolled out in June 2023, is the Global Digital Vaccine Passport. The digital system will help facilitate global mobility and protect citizens across the world from on-going and future health threats, including pandemics,' according to the WHO. This is just another tool to control people. And it's coming from an NGO (non-governmental organization) who has not been elected by anyone but is obviously seeking control over the population of the world, which is just wrong on so many levels. And guess who's a major contributor to the WHO – Bill Gates. When they talk about the passport, they word it in a way that doesn't make you think about what they are saying. But what they are saying is, that you can't travel without proof of vaccination in your digital vaccine passport. Watch: "One of the key elements in the European Union's work against the COVID-19 pandemic has been digital COVID-19 certificates. To facilitate free movement within its borders, the EU swiftly established interoperable COVID-19 certificates (entitled 'EU Digital COVID-19 Certificate' or 'EU DCC')," the WHO press release reads. You can move freely, if you have the certificate, or in the future, the digital vaccine passport. It's all about control.

My 3rd point is overpopulation. An issue identified by the WEF. Due to the number of humans on this planet, the excessive consumption and carbon footprint that comes with it, they concluded that the world population would have to be minimized to reach their sustainability goals for 2030. The WEF says that the size of the population is the underlying issue for all the other problems they have to fight against. If the population were at a number from 500 years ago, we wouldn't have all the problems we have. That was a live statement by Jane Goodall at a WEF conference. Does she say that they want to reduce the population? No. And at the same time, yes. It's like with diseases. If you want to heal someone you have to attack the underlying health issue. They know that. And considering all the things they have unleashed on the citizens of the world; they absolutely suggest that depopulation is at the heart of their agenda. What am I talking about? I am talking about the ways and means they use to control the size of the world population. Due to uncontrolled growth over the last decades, they had to find a solution to stop or reverse it. One way was to influence fertility and reproduction. How do you influence fertility? There are many ways. They use GMO foods (genetically engineered food), medicine, vaccines, hormones, cosmetics, chemicals, and water for example. All of these disrupt in one way or another the endocrine system (hormones) in human bodies – male and female. With the additions of pesticides, chemicals, and toxins in all areas of life, our hormone balance gets completely messed up which results in autoimmune diseases and infertility. Many healthcare practitioners that turned away from western medicine and researched on their own found that western medicine is doing more damage than good. They discovered the underlying problems for many diseases, including the reasons for infertility. Products like soy, glyphosate, vegetable oils, refined sugar, corn starch, high glucose corn syrup, mineral oil, parfum, artificial colors, hormones, and antibiotics in meat (just to name a few); all of these things are destroying our bodies to a level where mortality and infertility influence the size of the population significantly. The WEF points out that the fertility rate has declined within the last 70 years from around 5 births per woman to 2.3 and they expect this to fall even more within the next couple decades. And this number is not just influenced by what we consume, it also decreases due to the push for equality for women. The destruction of the family started in the mid-1900s, when women were told that they could be more than just mothers. That they could be equal to men and earn like men. With it came the call for ownership of the female body. After people lived according to the Bible for hundreds and thousands of years, they now advocated for abortion and birth control so that women could go out, make a name for themselves, and abolish the role as the caretaker and runner of the household in order to live life like a man. Not just in regard to work, but also in regard to sexuality. Marriage and monogamy became less and less popular, to a degree where women totally abandoned their role as a wife and mother to be independent and childless their entire life. You might not see a problem with that, but the destruction of the family is one of the major goals of the elite to weaken a country and depopulate. To take away values, morals, and community. If people are self-reliant, self-determined and self-centered, they don't get together with other people to prevent the takeover by the elite. Together with all the other tools used to divide people, they've created a society that has never been further away from the teachings of the Bible than now. The Bible promotes the family, community, love, respect, and support of each other. By taking the Bible out of our society they've created a whole bunch of individuals, who have no values and only follow what the elite is propagating to them. This way, they can take control of them and minimize the size of the population without anyone questioning their actions. The elite also advocates for Planned Parenthood, an organization that provides abortions, contraception, and other reproductive healthcare. In 2015 Planned Parenthood received $390 million in federal and state Medicaid reimbursements which makes those contributions its single largest stream of revenue. But this company doesn't just provide abortion and birth control. They are also involved in organ and fetal tissue trade. This has been discovered in undercover investigations. They sell the aborted cells of an embryo or tissue, and at times even entire babies to pharmaceutical companies for a lot of money. These companies experiment with them or use them in their products. Yes, that actually happened. They used dead fetal cells in vaccines. Planned Parenthood gets promoted by various "VIPs," and Bill Gates' father was a board member. They are like wolves in sheep clothes. They advocate for women's autonomy over their bodies by giving them a false idea of freedom and independence. This way women feel empowered to rid themselves of the unwanted consequences of their sexual immorality, not realizing that their behavior is killing an innocent life. Don't get me wrong, I don't want women to be oppressed, but for them to behave in a morally appropriate way, so they don't have to get to a point where destroying human life is their supposedly only option. This is where the Bible plays a vital role in educating women and advocating for life. It helps them to make the right choices in accordance with the word of God which calls for strong morals and values under which a woman would never even reach the point of thinking about or needing an abortion. But again, they took the Bible out of people's life and here we are – killing little babies, God's creation. It surely is a very efficient way to control the size of the population. The other agenda that gets pushed to levels never seen before is the whole topic of gender confusion and homosexuality. By promoting and propagating this, they take away a big chunk of the population that could have produced offspring. But because they don't know any more who they are, or decide to be attracted to their own gender, there are less people that reproduce. It has never been as bad as it is now. They go into kindergarten and schools and tell children that they can be whatever they want to be. And as soon as they find one, they groom them out of their original gender and make them some in-between transperson. Most of these children develop a mental illness due to the confusion, and many of them commit suicide as a result. The transformation happens often without the consent, or even knowledge of the parents. Which has sparked outrage and protests among parents in recent months. Rightfully so. Not just the sexualization but also the exploitation of children (sex trafficking) has reached outrageous and absolutely disturbing levels. Governments around the world are heavily involved in that – as distributors but also as the "consumer." The number of high-ranking politicians, people in the entertainment industry, education and trade that are involved in pedophilia and sex trafficking is beyond anything you can imagine. This presents itself as another way to decimate the population. Children are getting abducted daily; hundreds and thousands of them. 1000 children disappeared in Ohio in a single month. They are being sold into sex slavery to fulfill the desires of sick individuals or being used in SRA (Satanic Ritual Abuse). Many are dying in the process. By taking away their lives they also prevent a huge portion of the population from ever reproducing.

All of these efforts combined will guarantee a constant decline of reproduction, fertility, and finally, a decrease of the overall number of people in this world.

In this diagram you can see their success rate. The annual growth rate has declined immensely, and they estimate that it will decline even further – of course due to climate change, and infertility, and not their actions. This diagram is obviously not accurate. With a birth rate decline as it is displayed here, there's no way the world population would continue to grow like that. This is exaggerated to serve their narrative. Especially with all the other measures they have implemented. But they count on our sheep-like following and blindness to the reality. This makes them feel entitled to produce ridiculous graphs as the one you can see above and gives them the confidence that the world will just swallow it without any questions.

With an overpopulated world comes the issue of limited resources. This is obviously a made-up issue. This world is big enough to house 10 times the population we have right now, and if everyone were properly educated in how to grow food and tend to livestock, we wouldn't have to deal with resource shortages. But due to the deviation away from useful skills, in that regard, people don't have the abilities to be self-sufficient. There are more than enough resources. Yet they push the narrative of limited resources to scare people into limiting themselves in their environment. This presents another breeding ground for more destructive inventions by the elite. So, which solutions do they present? To provide for the big number of people, they genetically modify crops to yield more product from a single plant, for example wheat.

Here you can see the difference. But with modification comes an unhealthy change within the plant. Einkorn (left) is easy to digest for humans. The hybrid forms of wheat contain a lot of wheat gluten which causes inflammation, leaky gut, and celiac disease in people. The gluten sensitivity has increased tremendously over the last decades. This takes away the quality of life, results in an increased need for medical care, and therefore in an increase of income for the rich. These diseases lead to a lack of nourishment if not managed properly and in turn to early deaths. It's a cycle. It's genius. But deeply evil.

The other idea they came up with is to grow meat in a lab. And this is funded by no other but Bill Gates. The company is called UPSIDE Foods, located in California. This lab-grown meat has been approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) – 2 institutions I won't trust any longer. They are growing and selling fake chicken so far and I've seen them "3D-bioprinting" beef in Japan as well, but they don't sell that yet. Since we can't have real cows anymore because they supposedly destroy the planet, they had to present a solution to the meat lover, who doesn't want to switch to unhealthy plant-based meat. It is a meat-alternative as well but is not liked by the broad masses though. Why do I say it's unhealthy? Because it's stuffed with soy, canola oil, sunflower oil, maltodextrin, modified food starch etc. Canola oil has long been used in industry as a lubricant for engines and other machine parts, but, because of its high level of potentially harmful erucic acid, it was not considered safe for human consumption (though it was sometimes added to animal feed). In the 1970s they developed a hybrid version of it with a low level of erucic acid and started to feed this to the people (after people already ate it through the animals that were fed with it). In this example you can see how much they value human life. There are still levels of this harmful acid in there, yet they promote it as a healthy oil. Due to censorship on the internet, you can't even find controversial opinions about it from holistic practitioners. But having worked with holistic doctors, I am aware of the harmful effects of canola oil, and all vegetable oils for that matter. Olive oil, coconut oil, ghee and real, grass-fed butter are about the only things people should use in their food. Another thing that I came across is the fact that "health care professionals" warned about red meat years ago. They said that it causes high blood pressure, heart diseases, and raises LDL levels. People are to avoid it as much as possible. Now, put 1 and 1 together. If they try to get you away from red meat it most likely has a health benefit. And I just read somewhere that it helps in fighting cancer cells. You can come to your own conclusions.

Something else they do is spray chicken with chlorine to reduce bacteria. Luckily, this process is banned in Canada and Europe. But Americans eat a lot of chicken, and they don't know about this. Chlorine is toxic for the body. Guess what else has high chlorine levels? American tap water.

To prevent food waste, a company called "Apeel" invented a coating which they spray onto fruits to extend their shelf life. The company doesn't properly reveal the ingredients of this coating and says that it's not possible to wash it off. What are they trying to feed us in this case? While I can appreciate the attempt to make food last longer, I totally disagree with the means by which this is supposed to be achieved. And I'm especially opposed to it when Bill Gates is part of it. Nothing good comes from Bill Gates. And I'm apparently not the only one who doesn't trust this – Natural Grocer and Publix (big supermarket chains in the US) passed a ban on produce with Apeel coating due to health and safety concerns.

And to round up the seemingly endless creativity of how to kill people, we get another invention that has been funded by Bill Gates. In order to find a new source of drinking water, they found a way to purify human feces into drinking water. Don't even start to think about it, it's going to make you nauseous. I saw them drink it. And it's not for developed countries. It's supposed to be for developing countries. As if they don't have to deal with enough diseases as it is.

My last point in this series is the issue of uncontrolled violence across the globe. This has been an issue ever since humans were created and kicked out of the Garden of Eden. But to amplify the experience and make it a tangible threat to everyday human life, the elite found a way to install extremist groups (for example BLM, Antifa in America, Houthis in Yemen, ISIS in Iraq and Syria, Muslim Brotherhood, NPD in Germany, Taliban in Afghanistan etc.) in societies. This supports the elite's claim of overpopulation and the danger that comes with it - too many people lead to too many different views which then leads to friction and in turn to the forming of extremist groups. These groups have different functions. As proxies, they go into countries and overthrow entire governments and destabilize the country. They fight wars for countries like Russia or Iran. Other, smaller groups, for example, Antifa or BLM (Black Lives Matter), who get funded by the government, cause riots and destructions in cities and create instability, economic loss, and fear in the population. Civil unrest and wars are an efficient way to reduce the population. But they realized that this is a very expensive way. So, they got creative and found all the other, sneaky ways to rid themselves of all the excess people in the world, which use up "their" resources, "their" space, and "their" money.

Population Control

Fear and control, exercised in all these ways, will lead to depopulation. And smart cities will be the means by which the elite will have total local control over everything and everyone.

But the main ingredient here is population control. That might sound like fear mongering to you, but it's a fact. You just need to look around you. Anything you touch, anything you eat or drink, anything you apply, anything you watch... just about anything in your life that is provided by your government, is a threat to your health and your life. I'm going to recap what I already mentioned.

Let's look at the evidence.

1. Your water is not clean. You have fluoride in your water that poisons you over time. On top of other chemicals like chlorine, and endocrine disruptors like traces of birth control pills. All of this has been found in tap water.
2. The fruits and vegetables you eat are sprayed with pesticides, and in some countries with glyphosate (herbicide). Pesticides and herbicides are endocrine disruptors, which means they mess up your hormones.
3. They invented Apeel, of which no one knows what it does to the body at the moment.
4. They produce lab-grown meat. There is plant-based meat containing tons of soy and other unhealthy ingredients that, again, mess with your hormones or cause other diseases. They feed you real meat that is stuffed with antibiotics and hormones.
5. Cosmetics are full of endocrine disruptors. Mineral oil is in so many lotions and cosmetics. It's the same for cleaning products, but they contain additionally toxic ingredients.
6. Sun block is sold to protect people from developing cancer, yet its ingredients cause cancer in the first place. Sun block also prevents the body from absorbing sunlight to produce vitamin D3, which is an essential vitamin and can't be supplemented through our normal diet unless you supplement it with a man-made version. This way you develop a vitamin D deficiency which causes other problems.

7. Chemotherapy and radiation are said to cure cancer, yet it's killing more people than any cancer would ever have. It's a deadly cocktail of chemicals that kill cancer and healthy cells. Your chance of survival is higher without chemotherapy than with it. I remember an interview in which a doctor was asked if he would get chemotherapy and he said "No, never." I wonder why...

8. Baby formula is super unhealthy. Some of the main ingredients are corn syrup, soy, palm oil, sunflower oil, canola oil, milk, whey etc. Cow's milk and vegetable oils are highly inflammatory in humans. Corn syrup, like other sweeteners, are considered empty calories that wreak havoc on insulin levels and spike blood sugar levels. They already destroy the health of people early on.

9. Not to mention the vaccination schedule that is being pushed on mothers for their babies.

10. Cigarettes, alcohol, drugs.

11. Allegedly helpful pain medication, which turns out to contain opioids or heroin and cause addiction.

12. Furniture, cars, and carpets that are sprayed with chemicals which are released into the air and can cause respiratory and brain issues, or cancer.

13. Birth control pills that destroy a woman's hormonal system over time and can cause issues with her fertility later on.

14. Cell phone and computer radiation.

15. Artificial light (LEDs) that messes with the circadian rhythm.

And the list goes on and on.

As you can see, most of the things that we are exposed to have an impact on our hormonal system – female as well as male, resulting in infertility down the road. All of this leads to unwanted (for us) and wanted (for them) sterilization of the population, and therefore to depopulation.

Millionaire US media baron Ted Turner has stated that a global population of 250-300 million people, a 95 percent decline from present levels, would be ideal. Michael Oppenheimer of the Environmental Defense Fund asserts that the only hope for the world is to make sure there is not another US and that we can't let other countries have the same number of cars and the amount of industrialization currently in the US. Billionaire Bill Gates has pledged hundreds of millions of dollars to improve access to contraception in the developing world.

WHO – World Health Organization

“Dedicated to the well-being of all people and guided by science, the World Health Organization leads and champions global efforts to give everyone, everywhere an equal chance to live a healthy life.” This is what the WHO says about itself on their website. But when you start to dig a little deeper, you’ll find that they are just another propaganda instrument to push the elite’s narrative on a global scale. They promote climate change like any other institution at this point. They claim that climate change causes 7 million premature deaths per year. There is literally nothing to back this number up. How did they get it in the first place? Is there a system in place that monitors climate change related deaths? No. This is a mere assumption and even worse – a lie. A lie to scare people into believing in climate change and instill fear towards an “enemy” that doesn’t exist. They even use children to back up their claims. In another article they say that 1.7 million deaths in children under 5 years of age in 2012, were attributable to the environment. Where in the world do they get these numbers from? Especially as far back as 2012 when “climate change” wasn’t prominent? Many independent doctors have already proven that many deaths in children result from vaccinations. Doctors who spent their entire career of 40-50 years studying vaccinations and the damage they cause. Unfortunately, these doctors have been silenced one way or the other. Furthermore, the WHO supports abortions as medically necessary, and as a right in order to achieve “whole health” – a term coined by the WHO. They run you through a lot of different health topics on their homepage but when it comes to important ones, like GMO foods, vegetable oils or glyphosates, which impact health significantly all over the world – it’s not even mentioned. And EMFs (electromagnetic fields from electronics) are being brushed off as not concerning even though we already know that it heats up tissue in the human body, which is especially concerning for men that carry their cellphones in their pockets close to their reproductive organs. This can lead to infertility. But they are not talking about that. They support the existence and legitimacy of gender identity and promote the agenda 2030 in most articles on the website.

In 2022 the WHO put together a project team that was “Imagining the future of pandemics and epidemics”. During their sessions they developed 4 different scenarios with a short-term target of 3-5 years. The “upside scenario” also called the “happy days” mirrors a world in which everyone complies to the collective efforts and implementations of the governments. The world has learned to work together as one to build a better future. People are wearing masks even though they wouldn’t have to because it’s “the right thing to do.” The environment is described as clean, and the air is fresh. It supposedly improved a lot from 3 years earlier. The other 2 are in between scenarios and the 4th one is called “Here comes the trouble”. Here they imagine a double pandemic, Covid and a Zika-like virus transmitted by mosquitos (sounds very much like what I said earlier) that are devastating the planet. People live in different zones based on their status or health situation (Green Zone, Red Zone, Gold Zone, Amber Zone) that are gated and patrolled by big private armies that use technology and AI to check people in and out from zones. Everyone gets temperature checked at the security checkpoints. Almost everyone works from home. Shops got turned into distribution centers to supply homes. The economy collapsed, and people lost their businesses. People live in high rise buildings or in tents on sidewalks (red zone). If someone is caught sick, they will be sent into the red zone without the ability to return to their normal life and lose everything. Thanks for telling us, we will not comply to this insanity.

Globalism

By Jeff Kinley @ Futures Conference

Secular scientists believe that we are remarkably close, closer than ever, to a great collapse, to the end of the world. A prophetic plan for the ages; pre-scripted and reauthenticated. God has an end time plan, and so does Satan. Ephesians 6:11 says, “Put on the full armor of God so you can stand against the devil’s schemes.”

Satan has long desired to be God – his threefold objective is to rule the world, be worshiped by humanity and to be God. He’s not going to stop before he reaches these goals. His desire is one world united in worship of himself. The whole idea for a global reset begins back in heaven when Satan originally rebelled against God.

We have the record of how humanity wanted to come together as one, under one ruler to build the tower of Babel and kick God off His throne. This obviously didn’t work out. But Satan didn’t give up and he went after all the rulers – the Pharaohs, Nebuchadnezzar, Alexander the Great, the Ceasars. When we get to the 1st century, we find out that Satan has established himself as the ruler over all the kingdoms (in Luke 4 Jesus was tempted in the wilderness by the devil and he promised all the kingdoms of the world to Jesus; in John 12:31 Jesus called Satan “ruler of the world”; 2 Corinthians 4:4 Paul called him “god of the age”)

His nature and his goal are to take this ancient ambition and continue to try to make it happen throughout history. And he has been unsuccessful up until this point. But one day, Satan will have this unified kingdom. And guess what’s going to happen? Jesus is going to come back and snatch it from him. He’s going to claim the nations for himself.

In order for this to happen the world has to fundamentally change. Satan cannot rule the world as it has been or as it is right now. He has to change it to make it rutable. One of the ways he’s going to do that is through:

The 4 Pillars of Globalism

1 Unite the Nations

He has to bring the world together. A unified government whose mantra is “We are one.” Recently we have seen that. The conditions are right. The League of Nations was formed in 1920. They came together to prevent world wars. 32 countries in total. Then Adolf Hitler came to rule the world and kill the Jews. He had the plan to have the “1000-year Reich” – does that sound familiar? The millennial kingdom of Christ – Jesus who will rule over the nations for 1000 years. Well Adolf, this didn’t work out. Winston Churchill called for a United States of Europe. They would have to come together so they wouldn’t ever have a world war again. 6 nations came together and formed the European Common Market which is the UN today. When we look at the statue from Daniel 7 and think of the revived Roman Empire – the Means worldly (instead of spiritually) world view. Nonreligious. But at the same time, it’s a religion for itself. Everyone who doesn’t believe in God is secular. Not believing is believing, too.

Secular View

Globalism

This is a national policy of treating the whole world as a proper sphere for political influence union called the treaty they made “the Treaty of Rome”. By accident? During Covid they started the call for a global governance system. Even King Charles suggested that we have to come together. He called on the G20 leadership, the international money fund, and the world bank to join him, now is the time. This call opened the door and into the door walked “The Great Reset” – Klaus Schwab. He said “The problem that we have is not globalization. The problem is a lack of global governance.” So, he knows that we can do this immediately, we just miss a leading body. He also said, “This pandemic presents a rare but narrow window of opportunity to reflect, reimagine, and reset our world.” Satan is intentional, he is not just sitting in the back and letting people do random things. So, the question then becomes, what catalyst could catapult the world’s nations into this type of compliance? What global event could cause the nations to dissolve their borders, form a world economy, and just hold hands and get along together? What or who will unite them? Here we go back to Covid again. Covid was just the dress rehearsal. The grooming. The pre-season. The test-run. The pilot episode. And what did the world find? The world found out that we complied pretty well. It wasn’t really that hard. We believed what we were told. And we went along with the program.

Another way to unite the nations is through the implementation of a digital currency. Over 100 countries in the world are either implementing, processing, or exploring the possibility of it. Right now. And America is on board because Joe Biden is a Globalist. He was a speaker at the WEF conference in 2016. And when you look at the bills that are being passed in the US, you’ll see that they are taken straight out of the WEF playbook. In fact, the whole phrase “Build back better” is right from the website of the WEF. But nothing has been built, nothing is back, and nothing is better. In March 2023, Biden signed an executive order that basically says: let’s explore, here in America, what this digital currency thing would look like. Here are the issues with digital currency: it’s about control, they can trace and track every transaction on the planet. Nobody would be untraceable. They already know where we are today – we all have a cell phone. But that’s not all. With digital currency you can actually program the currency. You can program “X” amount of dollars to go towards something and if you go over your limit – that’s it. They can shut down your bank account. Talking about carbon footprint – imagine the bank being like, “You bought too much gas. You bought too much charcoal for the grill. You traveled too much. You donated to a Christian organization. You can’t use that money anymore. Here is your allowance, but you can’t do these things.” It is programmable. And it’s also expirable. These are the dangers where it can lead. The first step is to say, “We all have to go digital with our currency.”

You can call this a controlled demolition of western civilization. They are destroying us catastrophically from within. It is the 5th pillar. “Crash the west, create the crisis, convene the nations.”

2 Deceive Humanity

Revelation 12:9 says that Satan deceives the nations. That’s a global thing. A global delusion that is happening in the world right now. People are just buying in to it. No one is checking if anything is true or not. Deceiving humanity also involves a crisis. We already had the crisis with Covid, then Russia and Ukraine, all the climate anxiety, food shortages. There is already panic and fear everywhere. Remember how people jumped and ran when someone just sneezed in a room? Fear is a great and masterful manipulator. If you get people to be afraid, you can do anything with them. They got almost everyone to follow the mandates – vaccines, PPE, social distancing etc. – everyone complied. The essence is that crisis leads to control. Crisis is used as a means to control the masses. And it’s a minority group that creates these things. We are literally living in the prophetic pattern of the Bible. We are experiencing the stage setting events at the moment. Satan has a roll out pattern to complete this whole idea of deception – a deception strategy:

1. Satan is deconstructing morality. Evil is good, good is evil.
 2. Satan hijacks truth and virtue. These generations now don't know God, don't know His values and they accept Satan's version of what is "good" because they don't know any better.
 3. Everyone is serving the planet. The globalist agenda includes indoctrination and a shift in thinking with regard to the planet and environment. As in: you exist for the environment, the environment doesn't exist for you. Which is totally contrary to what God taught. Yes, you have to take care of it, but we are the crown of God's creation, the earth was made FOR us. Dirt doesn't outrank us nor do leaves. Climate change is just a code for controlling people and manipulating their actions and thoughts towards the environment. Exactly HERE, you can see the hypocrisy of the leaders, who go to these conferences all separately in their private jets, releasing all these emissions but then want to lecture us on how we treat the environment. And if you try to deny the whole climate change idea then you're called a Neanderthal or climate denier or worse. But this is part of Satan's deceptive agenda. He wants us to worship the world, not the creator. Romans chapter 1 speaks about how they worshipped creation instead of the creator. That's a direct result of denying the full evidence that God has given us based on scripture. If they are worried about climate change right now, they are going to freak out when the tribulation period starts. They are going to melt away. When you read Revelation 6-19 you will find climate change on steroids.
 4. Satan redefines human identity. We are being told that we are an accident, we are just happening, we are moist molecules smashed together by chance. So, now we can just be whatever we want to be. You want to change your gender? Sure. There is no God to tell me otherwise (except: there is). People identify as dogs and cats. They even have others walk them on leashes in public. There are just no limits to insanity. And that's all thanks to Satan. If God is removed from the picture anything is up for grabs.
- So, do you see what he is doing here? He begins to redefine your relationship to the planet, then your relationship to the economy, then your relationship to one another, and then finally in the tribulation period he goes in for the kill shot and goes after your soul through the mark of the beast, through worshiping him. This brings us to the 3rd pillar.

3 Preparation for the Antichrist

The man of sin. The one called "the beast" in the book of Revelation. He is most likely alive today. He will complete "the Great Reset." He's going to be the man with the plan. Highly intelligent, charming, a great speaker and arrogant, with the soul of Satan. Whatever it is that he's going to do, he will deceive mankind with miracles and wonders, and everyone will bow down and worship him.

4 Removal of the Church

To bring about the antichrist, the church has to be silenced. The believers can't be around. We are in the way. What he does is he causes people to cancel Christianity. To forget about it. He wants the church to be silent and to go away. There is a chance that the rapture of the church could create such a chaos in the world, that this could enable the antichrist to rise. It wouldn't start the tribulation; we are told that the peace treaty with Israel starts the tribulation. But it could create a global crisis.

Deception

The Psychology of Deception

A leaderless world always produces a dictator. And the Bible is very clear on that topic. There will be a leader rising up out of a confederacy of 10 leaders; he will be the 11th. He's going to subdue 3 of the 10 leaders and will take control. He deceives the world by prosperity and peace. And the reason why everyone will accept him is rooted in every human. We are wired in a way that all we want is to be left alone and to be able to do what we want to do and be at peace and happy. Satan has always known that, if humans can just have money and peace, he can get them to do anything. Today, in our time, people have settled for a little bit of money, lowered their standards and their pursuits in life and just exist and that's exactly the right path for a totalitarian leader to take over. If the world gets scared enough, they will invite the antichrist in. Americans, as well as many other nationalities around the globe, gave up their freedom for safety during Covid because the leaders of the world got everyone scared. All the people looked up to the government to make the next move and followed like sheep to do whatever they said. The Antichrist will have all the answers. The Bible says he's going to have demonic powers. You might say right now "Oh I don't believe in that." But you will. The power is going to manifest through deception, as I explained before. The key in military operations and politics is to deceive, and the greatest victory is when you get your opponent to believe what you have said. At this point, China or any globalist just needs to watch America and wait. They don't need to push any red buttons or blow something up. At this rate America will implode from the inside out soon enough. If they just let America do what it's doing to itself, they can just walk in and take it over at some point. This is the prime time for a world leader to rise. Being deceived easily will lead to eternal destruction.

Confusion

Where does confusion come from? Satan. Not God. God is a God of order, logic, and reason. Satan is confusion and deception personified. When you look around, we can point to manifestations of confusion. Notice the gender confusion growing around the world? It's demonic in nature. Satan is attacking young people, people that have been hurt, offended, or molested and he attacks them like wolves attack the weakest sheep in the herd. People are being dishonored and destroyed. We as humans have been created in the image of God and they are trying to reengineer them and change them. These evil people constantly try to think of new ways to get legislation passed, that legalizes gender surgery or the use of hormones on children. They try to change parents' minds to medically molest their child for gender transformation and people will be ok with it. Something's going on, and it's happening in so many areas that you've got to ask yourself "Are we really in the end times?" The Bible says so. But do you believe that? Don't say yes or no, just think. The Bible says we are in the last days. John says we are in the last hour. And there are indicators as to what that is. There is deception on a global level never seen before. This time of deception is so powerful, so strong that there will be no way to be protected from it. The only way to be protected and the way out is to believe in Jesus and knowing the word of God. That is the only way because we are being warned in the Bible about the days we live in. The Bible gives us the chance to be prepared and approach what is ahead of us with a sound and fearless mind.
